Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is some nuts got a habit here in New York to go bareheaded on the street. Now he has worn something on his head ever since his mother tied a hood under his chin, but he has never attracted any attention, so he lets it rain down his neck to show people that he bathes. If your head hasn't got enough in it to carry a hat, why all the sunshine in the world on it won't do it any good.

We have a scene in our show where another comedian and myself come out with dress suits and barefooted, no difference from being bareheaded on the street. Only we get paid for attracting attention and being funny. Let women leave off something; they do it much better than men. Every time a woman leaves off something she looks better, but every time a man leaves off something he looks worse.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

NEW YORK LANDMARK SOON TO GO

Waldorf Astoria Will be Razed and Replaced by Office Skyscraper

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Fifth avenue between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, which has housed several presidents of the United States and visiting royalty on their visits to New York, and has been the scene of many noted ceremonial dinners, is to be torn down next summer and replaced by a fifty-story office structure.

Sale of the hotel to the Bethlehem Engineering Corporation was announced tonight by Lucius M. Boomer, president of the Waldorf Astoria Realty Corporation. The purchase price was not revealed but it recently was reported that more than $14,000,000 was asked for the property.

Demolition of the hotel will not begin until next June. Its operation in the meantime will be uninterrupted.

Mr. Boomer, in commenting on the transaction, said:

"While the Waldorf Astoria still maintains its world-wide prestige and an unimpaired volume of business, the great nonproductive areas in the hotel, involving enormous taxation and operating costs, have become so burdensome that a more profitable use of the site than for hotel purposes is indicated. This is the reason for the sale. We retain all rights to the name of Waldorf Astoria for future use."

TREATY SET FOR ACTION

Senate Reaches Agreement

Kellogg Pact to Get Attention in Upper House After Holiday Recess

Cruiser Bill Also Scheduled for Consideration at Same Time

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The two major proposals of President Coolidge's concluding program, the cruiser construction bill and the Kellogg treaty to renounce war, will share the attention of the Senate after the Christmas recess under an agreement reached today.

The agreement stipulates that the Senate, upon reconvening on January 3, next, from the holiday recess, shall consider both the Kellogg pact and the House bill to provide for fifteen new cruisers the unfinished business, with each proposal on an equal footing.

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee, who is sponsoring the peace pact, submitted the double-barreled proposal. It received the necessary unanimous consent after opponents of the naval bill had successfully filibustered a second attempt by Chairman Hale of the Naval Committee to get the cruiser measure up for immediate consideration.

Confident that they have the votes to push the treaty to a vote ahead of the naval construction measure, Senator Borah and the treaty advocates declared the compromise a victory. They were laying plans tonight to muster forces to accomplish that end when the fight is resumed after the holidays.

KING ANNOUNCES PLANS

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, who with Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, forestalled the attempts of Senator Hale to get the naval bill up, declared tonight he will move as soon as the Senate resumes consideration of the proposals to give the treaty undisputed right of way.

While the agreement provides that the navy bill shall be made the unfinished legislative business on January 3, and the treaty the unfinished executive business, it was admitted in the discussion leading up to the acceptance of the compromise proposal that the Senate by majority vote can go ahead with either at any time.

During this discussion Senator Borah frankly stated that he wants to see the Kellogg pact voted upon for ratification before the naval bill is passed. He added that proponents of the treaty need have no alarm about him exerting every effort to press it to a vote, and he believes a majority is with him in the move to push it ahead of the naval measure.

COMPROMISE MOVE

Early in the day, with the fight brewing over priority of the two proposals, Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader, instituted the negotiations leading up to the compromise for a postponement of both until after the holidays.

Later, with the chamber crowded to watch the proceedings over which measure would get the right of way, the difficulty was smoothed over by the Borah compromise. Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, however, remarked that the proposal will "just postpone the evil day" when another fight will occur, but Senator Borah seemed sure of his ground and the naval bill opponents fell into line.

In the round of discussion Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, called for action on the treaty ahead of the cruiser bill. He is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee and announced his full support of the Kellogg pact.

"The psychology of passing the peace pact and the cruiser bill at the same time is bad," he said. "Of course, some will say the administration wants the cruisers to help keep it out of the trouble that the peace pact will get us into. But that means they believe the peace treaty is a farce. I do not believe that."

PANAMA CONGRESS RATIFIES ADHERENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Word that the Congress of Panama has ratified that government's adherence to the Kellogg antiwar treaty, has been received at the State Department.

GAS BLASTS CUT UP LONDON

Dozen Streets Ripped Open, Score Injured, Fires Break Out and Heavy Damage Caused

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Leaping gas flames tonight illuminated the wreckage of torn streets in London's busy West End where a series of violent explosions extending through the morning ripped up the pavement as if with a giant plow for nearly a mile.

In perhaps a dozen streets the roadway is in ruins through an area, roughly, along Shaftesbury avenue, High Holborn, New Oxford street and Bloomsbury.

Probably a score of persons were injured with burns or bruises, or affected by gas fumes. Two draft animals were killed and vehicles and lamp posts overturned. Great chunks of paving stones and manhole covers were hurled in every direction through the fronts and roofs of buildings.

The first explosion occurred in the postoffice tunnel; others followed rapidly, heaving up roadways and rocking the entire neighborhood so much that it was feared momentarily London was experiencing an earthquake.

Fires started in many of the broken gas mains, and there was a fierce blaze for a while on the premises of the Overseas Film Service. The fire apparatus was kept busy all day.

Tonight the origin of the explosion still is undetermined, although one report, credited for a while, had it that the first blast occurred when a workman crawled into a tunnel with a blowtorch. Damage is estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

FALL KILLS MAIL FLYER IN BLIZZARD

Plane Drops in Village When Pilot Fails to Hold Control During Storm

HURON (O.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Leo J. McGinn of Maywood, Ill., pilot of the National Air Transport plane carrying the night air mail from Cleveland to Chicago, lost his life early tonight when his plane fell in the heart of the village of Huron during a heavy snowstorm.

Buffeted about by a fifty-mile wind the plane, which McGinn apparently could no longer keep aloft, descended with a rush through the top of an apple tree in the yard of Charles Warnke, then it bounded into a barn.

McGinn's body was thrown clear of the cockpit as the crash came and an explosion followed which enveloped both the ship and the barn and reduced both to a heap of ashes and twisted metal. The mail cargo was consumed.

Woman Settles Conscience Debt

DALLAS (Tex.) Dec. 20. (AP)—A woman who twenty years ago untruthfully told a Texas train conductor that her small son was too young to pay even half-fare today walked into a local railroad office and handed officials $36.50, the fare for the child, plus interest.

With the money was a note reading: "My husband was sick and our money was short, but this had always hurt me, so I am glad to make restitution."

Employment in Italy Increases; Birth Rate High

ROME, Dec. 20. (AP)—Government figures issued today gave the number of unemployed in Italy at the end of November as 320,000, a decrease of 55,000 from the same date of a year ago. This decrease was recorded despite the usual seasonal slump in agriculture and building.

The excess of births over deaths in the country in the first eleven months of 1928 was 399,000, against 413,000 in 1927 and 393,000 in 1926.

Premiums for large families amounting to $300,000 are being distributed in the days preceding Christmas by the prefects of the provinces on orders from Premier Mussolini. The premiums range from $8 to $25 for each of 19,980 families.

Alaska Village Hit by Epidemic

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Out of a total population of 450 at Hoodah, Alaska, the Coast Guard cutter Unalga reported today there are 424 cases of influenza. Her reports also said that there is but one doctor, one nurse and one teacher to care for the Alaskan village's sufferers.

In her report received by Coast Guard headquarters here, the Unalga said she is visiting outlying communities in Alaska giving aid to influenza victims.

Sicily Shaken by Earthquake

PALERMO (Sicily) Dec. 20. (AP)—A strong earthquake shock lasting several seconds woke up the city at 12:35 a.m. today. There was no damage. The shock was of an undulatory character.

BYRD'S SHIP BLINDED BY HEAVY SNOW

Bark Slightly Off Course But Ice Begins to Get Somewhat Lighter

ON BOARD THE BARK CITY OF NEW YORK, AT SEA, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—For the last two days we have not made much progress through the pack because of thick ice and snowstorms which at times make it impossible to see leads ahead.

Quite a wind blew last night with the barometer down to 28.50, but sheltered as we were, it nearly stopped us for a time and we lay snugly in a small pond of water surrounded by ice.

Our sights today indicated that in the last two days, when it was difficult to get observations, we may have worked farther to the east than we desired to go, which may also account for the thick ice encountered.

At present, however, the ice is lighter and we have hope of getting out in a day or two more. But nothing is so certain as uncertainty down here.

Coal has been shifted from the deck below during the day and now we have only a few tons left on the poop in bags. These will also go below in the next few days. It is a great comfort to know we have such a good supply of coal.

We have been much amused today by penguins which come to the edge of the ice to watch us. We also have passed many seals and not long ago what was apparently a killer whale came up alongside and disappeared under a floe.

The abundance of life in these ice fields is remarkable.

FLYING WAITRESS SETS A RECORD

Aviatrix in Rain and Sleet Makes Longest Solo Flight of Sex

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Flying in an open plane through rain and sleet, Miss Viola Gentry stayed aloft today longer than any woman flying alone ever has done before.

She took off before dawn and alighted in midafternoon after a flight of eight hours, six minutes and thirty-seven seconds.

Miss Gentry, who learned to fly at Curtiss Field, has about 130 hours of solo flying behind her. She plans other exploits in the near future.

To finance her aviation ventures she has worked intermittently as a restaurant waitress and cashier.

REDISTRICT FIGHT NEAR

Reapportionment Not Reported

Republican House Leader Plans Extreme Methods to Get Vote

McLeod Demands Action or He'll Stop Everything by Filibuster

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—If the House Census Committee does not report out the Fenn reapportionment bill immediately after the holiday recess, House leaders will take extreme steps to get the measure to the floor for a vote, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, said today.

"We do not even have to have the committee discharged from consideration of the bill," Tilson said. "We merely will get a rule, have the rule adopted and bring the bill out on the floor."

Representative Snell of New York, chairman of the Rules Committee, is said to be willing to co-operate with Tilson in such a move.

Tilson let it be known that he and other House leaders are thoroughly disgusted with the long delay in reporting the Fenn bill, which was recommitted at the last session by only twenty-two votes, and since has rested in the Census Committee, although a half-dozen meetings have been held without accomplishing anything more than a few minor amendments.

ACTION DELAYED

The committee has delayed action first on one pretense and then on another. An agreement was reached to have the measure reported out Tuesday, but no meeting was called for that day, Chairman Fenn explaining that several members of the committee were ill with colds.

Representative McLeod of Michigan, leader of the House group fighting for reapportionment, said today he would wait to see what the committee or House leaders did the first week after the holidays, and if action were not forthcoming a filibuster against all legislation probably would be launched and carried on with determination. McLeod declares eight Representatives have agreed to back him in a filibuster.

There have been comparatively few instances in which the House has voted—two-thirds being necessary—to discharge a committee from consideration of a bill, and fewer in which the even more extreme "short cut" suggested by Representative Tilson has been employed.

HOUSE SIZE FIXED

The Fenn bill provides for reallotment of House seats among the States on the basis of the 1930 census, with the size of the House remaining at 435 members. Such a reapportionment has not been made since 1913, although the Constitution requires that it shall be done after each decennial census.

If the measure is brought on the floor it is believed the House will pass it, but its fate in the Senate would be uncertain, due to the fact that it might run into a legislative jam near the close of the session, where it would be easy prey for any small group of Senators who wanted to defeat it.

Another phase of the reapportionment problem brought up in the House today called forth a brief but spirited debate on aliens, prohibition and the relative merits of the States of New York and Kansas.

DEBATE GROWS WARM

Representative Hoch, Republican, of Kansas, got leave to speak out of order to discuss his bill providing for an amendment to the Constitution to exclude aliens from being counted in the census enumeration which decides Congressional representation.

"Under our present system," he declared, "it is possible for unnaturalized aliens, without a vote, to be the means of electing our President and Vice-President. These officers are chosen by electoral votes and aliens, through their representation in the House, have votes in the Electoral College."

Hoch pointed out that the con-

REALM TOLD KING SAFE

Recovery Will be Slow

"Christmas Card" Bulletin Sets Great Britain to Rejoicing

Holiday Shopping Revives With Rush, Following Doctors' Report

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Doctors who have been attending King George today took the British people into their confidence and told the nation that it might entertain good hopes of the slow recovery of the King. They issued a lengthy communication in the afternoon after a medical consultation at the palace. The result was wholly welcome.

"That is the best Christmas card we could have," remarked one man as he read the bulletin when it was posted in front of the palace. What he read was this:

LONG BULLETIN ISSUED

"A consultation has taken place in order to make a comprehensive survey of His Majesty's present progress and to discuss the lines along which treatment in the immediate future had best proceed.

"The condition of the right side of the chest has improved and there is evidence of more normal respiratory functions.

"The healing of the empyema with its severe local infection, though satisfactory, must of necessity be a lengthy process.

"The heart is slowly gathering power and while the exhaustion remains profound a slight accession of general strength is noticeable.

"The future course of the illness must from its nature be slow and not without difficulties, but we are happy to state that the King's progress is now established on a firmer basis."

PARLIAMENT ADJOURNS

The announcement was notable not only for the good news which it contained but for being in sharp contrast to the terse and closely edited bulletins which have been the rule since the King was taken ill. The very length of today's announcement was considered a good augury and people read it with signs of relief, virtually disregarding its warning that there were still difficulties ahead of their monarch and that complete cure would be a protracted affair.

The evening bulletin consisted of only two sentences. It said:

"As there already have been two bulletins today, a further one is not issued tonight. The position continues to be satisfactory."

The morning bulletin merely recorded the fact that the King had passed a good night and that there was a continuation of His Majesty's slow progress.

These regular announcements were signed by Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, physicians, and Sir Hugh Rigby, the surgeon who performed the drainage operation on the King's chest last week. However, for their afternoon consultation they called in Sir Humphrey Rolleston and Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard and all five signed the "Christmas card."

Parliament adjourned tonight for its Christmas vacation and the whole nation had been anxiously looking toward the palace, wondering whether it could rightly indulge in seasonal rejoicing.

HOLIDAY BUYING REVIVES

It was believed that all these factors were taken into consideration when the doctors decided to take the public into their confidence. It seemed certain tonight that their report would remove many of the uncertainties which have been bothering the nation.

The British Empire's wheels of commerce, which had slowed down somewhat during the acute phases of King George's illness, and gradually reaching normal speed with His Majesty's slow improvement.

There was a time when the outlook for retail business appeared very black and heavy insurance was taken out against loss of trade if the dread "eventuality" should take place. But this apparently has been avoided and the big premiums paid by the retail stores are now

HOOVER IN BRAZIL TODAY

Party Will Dock in Rio de Janeiro This Afternoon; Three Busy Days Planned in Capital

U.S.S. UTAH, EN ROUTE TO RIO DE JANEIRO (Brazil) Dec. 20. (AP)—Herbert Hoover today practically completed his preparations for his visit to the capital of Brazil, the last of the South American nations of his good-will tour. He will reach Rio de Janeiro tomorrow and will remain there three days before continuing his northward journey to Florida.

The President-elect will have a busy time during his stay in the Brazilian capital as the government has arranged an elaborate round of entertainments, luncheons, state dinners and receptions.

THREE SPEECHES PLANNED

During his voyage from Montevideo Mr. Hoover has been preparing the three speeches which he will deliver at Rio de Janeiro. One of these will be a response to the welcome of President Washington Luis of Brazil; he will deliver another when he is received by the Brazilian Congress and the third at the formal reception by the Brazilian Supreme Court.

The Utah is expected to arrive in the harbor of Rio De Janeiro about noon tomorrow and under the plans of the Brazilian government, the battleship's distinguished passengers will be greeted with a round of salutes from guns of Brazilian naval craft and the Utah will respond with a twenty-one-gun salute.

Mr. Hoover will leave Rio de Janeiro late Sunday afternoon and will spend Christmas at sea on the Utah. However, for Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, who have spent Christmas Day in many foreign lands, the experience of being away from the United States at the Yuletide season is not new. On Christmas Day the Utah is scheduled to be approaching the equatorial line.

LAND OF WONDERS!

How leading scientists, philosophers, teachers, writers, artists and musicians are establishing permanent homes in Southern California; how the community's cultural advancement has even exceeded its material development, and how such institutions as the Huntington Library, the Mt Wilson Observatory, the far-famed laboratories of California "Tech," the La Brea Pit, Botanic Gardens, Hollywood Bowl, Coliseum, our museums, art galleries and colleges are the forerunners of a great new Athens—is another glimpse of the future to appear in the forthcoming Rainbow Edition of the Annual Midwinter Number, out January 2, 1929.

Bringing the record down to the last minute, the edition will contain a full illustrated account of the 1929 Tournament of Roses and the great East-West football game.

Profusely illustrated, sparkling with new features, radiant with color, the six beautiful magazines comprising this Rainbow Edition will form the most acceptable New Year's gift that can be sent to eastern friends.

Copies will be mailed by The Times postpaid anywhere in United States, Canada or Mexico for 25 cents. (If mailed privately 16 cents in postage must be affixed.) Use the advance order blank to be inserted in The Times this coming Sunday and copies will go forward on the first out-bound trains on date of publication.

CREEDS PREDICT CHURCH MERGER

Congregational and Christian Denominations May Join

Combination to be Largest Religious Sects Union

Sovereignty of Only Common Interests Will be Yielded

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Complete merger of the Congregational and Christian denominations was foreseen in the recommendations of a joint committee representing the two churches, announced tonight in a joint statement by Rev. Frank Knight Sanders of Rockport, Mass., and Rev. Frank G. Coffin of Columbus, chairmen, respectively, of Congregational and Christian commissions.

"A new united national denominational organization, the general council of the Congregational-Christian churches, will be formed, it is proposed, in October, 1929," the announcement said. "The merger, if consummated, will be the largest union of distinct denominations in the United States. The Congregational churches number 5548 with 928,858 members. The Christian churches number 950 with 114,136 members."

POINTS WAY TO UNITY

Dr. Sanders and Dr. Coffin believe that the plan of union "points the way to genuine Christian unity among the Protestant churches of America."

"It is based," they said, "upon the broad, sane principles that every denomination should be free to preserve the things which it holds especially sacred and the ways to which it is peculiarly accustomed and yet should yield sovereignty in the matters which are actually of common interest to the whole church of Christ. Upon this platform a very large number of denominations might easily unite and such a union might properly be called the United Church of Christ in America."

PLANS LONG UNDER WAY

Negotiations between the Congregational and Christian churches have been in progress for some time and preliminary proposals for union have been approved by the governing bodies of each.

The National Congregational Council holds its next meeting in May in Detroit, while the next regular session of the General Christian Convention will probably be held next October. It is hoped, the announcement said, that if the Congregationalists approve the merger at Detroit they will adjourn to meet coincidentally with the Christian body in October, when the union would be formed.

HOPE FOR LOST PAIR RISES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Possibility that Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hyde of Hansen, Idaho, who disappeared on a boat trip through the Grand Canyon, may have found the passage too dangerous and left the canyon afoot was voiced today at the headquarters here of the Ninth Corps Area, United States Army.

Aviators and officers familiar with the terrain in and about the canyon, discussing the location at which army aviators discovered what is believed to be the abandoned Hyde boat yesterday, pointed out that access to Diamond Canyon is available and gives egress from Grand Canyon to foot parties.

A message from government aviators, transmitted through Maj. M. F. Harmon, Jr., commanding officer at March Field, Riverside, reports no further success in the search for the missing couple but discloses the flyers have communicated with ground parties and directed them to the territory in which the abandoned boat was found. It read:

"Party of three men believed to be searching party, located at point fourteen miles up the river from stranded boat found at mouth of Diamond Canyon. Lieut. Adams dropped message to this searching party directing them to where the boat could be found and giving all other information available to him. He also dropped message to boat farther down the river advising them of the developments of the situation up to that time."

DANGER OF WAR BELIEVED OVER

Kellogg Confident in Dispute of Bolivia and Paraguay

Further Conciliation Steps Await Reply to Queries

Work on Multilateral Pacts Reported Progressing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Although replies from Bolivia and Paraguay as to exact conditions under which they are willing to submit their controversy to conciliation have not yet reached Washington, Secretary of State Kellogg is confident that all danger of hostilities between them is over.

Further steps in the conciliation proceedings which the Pan-American arbitration conference has undertaken are awaiting the answers of the two disputing countries to a questionnaire cabled them yesterday. This communication asks their views as to the exact question in dispute and their desires as to the composition of the court to adjudicate the controversy.

Secretary Kellogg, however, feels that both nations already have shown their willingness to submit the matter to peaceful solution by their acceptance of the good offices of the arbitration conference and also by the instructions of the two countries to their forces on the frontier to avoid further activity which might lead them into clashes with one another.

MOVE DISCOURAGED

A move to have Secretary Kellogg, as chairman of the arbitration conference, undertake the conciliation of the Paraguayan-Bolivian controversy alone has been discouraged by the Washington government, which holds that united action in this direction by representatives of several American states will exert much more influence on both disputing countries.

It also is argued that a conciliation commission on which various American republics are represented will be more in harmony with Pan-American ideals. The United States, however, has every expectation of being represented on the conciliating commission when it eventually shall be constituted.

The arbitration conference's activities toward the conclusion of the multilateral treaties of arbitration and conciliation, for which it was assembled, were in the meantime progressing very actively today.

SUBCOMMITTEE MEETS

A subcommittee composed of J. P. Varela of Uruguay, Ricardo Alfaro of Panama and Gonzalo Gutirrez of Cuba met to prepare a draft treaty of conciliation to be placed before the full committee on conciliation treaties as soon as possible. Its general purpose will be to enlarge the powers of the existing international commissions for the investigation of international disputes to allow them to undertake conciliation proceedings. These commissions, established under the 1923 Gondra treaties, at present have only the power to issue reports as to the facts in controversies endangering the peace of the Western Hemisphere.

Enrique Olaya of Colombia and Victor Maurtua of Peru, reporters for the committee on arbitration treaties, hope to have ready for a full committee meeting tomorrow a draft treaty of compulsory arbitration. This draft would establish the principle of compulsory arbitration for justifiable disputes. It would waive arbitration, however, for disputes involving pecuniary claims of individuals or corporations against governments, except in cases of a denial of justice.

Domestic matters, questions affecting third parties and problems affecting sovereignty, also would be excepted from compulsory arbitration.

PARAGUAY DENOUNCES DENIAL BY BOLIVIA

ASUNCION (Paraguay) Dec. 20. (AP)—In a detailed statement of military activities on the Paraguayan-Bolivian frontier the War Ministry today denounced denials by Bolivian officials of attacks by the military of that country on Forts Gen. Genes and Valois Rivarola.

"The text of a communication from Commander Castagino of Fort Valois Rivarola is quoted: "Learning of a Bolivian cavalry attack against Fort Marsical Lopez, I left the 14th inst. at 8 a.m., from Valois Rivarola with troops to protect Lieut. Ruso Padin. Lieut. Figari was killed in this operation. I maintained contact with the Bolivians until 5 p.m., when they pretended to retire, but the same night they moved against Fort Gen. Genes, cutting off the road to Valois Rivarola and capturing some of my supplies.

"The Bolivian cavalry continued its advance until the 15th inst., reaching to within twenty kilometers of Genes, but it soon retired hurriedly before our strong counter-attack which also forced Bolivian infantry to abandon Fort Marsical Lopez. Since that date the enemy cavalry has ceased its operations and I have reoccupied the positions in Valois Rivarola. Besides Lieut. Figari we lost six infantrymen and two cavalrymen. Bolivian losses were heavier."

At an extended session of the Chamber of Deputies last night Foreign Minister Zubigarreta made an exhaustive report of developments in the Chaco dispute.

AIR CHART OF PACIFIC PREPARED

Navy Hydrographic Office Issues Forecast of Likely January Conditions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The first aviation chart ever made by any country of the upper air over the Pacific Ocean has been issued by the Navy hydrographic office, showing conditions to be expected during the month of January.

This will be the first of a series of monthly "pilot charts of the upper air for the North Pacific," similar to those of the North Atlantic issued by the Navy Department during the past year. It is thought Pacific air conditions may prove to vary so slightly that the issuance of the Pacific chart later will be on a quarterly basis.

No routes are recommended for Pacific flyers on the new chart, since flights are not yet regarded as sufficiently frequent, but a further series of air charts showing routes for coast flights from Juneau, Alaska, to Panama, are now under preparation.

Wind direction and velocities, average air and ocean temperatures, ocean current and barometric pressures are indicated for the whole North Pacific on the new chart, only surface winds being shown except the region immediately around the Hawaiian Islands, where three upper levels as high as 10,000 feet are recorded.

Woman Sues Her Father-in-Law

BEAVER (Pa.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Alice C. Moore, 30 years of age, formerly of Cleveland, O., today filed suit against her father-in-law, Walton N. Moore, who she says, is a wealthy resident of San Francisco, charging that Moore enticed her husband, Walton N. Moore, Jr., from her. She asks $200 a month maintenance and $50,000 from an estate held in trust for her husband by his father.

The Moores were married in Cleveland May 6, 1923, and came to Beaver county in March, 1926.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Walton N. Moore, San Francisco broker and merchant, said today he had no comment to make when informed Mrs. Alice C. Moore, his daughter-in-law, had filed a suit against him in Beaver, Pa.

To a reporter Mr. Moore said he had been instrumental in sending his son to a hospital when he was ill.

Nevada May Join in License Quiz

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Nevada State Board of Chiropratic Examiners was asked today to join the California board in sifting reports of asserted misrepresentations by chiropractors obtaining licenses in California under a reciprocity agreement between the two States.

Members of the Nevada board probably will attend a meeting of the California board to be held January 15, it was said today at the offices of the board. Of fourteen chiropractors who will answer charges of fraud in obtaining licenses, twelve are transfers from Nevada.

Accused Man Blames Trade Embassy to Berlin

Sum Obtained Estimated to Reach $1,000,000

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—Revelation that forged drafts amounting to $1,000,000 had been issued under seal of the Russian soviet trade delegation to Berlin was made here today after the arrest of Maximovitch Litvinoff, younger brother of Russia's assistant Commissar of Foreign Affairs.

The police said that search of Litvinoff's room revealed documents which probably will throw full light on the fraud. They said that Litvinoff, who formerly held a responsible position with the soviet trade delegation in Germany, had used seals and official documents to back up the forged paper.

The prisoner asserted his own innocence, saying that the delegation itself was responsible for issuing the drafts. Other arrests may follow.

It was the office of M. Litvinoff in Moscow which asked for the detention of the official younger brother.

Police to Use Night Sticks

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Night sticks are to be used freely by New York police on gangsters and thugs. The new Police Commissioner, Grover Whalen told assembled officers:

"There is a lot of law in a night stick and the police need have no hesitation in using whatever means they find necessary in dealing with gangsters and thugs, or when their lives are in danger."

ENGINEER ORDERED TO STUDY HIGHWAY ROUTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The State Highway Commission at a meeting here today authorized E. E. Wallace, district engineer at Fresno, to make a study for local communities of possible automobile routes between Paso Robles on the State highway northward to Hanford and points north.

DRY FOES URGED TO JUMP FENCE

Asked to Get on Other Side and Support Law

More Teeth for Liquor Curb Advocated at Chicago

Brewers, Also in Session, Request "Showdown"

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Dry leaders of the country meeting here expressed the opinion today that the simplest way to solve prohibition difficulties would be for liquor-law opponents to align themselves on the other side of the fence.

Calling attention to what they described as the "mighty mandate of the American citizens in the last Presidential election," delegates to the victory convention of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League urged fellow-citizens "who constitute the minority in this question" to accept this matter as settled and to "yield to prohibition their observance and approval and support prohibition as true Americans should."

The bill now before Congress, which would increase the penalties for the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation and exportation of liquor, was heartily indorsed in resolutions of the board of directors.

More teeth for the Illinois prohibition act also were advised. Jail sentences instead of fines for first offenders and the penitentiary for those found guilty of violating the dry law the second time were urged.

Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan of the University of Chicago medical school, told the dry leaders that doctors who sell and prescribe 100 prescriptions every three months, their full allotment, "are a disgrace to the profession."

Howard Hyde Russell, founder of the Anti-Saloon League of America, joined other speakers at the convention in denying oft-repeated statements that there is more drinking among boys now than ever before.

BREWERS ASK FOR PROHIBITION "SHOWDOWN"

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Hugh F. Fox of New York, executive secretary of the United States Brewers' Association, in convention here today predicted that President-elect Hoover "will be forced by the facts and by the logic of his own reasoning to the conclusion that the (prohibition) law must be modified."

Denying that "even the surface has been scratched" in the enforcement of prohibition, Fox said:

"Mr. Hoover is a practical man and he has had experience with all sorts and conditions of men in all countries. His logical approach will be a preliminary survey to determine whether it is possible to develop an adequate enforcement plan without further investigation and approximately what such a plan would cost. We surmise that the next step will be the appointment of a competent commission to get facts as to the consequences of prohibition and its workability from the national standpoint. In short, to find out the causes of prohibition failure and what can be done to remedy the matter.

SHOWDOWN DESIRED

"If he appoints such a commission, it will not be for the purpose of evading his personal responsibility, and he will not be satisfied with an academic report. Eventually, we believe, he will be forced by the facts and by the logic of his own reasoning to the conclusion that the law must be modified.

"We believe Mr. Hoover should have unlimited resources at his command—money, men and power—to put the enforcement of prohibition to such a test that there can be no question of its success or failure. What the country wants is a showdown."

OFFICERS ELECTED

Jacob Ruppert, of New York, president of the association, charged the government did not deal fairly with brewers in that no provision was made for the men whose property and livelihood were affected by prohibition. He said the unfairness was according to Anti-Saloon League dictation.

The association was reorganized on a membership basis and resolutions were adopted pledging support to the President in the enforcement of the dry laws.

Ruppert was elected president of the reorganized association. R. A. Huber of the Anheuser-Busch Company, St. Louis, was named vice-president, and William C. Krueger, of Newark, N. J., treasurer. Fox continues as executive secretary.

Patten Estate $17,991,000

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The will of James A. Patten, filed for probate today, reveals the estate of the former "wheat king" amounted to approximately $17,991,000. The estate previously was estimated to have been nearer $30,000,000.

The will bequeaths $150,000 outright to charity, $10,000 to Mr. Patten's secretary, $2000 to each of two chauffeurs, and the residue to the widow, with the Chicago Title and Trust Company named trustee. Two children, John L. Patten and Agnes Patten Wilder, are to receive incomes of $10,000 a year.

THIRTEEN-MONTH YEAR FAVORED

Hearings Opened in House Committee on Revision of Calendar

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP) Revision of the calendar to provide thirteen months of twenty-eight days each was favored by George Eastman, chairman of the National Committee on Calendar Simplification, at the opening of hearings today on the Porter resolution before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The resolution would authorize the President to call an international conference on calendar simplification during 1929 with a view to putting the thirteen-month calendar in effect in 1933.

PLANE AGAIN TAKES FUEL AS IT FLIES

Pilot of Question Mark Elated Over Second Test; Starts for Tucson Today

MIDLAND (Tex.) Dec. 20. (AP)—The Fokker Army endurance plane, Question Mark, accompanied by a Douglas C-1 refueling ship, landed here at 4:47 p.m. today after a seven and one-half-hour flight from Shreveport, La. The Question Mark is flying to the Pacific Coast for an endurance test.

Capt. Ira C. Eaker, piloting the endurance ship, was enthusiastic over the second successful attempt to refuel the Fokker from its tender craft, accomplished today while the two planes circled 2500 feet over Love Field at Dallas.

He declared the method entirely practicable and predicted the Question Mark easily will break all existing endurance-flight records in its projected attempt New Year's Day. Three new Wright Whirlwind motors will be installed as soon as the ship reaches San Diego, he said.

The Fokker and its supply ship will take off at dawn tomorrow for Tucson, Ariz., where they will land for fuel before continuing the flight to Rockwell Field.

The log of the Question Mark showed that 1500 pounds of gasoline were pumped into its tanks from the refueling ship while they flew over Love Field today. The exchange was made at a rate of seventy-five gallons a minute while the two ships flew only twenty-five feet apart. It was necessary to throttle the planes down to seventy-three miles an hour to transfer the fuel.

ALL GERMAN REPARATION DUES MET

Report Filed for Fourth Annuity Year Reveals Full Obligation Discharged

BERLIN, Dec. 20. (AP)—Commissioners and trustees of the agent-general for reparations submitted reports today for the fourth annuity year indicating that all payments due have been met promptly by Germany.

The commissioner of the Reichsbank summarizes his review with the remark that there have been far-reaching reorganization and rationalization of Germany's industrial system, that the standard of living among the poorest has risen appreciably, and that in the case of the greater part of the working classes has reached or surpassed the prewar level.

He adds that the large short-time debt of Germany remains a serious feature, but that it is a satisfactory phenomenon that the position of the Reichsbank has strengthened continually and that it is today stronger than at any time in the past four years.

LAST YEAR HIGH PEAK FOR HEALTH

Federal Report Reveals Death Rate Dropped to Low Record Figure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The American people were at about the peak of health during 1927. This was disclosed today in a Commerce Department report, announcing that the national death rate for the year had dropped to 11.4 persons per 1000 population. In 1926 the rate was 13.2, which in turn was a figure considerably lower than that of preceding years.

The actual reported number of deaths last year for the area of the country in which births and deaths are regularly registered was 1,236,949, against 1,285,927 in 1926. Heart disease was the most frequent cause of mortality and accounted for 211,976 deaths in 1927, while cancer, tuberculosis, pneumonia and kidney diseases were next as death causes.

Defense Voiced in Screen Suit

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Former Gov. Nathan L. Miller asserted as defense counsel in a plagiarism suit today that the moving picture "The Cohens and the Kellys" is not based on "Abie's Irish Rose" but on Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Anne Nichols, author and producer of the long-lived "Abie," brought the suit, asking for damages of $3,000,000 against Universal Pictures Corporation, Carl Laemmle, the corporation's president, and Harry Pollard, director of the screen production of "The Cohens and the Kellys."

FIFTH PHARAOH STATUE FOUND

Gigantic Head Discovered Near Ruined Pyramid

Other Effigies of Asiatic Gods Located

Explorers Say Revelations Solve Problems

[Copyright, 1928, by the New York Times]

CAIRO, Dec. 19. (Exclusive)—The department of antiquities has made two interesting discoveries in the Sakkara area. The first is the red granite head of a gigantic royal statue found close to the ruined pyramid, the discovery of which was reported November 4.

The head was found in a cavity of black basalt in the floor of the fifth dynasty temple situated between the Pyramids of the Pharaohs Assa and Menkenhar of the fifth dynasty and in front of the pyramid already mentioned. Its position makes it clear that this is the long-sought Pyramid of the Pharaoh Userkaf, the first king of the fifth dynasty; that the temple is his mortuary chapel and that the head belongs to his statue.

Interest lies in the fact that the head, which is finely executed and well preserved, is the only colossal head except that of the Sphinx and the head in the Boston Museum so far found of the old kingdom and that royal statues of the fifth dynasty are extremely rare.

The other find is nearer the second Pharaoh's pyramid. Here several limestone statues were found buried under a heap. They are of the foreign style but Egyptian in execution. From the costumes, attitudes and insignia these represented foreign divinities of Syrian origin sculptured during the Ptolemaic period.

One shows a fat woman wearing a high tiara and the second represents a man in Chaldean costume and a woman standing rigidly with their hands forward, and a third showing a man's head with a large beard which comes from a winged bull. They are important because figures of western Asiatic gods are rare and because these probably come from one of the little known pre-Christian foreign colonies in Memphis which, when Christianity came in, removed and buried their gods instead of destroying them.

Ten Killed by Blaze in India

KARACHI (India) Dec. 20. (AP)—Ten persons were killed and two seriously injured in a fire which destroyed a two-story building in the Runchore quarter early today.

The fire originated in a kerosene oil store which blazed for twenty minutes and then collapsed engulfing three men, four women and three boys. The remaining thirteen occupants of the house escaped unharmed.

The two injured were a woman who jumped from a top story window and her child, which she had clasped to her breast.

Air Mail Breaks Records of Past

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Record-breaking air-mail deliveries were sent from and received in San Francisco today. The Boeing Air Transport Company used a trimotor plane in taking the mail east. The plane carried two pilots, four passengers and 1152 pounds of mail, the bulk of it Christmas greetings. Ray Little, the first pilot to carry mail on the route in 1923, had with him Clair Vance, another veteran pilot.

The Pacific Air Transport Company plane from Seattle and Portland carried 274 pounds of mail, a record for the route.

ARBITRATION UP IN PARLIAMENT

Sir Austin Discusses Pact With Washington

Project Declared Receiving Careful Study

Secretary Deplores Recent Amity Disturbance

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The possibility of a new arbitration treaty between the United States and England received official attention in the House of Commons today just before that body adjourned for the Christmas recess.

The attention was of noncommittal sort, however, and merely indicated that such a pact, the subject of some prior discussion at both Washington and London, was receiving some consideration.

The discussion followed upon questioning of Sir Austen Chamberlain by Liberal members with reference to evacuation of the Rhineland, Anglo-American relations, and relations with the soviet.

REGRETS DISCORD

Referring to Anglo-American relations, Sir Austen said he profoundly regrets that a little cloud had come over them recently, but he refused to believe that between two nations both so peacefully minded and so friendly to each other these passing differences would create any permanent disturbance of relations.

He then referred to the arbitration treaty and said that His Majesty's government had made a very careful inquiry and consideration of the very large issues involved but had not yet reached a conclusion which enabled it to proceed further in negotiations with the United States government.

CONCILIATION TREATY

The Foreign Minister explained that he had desired the old arbitration treaty extended to cover the time needed for consideration of the "new proposals," which he said had come as a surprise, since he had been informed previously the American government intended no change but merely a renewal of the old treaty.

"Let us never forget," he said, "that there is another and very relevant treaty still in force, namely, the Bryan-Spring-Rice conciliation treaty. My own impression is that very probably in the future relations of the two countries conciliation machinery will be used more by both nations than the terms of any arbitration treaty which might be in existence."

The House adjourned until January 22.

CROWN STILL ELUDES KING

Albanian Zogu Puts Off Ceremony Fourth Time Due to Dearth of Soldiers and Shekles

[Copyright, 1928, by the Chicago Tribune.]

TIRANA (Albania) Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Zogu, King of Albania, today allowed it to become known that the date of his coronation will be again postponed until next September. The present dearth of shekels in the royal coffers, coupled with the desire of the King to have at last 40,000 trained soldiers for the big event are the main reasons for this, the fourth delay.

The coronation, when held, will be a gorgeous affair, carried out in accordance with ancient tradition in Kroya, ancient capital of King Skanderberg I, near which Zogu's family has large estates. The coronation will occur in the old fortified castle of Kroya.

Kroya is a village lying on the glowering black mountainside, two hours automobile ride from Tirana on the road to Scutari. Because of the primitive hotel accommodations for the large guest list, it is planned to build a new hostelry in Tirana especially for the purpose, but all this is dependent on getting sufficient finances.

King Zogu has become the sphinx of the Balkans. Ruling with ruthlessness and restraint, the new King already has established a reputation with his 800,000 turbulent subjects as a capable ruler and he is keeping his other Balkan neighbors guessing.

In fear of a vendetta or assassination, Zogu seldom leaves his house. In fact, he has only been out once since he was proclaimed King and he is carefully guarded by four royal companies of soldiers, with more soldiers stationed in barracks nearby. He has been shot at twice. Once with two bullets in his body he ran after his pursuers.

ENGLAND TOLD KING WILL LIVE

bying recouped from the rush of business which has set in during this last week of Christmas shopping.

It seemed as though everyone had delayed their gift buying as long as the cloud hung over Buckingham Palace and now was making up for lost time, not only in London but in the provincial towns also. The usual Christmas shopping rush, bad enough, now recembles more closely a bargain-day struggle. Harassed sales people are finding difficulty in supplying their customers, demands in the short week of buying which usually is spread over at least a month.

The betterment in the King's condition has been reflected in brisk business generally. Tentative engagements of supper tables at the big hotels and restaurants are being clinched by actual reservations. Theater bookings, held in abeyance, are now being concluded and parties which a few weeks ago were hardly thought of are being planned with enthusiasm.

FENN BILL TILT NEARS IN HOUSE

stitutional convention of 1780 debated this point and if it was discarded at that time it was because the huge immigration flow of later years was not foreseen by the delegates who drafted the basic law of the country.

Representative La Guardia, Republican of New York, who last week took Mr. Hoch violently to task for assertions along the same line, was not on the floor today. Representative Black, Democrat of New York, however, arose and took heated exception to Hoch's references to the 1,600,000 unnaturalized aliens in New York State.

KANSAS SCORED

"I am tired," he said, "of hearing these attacks on New York. Every time a backwoods statesman wants to make a point he singles out New York as 'Exhibit A.' New York is one State in the Union which does not go around with its hat in its hand begging for Federal help. Kansas was founded by alien Spaniards and French fur traders and was included in the Louisiana Purchase, the money for which came from New York. I am not prepared to say whether Kansas was a profitable investment. New York represents a much finer type of American citizen in Alfred E. Smith than does Kansas in mud-slinging William Allen White.

"Attacks on New York are founded on economic jealousies."

Turning to prohibition, Black said he wanted to "warn the drinking drys that in my presence, it will not be healthy for them to attack New York. Let them stop drinking or stop talking about New York."

court he had received unsigned letters two years ago threatening to dynamite his home unless he paid $3000. He settled for $300.

The defense made a new effort to free the three suspects in the Scully killing today, contending that Fred Petitti, one of them, a brother of Angelo, is an essential witness. The court ordered him held in readiness to testify and advanced a hearing on his release to tomorrow. It had been set for Saturday.

Heavy Damages Paid to Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—After nearly a decade of litigation, Mrs. Victor Klee, wife of a local newspaper man, today received $100,000 for injuries received when she was struck by an electric car at Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Klee was permanently paralyzed from the waist down as a result of the accident. She was awarded $118,000 damages by a local court, but the defendants, the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company, appealed the decision and Mrs. Klee agreed to accept $100,000 in an out-of-court settlement.

Accompanied by her husband, she is now under treatment at Warm Springs, Ga.

Rhode Island's Vote Announced

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Dec. 20. (AP) The State returning board completed the official count of the election today and found that Gov. Smith of New York had won the State from Herbert Hoover by a margin of 1451 votes.

The vote was: Smith, 118,973; Hoover, 117,522.

United States Senator Gerry, Democrat, was declared defeated by Judge Herbert, Republican, by a vote of 119,228 to 116,234.

terest a life-saving drill on the battleship. The "man overboard" drill was staged with a dummy being thrown from the battleship. After the rescue call was sounded a boat was lowered from the Utah and the dummy was recovered. During the afternoon the crew of the Utah also rehearsed the manning of the battleship for tomorrow's ceremonies at Rio De Janeiro.

The Utah will be escorted into the capital city's harbor by two Brazilian cruisers and will dock about 2 p.m. Mr. Hoover will be met at the dock by President Luis and Vice-President Mello Vianna, who will be accompanied by the Vice-President of the Senate, President of the Chamber of Deputies, the entire Cabinet, the President of the Supreme Court and the city's Mayor and highest officials. President Luis will come to Rio De Janeiro from his summer capital at Petropolis especially for the visit of Mr. Hoover.

DETAILS ARRANGED

On the arrival of the President-elect tomorrow afternoon under the program which has been submitted to Mr. Hoover, the Hoover party will be escorted by the Brazilian President from the dock to the Guanabara Palace. Mrs. Hoover will be escorted by the President's wife and Ambassador Fletcher by the Brazilian Foreign Minister.

Official calls by Mr. Hoover will occupy the remainder of the afternoon, including a reception by President Luis in honor of the American President-elect and a reception by Senora Luis for Mrs. Hoover at the Presidential Palace Gattete. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will return late to the Guanabara Palace, which will be their headquarters during the visit. On Saturday Hoover will take an automobile journey to various points of interest in Rio De Janeiro and will attend the Brazilian Congress and a special session of the Supreme Court.

During Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will receive the American colony of the Brazilian capital at the United States Embassy. That night President Luis will have the Hoovers as his guests of honor at a state dinner at the national palace. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will attend church, and then the President-elect will give a luncheon at the American Embassy for the Brazilian Chief Executive. Following an automobile journey about Rio the party will board the Utah late in the afternoon to start the homeward journey. Under present plans the Utah is expected to reach Key West on January 5 or 6.

GALA RECEPTION AWAITS HOOVER PARTY

RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Rio Janeiro is ready tonight for its welcome tomorrow to Herbert Hoover when he arrives aboard the U.S.S. Utah.

The stars and stripes seem to be everywhere, while private homes, business blocks and streets themselves have been decorated with the entwined colors of Brazil and its northern neighbor in anticipation of the arrival of the President-elect of the sister republic.

The front pages of afternoon papers today were devoted entirely to photographs of Mr. Hoover and his family, the house where he was born and of the White House, his next residence.

Auto Disappears With Tucsonian

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Called to an automobile at the front of his home last night, O. L. Mize, Tucson business man, was taken into the car and late today had not returned. Mrs. Mize notified city and county authorities, who today conducted a futile search.

Shooting Laid to Union Feud

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The fifth in a series of new outbreaks attributed to a resumption of violent differences between union and nonunion molders occurred tonight when Gregory Romero, American-plan worker, was shot at twice by men who drew alongside him in a curtained car as he alighted from a street car. Neither shot took effect.

COLLEGE ASKS FREED TARIFF FOR CHIMES

AMES (Iowa) Dec. 20. (AP)—Congress will be asked to pass a special act to admit duty-free from England twenty-six bells to add to the campanile at Iowa State College, Prof. Herman Knapp, business manager, announced. The chimes were given to the college under terms of the will of the late Dean Edgar W. Stanton. Ten bells, now in place, were brought here duty-free by Act of Congress February 15, 1899. Delivery of the new bells, which will cost about $25,000 and will weigh 17,000 pounds, is expected July 1, 1929, if Congress approves.

CITY DWARFED BY BACKGROUND

Rio de Janeiro Set Amidst Unmatched Splendor

Granite Obelisks Rise to Prodigious Heights

Brazilian Capital Noted of Surpassing Charm

This article was written by Mr. Hogue recently while on the good-will tour of the S.S. City of Los Angeles which called at Rio de Janiero. President-elect Hoover is to arrive today in that capital on his South American journey.

BY FRED HOGUE

The bay of Rio De Janeiro, dotted with a hundred islands rising out of the blue water, with granite obelisks and domed cathedrals on your shores—how lovely you are in the morning when the dawn tints your crags and spires with rose and purple—how lovely under the blue night of the tropics, when the Southern Cross, accompanied by its train of stars of lesser magnitude, passes majestically above!

Man has builded temples and shrines, as bees build their tiny hives; but there are the cathedrals of the Titans.

How trivial are the Pelion and Ossa of the Mediterranean when compared to the granite shafts of the Bay of Rio De Janeiro!

I would that there were words in some tongue worthy to paint your grandeur, your sublimity, to express that feeling of elevation, of communion with the infinite, that wells upward within me as I stand on the golden sands, shimmering in the rose light of a setting sun and raise my eyes to the turreted horizon that encircles you.

SANCTUARY INVADED

When the silver sheen on the descending sun dazzles the waters I can only compare the bay and its islands to a circlet of emeralds set in platinum, the sails of the light craft to great butterflies with white and red wings skimming over the surface. But I cannot compare granite obeliska, for there is naught elsewhere on earth, or that we can see in the heavens above, with which to liken them.

I loved Montevideo, because on the flat shores of an estuary man has driven back the muddy waters and builded a city of marble; a contrast that ennobles and inspires.

I loved Buenos Aires, for here thousands of acres of low-lying swamp lands have been converted into broad serpentine boulevards adorned with flowers, parked with tropical foliage and decorated with monuments and palaces.

Montevideo is a marble Venus rising from the waters; but, in this setting, Rio De Janerio, famed as the most beautiful of the many lovely cities south of the equator, is only a hive of industry that has invaded a sanctuary.

I am writing these lines on the deck of the steamer City of Los Angeles, which lies alongside the broad, parked palace-lined Avenue da Branca, the pride of the Brazilians and the whole Portuguese race. It is the noblest effort of her great architects and industrials. This is the finest, most artistic waterfront of the two Americas. The boat rides in thirty feet of water, within ten feet of the concrete wharf.

INAPPROPRIATE NAMES

The whole water front is a plaza, a beautiful park, red, green and gold in verdure of the tropics. No freight boats may approach. There are none of the traditional ugly waterfront accessories; not a shop, a store, in sight. Mercantile and industrial establishments, great and small, are restrained by the parked barricade that extends for two blocks back from the passenger docks.

When the first Portugese navigators came, their imaginations were so futile that they thought the bay was a river. They came in January; and they could think of nothing more inspiring than to name it for the month when they landed, Rio de Janerio—River of January. The navigators have passed on, but the names remain.

All the passengers of the City of Los Angeles are enamored of Rio and its people. The globe-trotters say it is the most lovely of all they have visited, and the inhabitants the most charming and gracious.

The orchestra is playing for an afternoon dansant on the deck above. Youth is teaching youth the Brazilian maxixe, which we call tango. Neither can understand the speech of the other—a mere triviality. It is when the lips are mute that the glance of an eye and the pressure of a hand are most expressive.

Youth and love—under Brazilian skies on the Bay of Rio de Janerio! How will these girls respond to the colder, cruder form of expression of Anglo-Saxon love when they return to California? Perhaps it will be necessary for our young men to organize a cruise, to come and learn how they make love under the tropics.

Perhaps I have looked too much on the bay and the mountains, and too little on the city and its charming, gracious residents. When the group from Hawaii confesses it is more lovely than Honolulu, and the group from Los Angeles that it transcends the beauty of our City of the Angels, a miracle has been accomplished, be it in nature or in the human heart. I can only repeat what I have written before; there are more beautiful homes in Los Angeles than I have found in any South American city—but here alone does one find "The City Beautiful."

When we left the port of Wilmington the vessel was thronged with vieing Los Angeles, San Francisco and Hawaiian boosters. As we cruised along the west coast their voices weakened. Here, they are mute.

Some of my fellow-passengers tell me that I am wrong, that the picture and frame are one, that the city animates, vivifies, gives a soul to what would otherwise be rough, unhewn, uncultivated, spiritless nature. I have striven to accept their view; but I would not be sincere with myself and those who read these articles if I did not repeat that I would prefer the unhewn and the uncultivated.

HUNDREDS OF RAIDS NET SIXTEEN ARRESTS

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 20. (AP)—The police raiding squad was active last night and early today. Between 8 p.m. and 5 a.m., 200 suspected liquor places were visited, but there was nobody home in all but fifty-two. There were sixteen arrests.

Review of Day in Congress

President Coolidge signed the $1,000,000,000 Treasury-Postoffice supply bill.

The House passed and sent to the Senate the $112,000,000 four-department supply measure.

The Senate decided to take up together the Kellogg peace treaty and the cruiser bill after the Christmas recess.

The Senate passed the $286,000,000 Interior Department appropriations bill, adding $1,500,000 for western projects.

The nomination of Secretary West of the Interior was presented to the Senate with a favorable report from its Lands Committee.

CURTIS MAY PUT OFF HIS RESIGNATION

Kansas Paper Asserts That President Besought Leader to Remain for Session

WICHITA (Kan.) Dec. 20. (AP)—The Wichita Beacon today says that Senator Curtis, Vice-President-elect, has been requested by President Coolidge to remain in Congress until the close of the present short session. The newspaper did not divulge its source of information.

"President Coolidge earnestly desires Senator Curtis to retain his leadership in the upper branch of the national assembly in order that the policies of the administration may be carried out in accordance with the wishes of both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover," the article says.

The newspaper said it understood that Clyde M. Reed, Governor-elect, plans to appoint a Wichita man as Senator Curtis's successor in the Senate.

Henry J. Allen, publicity director for the Republican national campaign, is said to be definitely out of consideration as a successor to Senator Curtis.

Geologist Finds Dinosaurians in West China Beds

BERLIN, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Berliner Tageblatt today printed a cable dispatch from Sir Sven Anders Hedin, Swedish explorer, saying that his Chinese collaborator, a geologist named Yuan, had discovered in Western China the remains of thirty fully developed dinosaurians, of the Jurassic Period. The dispatch is from Urumtchi, Sinkiang Province, and says that the discovery was made to the south of Santal, which is 100 miles from Urumtchi.

Also three newly born dinosaurian babies, 24 inches long and fresh from the egg were found lying close to the mother animal. A dinosaurian egg also was found in the vicinity.

It is said this is the first time that dinosaurians of this geologic period had been found in Asia.

Conclusion of Hetch Hetchy Fight Sighted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—With the exception of the power question, the long-standing controversy between the city of San Francisco and the Department of the Interior over the Hetch Hetchy project is declared by Representative Cramton, Republican of Michigan, to be almost at an end.

Cramton, who has discussed the matter several times on the floor of the House, says that the city has agreed to both road and park phases of the dispute but that further negotiations on the power question are necessary.

He suggests that the city acquire a distribution system so that it might deliver power to itself from Hetch Hetchy instead of selling it to a private corporation and then buying it back at a higher price.

COLTON DESIGNATED

Utah Representative to Preside in Rail Land Grant Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Representative Colton, Republican, Utah, was designated today as chairman of the joint Congressional committee to investigate the Northern Pacific Railroad land grant.

The controversy is one of long standing and involves between three and six million acres of land in the States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, which the Northern Pacific claims is due it under its original grant. The Forest Service contends that all of the claims of the railroad have been satisfied.

In addition to Colton, the members of the committee are Representatives Winters of Wyoming and Letts of Iowa, Republicans, and Driver of Arkansas, and Hill of Washington, Democrats; and Senators Jones of Washington, Norbeck of South Dakota, and Sackett of Kentucky, Republicans, and Kendrick of Wyoming, and Ashurst of Arizona, Democrats.

FATHER'S ARREST AWAITS SON'S BURIAL

BERKELEY, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) When San Francisco and Berkeley detectives walked into the home of Seth E. Hargrave here today to arrest him on a forgery warrant they found him consoling his wife over the death of their son, Gordon, 7 years of age. The funeral was only an hour away. The officers held a hasty conference, Hargrave and his wife attended the funeral with their other son, 8 years of age.

Then he was arrested.

TELEPHONE QUIZ DELAY SCORED

Senator Calls Aitchison Up on Carpet

Neglect of Valuation Work Brings Complaint

Commissioner Puts Blame on Lack of Funds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Clyde B. Aitchison of Oregon, who has been renominated as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, appeared as a witness today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and was promptly told by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, that complaints had been made to him that the commissioner had neglected valuation cases assigned to him.

The commissioner, who was called at the request of Wheeler, was asked what the commission had done about telephone company valuation, which was authorized by Congress in 1915, and when Aitchison replied that the commision had been too busy with other important cases, Wheeler said:

"I will be frank with you. Complaints have been made that valuation cases assigned to you have been neglected for an unreasonable time."

AITCHISON'S REPLY

"All that I can say is that I have not been conscious of that," the commissioner replied. "I believe that the opinion of the commission is that my work has been kept up."

Aitchison told the committee he had been assigned to revise the commission's statutes but that he had not been relieved of his other work. The revision, he said, was a long and arduous task on which he had spent half his time during the past year including many nights and Sundays.

On request from Senator Wheeler the commissioner agreed to submit data giving a list of the cases assigned to him personally, when hearings were assigned, when they were held and when the cases were disposed of, and the reason for the delay, if any.

Aitchison had testified that the telephone valuation had not come up because the commission had been too busy with railroad valuations and that "we have taken up within the limits of our appropriations the things of vital importance."

HAVE NO RIGHT

Wheeler asked why, if insufficient money and facilities are at hand to take up the telephone case, the commission had not come to Congress for relief and Aitchison replied that the commission "is forbidden by law to ask for money."

"You don't violate the law, by coming up here and telling us the situation," Wheeler said.

"Yes, we do," the commissioner declared, "we are told we have no right to go to committees of Congress. We have only the right to answer questions."

Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, a member of the committee, interpolated: "Oh, yes, this is the age of economy."

DAM MADE TOPIC FOR DIPLOMATS

Mexico Sends Washington Note on Boulder Project and Quota Law

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Official cognizance has been taken by Mexico of the Boulder dam project, it was made clear here this evening by Acting Foreign Secretary Estrada who, while he declined to state whether the reports from Washington that this question was the subject of an important diplomatic note between both governments, did affirm that "the Mexican government is dealing with the question of the Colorado River water supply with the American government through the Mexican Embassy at Washington."

Estrada did not further amplify the extent of these negotiations.

The question of the application of a quota law to Mexicans is likewise the subject of international exchanges between Mexico and the United States, Estrada made known without detailing the nature of these conversations, which he declared were taking place between the Foreign Office and the United States Embassy here.

COOLIDGE ASKED TO VETO DAM BILL

PHOENIX, Dec. 20. (AP)—First definite action by the Senate as a whole in connection with the Swing-Johnson bill was taken today when that body passed concurrent memorial No. 1, addressed to the President of the United States praying that he veto the Boulder Canyon measure. This memorial was considered in lieu of a resolution previously submitted by Senator Colter of Apache.

The Colorado River commission, of which Gov. Hunt is chairman, is asked to submit a report of its activities before the end of the special session in a resolution which passed the Senate today without comment.

President of Argentine Wins Capital Control

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 20. (AP)—The party headed by President Irigoyen now controls the municipal Council of the capital, Parliament and several State administrations.

The count of ballots cast the 2nd inst. for the Municipal Council was completed today and showed 88,000 votes for the Irigoyenista Radicals, 44,000 for the Socialists, 35,000 for the Independent-Socialists and 12,000 for the Anti-Personalista radicals.

The vote entitles the Irigoyenistas to seven seats in the council, the Socialists to four, the Independent-Socialists to three and the Anti-Personalistas to one.

BRITISH SHIP PLOT SCENTED

Cunard Invasion of Havana Stirs Up Protest

Marine Committee in House Aroused by Move

Attempt to Break American Service Charged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The announced plan of the Cunard Line to place the Caronia on a winter run between New York and Havana caused a stir in the House Merchant Marine Committee today and led to charges that Great Britain and other European nations are deliberately seeking to break down the American Merchant Marine.

Commissioner E. C. Plummer of the Shipping Board appeared before the committee to discuss this and other instances in which foreign shipping interests are entering into assertedly unfair competition with privately owned American vessels purchased under the Merchant Marine Act enacted at the last session of Congress. He urged legislation to protect American shippers, and suggested an effective retaliatory move would be to place a tax on all persons entering a United States port in other than a ship flying the American flag.

FREE SEES PLOT

After the meeting Representative Free, Republican of California, declared he was convinced that Great Britain, Norway and other countries had entered upon a "determined policy" to destroy the merchant marine which the United States is trying to build up in private hands. Free pointed out that other countries held their distance as long as the government was operating the American merchant marine fleet, but launched competing lines as soon as the American ships passed into private hands.

"Apparently," he said, "they did not feel capable of bucking the United States government but believe they can compete successfully against the private lines."

Free, who is a ranking member of the Merchant Marine Committee, said that group had asked the Shipping Board to watch the situation and that "we have taken up within the limits of our appropriations the things of vital importance."

CHANGE PROTESTED

Commissioner Plummer revealed that the Shipping Board protested the transfer of the Caronia to the winter run to Havana as early as November 22, last, when a letter was sent to the Cunard Company stating that the traffic on this route already was adequately cared for by American lines and the entrance of the English ship into the field would be unwelcome.

"It will be noted," said Plummer, "that for half a century the Cuba Mail Line, with its American ships, has maintained a regular service between New York and Cuba, undisturbed by foreign vessels, until the time when Congress made possible the construction for this service of large, fast combination passenger and cargo vessels of a design certified by the Navy Department to be valuable as naval auxiliaries."

LARGER SHIPS PLANNED

The commissioner then cited that since passage of the Merchant Marine Act the Cuba Mail Line, P. A. S. Franklin, the Grace Line, the Dollar Steamship Company and the United Fruit Company all had started plans for new and more pretentious vessels for their Havana trade.

"But no sooner had these facts become known," he declared, "than the Cunard Line advertised its purpose to put one of its trans-Atlantic liners into this service during those few winter months when business is most active and when American ships, which maintain first-class traffic facilities between the United States and Cuba must earn the profits necessary to enable them to continue such operations without interruption."

CAMPAIGN FOR SMITH DEFENDED

"Baby" of Congress Says Democrats Fought "Clean and Courageous Battle

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Defending Gov. Smith of New York and Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee, Representative Combs, Democrat, Missouri, declared in the House today that they had fought a "clean and courageous" fight and deserved credit for revitalizing the party.

Combs, the "baby member" of Congress, leveled his attack chiefly at Representative Gilbert, Kentucky Democrat, who declared in the House recently that Smith's election was "unthinkable" and that Kentucky's vote against him was a foregone conclusion in view of its overwhelming Protestantism and antiwet sentiment.

"The gentleman from Kentucky," Combs shouted, "can go back to Kentucky and tell his constituents that God still reigns in the heavens and he is a dry, Nordic and strictly Protestant God."

Combs, the son of a Protestant minister, declared the Catholic Church conducted itself with "admirable restraint and dignity throughout the campaign."

No campaign in the history of the country, Combs continued, could compare with the one conducted by John J. Raskob for its lack of "backbiting, mud-slinging and vilification."

"Those who were disgruntled over the result of the last election," he said, "have taken pot shots at the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to give vent to their spleen. Why, for eight years this country has been wobbling along without leadership and for the first time in eight years the Democratic party has had vitality and aggressiveness. It was positive in its convictions, courageous and progressive.

"If this be lack of political wisdom, then we, as a party, should be proud of the fact that we blundered in the right direction."

DAWES GAVELS CURTIS DOWN

Vice-President Wins Clash Over Rules of Senate With Successor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Vice-President Dawes and Vice-President-elect Curtis fought a brief duel over the rules today in the Senate.

With Senator Curtis asking recognition to move the usual suspension of the reading of the journal the Vice-President laid before the Senate at the opening a resolution which had been made the unfinished business "immediately upon the convening of the Senate."

Smiling broadly, Mr. Curtis questioned the action of Mr. Dawes.

"I don't want to argue about it, but the rules provide for reading of the journal first," said the Republican leader as he opened the rule book.

Rapping the gavel and calling for regular order, Vice-President Dawes stood his ground and recognized another Senator.

CONFIRMING OF ROY WEST POSTPONED

Senate Will Take Matter of Secretary's Fitness Up After Holiday Recess

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The nomination of Roy O. West of Chicago as Secretary of Interior was presented to the Senate today with a favorable report from its lands committee but consideration of the nomination will be deferred until after the holidays.

The final vote of the committee for West stood 9 to 4. Chairman Nye completed a poll today of members who were not present yesterday when the vote was 7 to 3, for the nominee. Of those absent at that time, Senators Smoot, Utah, and Dale, Vermont, Republicans, voted for West while Dill, Democrat, Washington, opposed him.

Republican independents headed by Senator Norris of Nebraska, and Senator Nye, are prepared to renew their fight against West when his nomination comes up in the Senate. They will base their opposition on the fact that the Interior Secretary, who is a member of the Federal Water Power Commission, is a former investor in the Samuel Insull power utility companies which have petitions pending for water power licenses.

On his second appearance before the committee yesterday, Mr. West volunteered, in view of the opposition to him on this ground, to withdraw from participation in any decisions before the commission affecting petitions of the Insull companies.

Despite the promise of another fight, friends of the Secretary are confident of winning his confirmation. President Coolidge likewise is showing interest in the Senate's consideration of his Cabinet selection and before the committee voted yesterday he called in Chairman Nye to discuss the situation.

Department for ex-Service Men in Consideration

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Plans for the creation of a State department of veterans and military affairs, to include five governmental agencies having to do with ex-service men, were revealed here today by Keith Carlin, executive secretary to Gov. Young, World War veteran.

Organization of the department was discussed at an executive conference held yesterday afternoon to consider proposed veterans' legislation. It would be one of three new departments which the Young administration will probably urge the Legislature to establish.

Agencies that would be included in the department are: Adjutant-General's office, State Veterans' Welfare Board, State Athletic Commission, Veterans' Home at Yountville and Women's Relief Corps Home.

The object of the department primarily would be to give these agencies a voice in the Governor's council. Adjt.-Gen. Mittelstaedt would be director of the department.

State May Help Santa Cruz Road

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Hope that the State will contribute $100,000 toward Building Ocean Shore Highway, between here and Santa Cruz, was held forth today by B. B. Meek, State director of Public Works, at a Highway Commission meeting here.

Meek said he looked with sympathy on the plan to contribute toward the project, but reminded representatives of the districts, here to ask State aid, that the State highway fund at present has only $560,000, half of which must be allotted to Southern California.

"In view of this, and of other highway projects calling for State funds in Northern California, any State appropriation must be limited," said Meek.

Coolidge Will Sit for Portrait

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—President Coolidge has consented to have his portrait painted for the new building of the New York Geneological and Biographical Society.

Clarence W. Bowen, president of the society, who was presented at the White House by Senator Bingham of Connecticut, made the request.

MELLON GIVES SHARP ANSWER

Garner's Figures Declared at Variance With Facts

Data in Treasury Statement Held to be Correct

Mills Puts Question of Deficit Up to Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The charge made by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, in the House, that Secretary Mellon had misrepresented the condition of the Treasury to Congress drew from the Secretary a retort today that Garner had employed "wrong figures which do not fit the facts".

"The Treasury makes a statement and has the responsibility for it," Mr. Mellon said. "Mr. Garner makes a statement and has no responsibility."

Undersecretary Mills joined the discussion by declaring that there will be no deficit in government funds in 1929 "unless Congress spends more money."

Garner, in the course of a general attack on Mellon and the Treasury yesterday, declared the Secretary had sent to Congress conflicting estimates as to possible surpluses and deficits.

SECRETARY'S RESPONSE

Secretary Mellon said he could not enter into a debate with Mr. Garner, but he observed that budget estimates submitted to Congress were prepared by the Budget Bureau and not the Treasury. Garner had charged also that the United States Steel Corporation would receive $65,000,000 through tax refunds agreed upon through settlements with the Treasury, and Mellon reiterated his declaration that Garner's figures do not fit facts in the tax-refund cases.

"As far as the Treasury is concerned" he said, "our figures are correct and we haven't made any mistakes."

Mr. Mellon said that tax refunds needed for each fiscal year are estimated by the Internal Revenue Bureau and while they could not estimate exactly the amount that would be allowed by court decisions and agreements settling claims, that they were "remarkably close."

BUDGET FIGURES

Budget figures, Undersecretary Mills said, go to the Director of the Budget so early that it is impossible to estimate accurately the amount needed. The amount first asked for in the 1929 budget for tax refunds was approximately $131,000,000 and the Treasury later estimated that another $20,000,000 would be needed.

Last week when the final deficiency estimate was submitted the amount was increased by $55,000,000 to a total of $205,000,000 for the year. Mills explained that due to laws passed by Congress last year interest on tax refunds ran from the time the taxes were paid to within thirty days of the date of final repayment. It was to avoid paying this interest any longer than necessary, he said, that the Treasury asked for the $205,000,000.

Army Retirement Measure Offered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—All World War emergency officers who were 30 per cent or more disabled during their period of service would be automatically retired under a bill introduced today by Representative Joe Crail of Los Angeles.

The purpose of the measure, Crail said, is to clarify a situation arising from the fact the Veterans' Bureau has interpreted the Tyson-Fitzgerald Act to apply only to those officers who can prove their disability was incurred in line of duty. Veterans' groups throughout the country, including the Disabled World War Veterans of Los Angeles, take the view the veteran should receive the benefit of doubt until the government proves the disability did not come in line of duty.

SUMMER WHITE HOUSE GETS NEW PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Another summer White House bill was introduced in the House, Representative Williamson of South Dakota proposing a permanent place for the President to spend the heated months in the Black Hills. He asked for $300,000 for the purpose.

The Personification of Beauty

The top floor, walls, beams and panels are exact reproductions of the Vecchio Palace in Venice. Individual color treatment of the walls, ceilings and woodwork is in perfect harmony. Lighting fixtures are masterpieces of design and workmanship.

The extensive walled-in gardens present a Vista unexcelled by any other landscaping in Southern California.

"Direct-U"

Have you had difficulty in finding some particular advertised product? Have you had to hunt from store to store to find something you had seen advertised? The Times has established a new department called "Direct-U," which has collected data about thousands upon thousands of trade-named (advertised) products and stands ready to tell you just where you can find the thing you want.

The Times is glad to help its readers and advertisers through this new service—so make free use of it—there is no charge, of course.

All you need do is phone the Los Angeles Times—MEtropolitan 0700—and ask for "Direct-U" Department.

Resorts

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS THE ENCHANTED SPA

Here your cares can be active or restful as desired. You get away from city entanglements—away from phone calls and worries—you step into a new world of serene restfulness. You can golf, swim, go horseback riding, play tennis on championship courts—or, if you find "even one," exhausted or a bag, you can reinvigorate yourself by taking the wonderful hot mineral baths, or the famous Arrowhead associated steam cure or mud baths. Complete medical facilities.

Be sure to confine this world-famous watering spare with Arrowhead Lake. Arrowhead Springs is open all the year in accommodations—only 2½ hours from Los Angeles, 8 miles north of San Bernardino, over level high-speed boulevards. Motor over—at least for the week-end.

Loveliest in Early Spring

SO MANY Southern Californias have heeded their longings and gone and returned delighted, that a fashion in travel has been set.

And fashion in sailing implies the Malolo. When you see this ship—by far the fastest and finest in the Pacific—you will understand why. She will save you about two days on your round trip on the ocean—time to see San Francisco—and more time to spend among that "loveliest fleet of islands." The fares are moderate.

The Malolo sails from San Francisco every other Saturday at noon, and one or more other Matson Liners weekly. Any travel agency can make all arrangements—or 'phone TRinity 6723 and we will call.

Dear Folks:

I am still making my Headquarters on "Santa Claus Lane", known far and wide as Hollywood Boulevard - the Style Center of the World.

Each night at 7:30, my faithful deer draw me up the Boulevard, accompanied by a motion picture star; here I view the good people, to whom I am to give my presents.

If there are any little boys and girls who have not seen me and my reindeer, I will be looking for them tonight at 7:30 on Hollywood Boulevard - "Santa Claus Lane". I've brought to Hollywood Boulevard, not only toys but the most wonderful presents gathered from all parts of the world for every member of the family.

Incidentally, I have found on Hollywood Boulevard, Distinction, Fashion and General Merchandise at Moderate Prices.

Merry Christmas!

Santa Claus

P.S. I'll be on the Boulevard until Christmas every night at 7:30. A lot of stores are keeping open until 9 o'clock evenings to serve you!

"MR. TELEVOX" LOSES HIS HEAD

Burlingame Automatic Traffic Officer Goes Haywire When Small Boy Yells "Boo" and Signals Go All Wrong

BURLINGAME, Dec. 20. (AP)—"Mr. Televox," an electro-mechanical traffic cop here, may be scientifically perfect but he has no judgment at all. Furthermore, he can't do a thing with the children.

"Mr. Televox" stands at an intersection of the busy Peninsula highway. He is supposed to stand still and not interrupt the Peninsula traffic unless a car approaches from the side and wishes to cross. He has a scientific ear which, when an automobile horn is blown along the lateral street, causes him to translate the sound into motion, throwing out his arms and winking his red eye at the highway traffic.

He was making good on the job until a small boy came along the intersecting street and yelled "abooooa" at him, whereupon he got rattled, threw up his hands and winked his red eye when he shouldn't have done so. Now he's the favorite policeman of the younger set hereabouts.

"Mr. Televox's" boss is going to do something about it.

AUSTRIA PACT RATIFIED

VIENNA, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Austrian Parliament today ratified arbitration and conciliation treaties with the United States.

THREE POLICEMEN ASSIGNED TO THIS SOFT DRINK PARLOR

HOQUIAM (Wash.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Gus Makis, officially declared the most arrested man in Southwest Washington, owns what is probably the most carefully guarded soft-drink parlor in the world. Three policemen are assigned to his stand, one of them to be on duty as long as Makis is on the job.

In announcing the creation of the new police beat today Chief Ellis explains that police records constitute a "serial story of Makis's bootlegging" activities. Makis is at liberty on bail, while more than half a dozen convictions have been appealed to higher courts. The special guard is to make certain that only soft drinks are sold by Makis to loggers who are pouring into Hoquiam for Christmas vacations.

With the new police arrangement, Constable N. A. Gary complains that he is being discriminated against. A policeman on duty in the shop, he says, has the most comfortable chair drawn up next to the stove and is shown every courtesy. But, Gary protests, whenever he goes on duty the heat is shut off, doors and windows opened and the shop is swept vigorously.

MOTORIST KILLED

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Dec. 20. (AP) B. Bianchini, San Francisco, was killed here last night when his automobile plunged through a guard rail on the highway near the south county line. A splinter from the fence piereced Bianchini's chest.

LAST PLEA FOR HIS BURROS

Arizona Prospector, in Note Written as Life Ebbs, Asks Friends to be Good to Four Faithful Companions of His Lonely Travels

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Dan Wiley, for thirty years a prospector, is dead on his claims in the remote Bill Williams district, leaving little estate to show for his labors. Four donkeys were his most obvious possession and of them he wrote, in affection, only a short time before he died. He asked that his friends "dump what is left of me most any old place," but "be good to the burros, for the good they have done."

There is affectionate listing of the animals. Old Irish, 29 years of age, "is a good old soul and as harmless as they make them, one who will carry a pack all day and live on old papers and scenery and never complain." Topsy, 18, "the little brown one, was reared on canned milk and has well earned the price of it and a pension to boot." Mike McCarthy, 18, is described as "a practical joker, though without a mean hair on him and a good worker." Mollie, aged 17, "is a typical kid's burro, and would rather play with them than eat. Twice in her life she has come into camp with a lost kid, and has well earned the right to live."

"Knowing that it is only a matter of days before I cross the last divide," he wrote, "I want to say a word for my faithful friends, and faithful is right, for not only have they carried me and my outfit for close to thirty years, but many is the trip for water and gas they have made for someone in trouble, and many is the car they have pulled out of a place on an untraveled road. And they have gladdened the hearts of thousands of kids, big and little. The little burros deserve better treatment than to be shot down or abused."

The Arizona hills are full of masterless burros, who find a living where goats might starve. Wiley's long-eared friends probably will be turned loose, to take their ease, with occasional thought of the master who loved them.

COTTON CONTEMPLATED

DELTA VIEW, Dec. 20.—Growers in this district are planning to tear up 180 acres of vines and twenty acres of fruit trees and put the land into cotton this season.

WOMAN, CUPID AND MEN IN MIX

Musician Reaches Bay City and Mystery Grows

Miss McConnell Trying to "Escape Proposals"

Medical Student Pursuing Her in Airplane

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Miss Ruth McConnell, 26-year-old musician, came to town today to find herself the unwilling center of a mystery tinged with romance.

Miss McConnell said she came for a vacation and "to escape the proposals of a friend of the family." Wearied by a train ride from New York, puzzled by all the fuss, and frankly a bit bored, the woman arrived in tears.

"I am free, white, 21 and answerable to no one for my actions," Miss McConnell said on arriving. Later, she recovered her composure a little and gave the explanation of the "vacation" and the "proposals."

COULTER HER "FRIEND"

Miss McConnell denied that Kenneth B. Coulter, broker, is her uncle, and said he is a "friend of the family" who wants to marry her. In this she is supported by the telegraphed statement of her mother, Mrs. Henry McConnell, in Indianapolis, who also said Coulter is only a friend.

Due here tomorrow is David O. Meeker, young Rochester (N. Y.) medical student who flew from Omaha in an effort to overtake the girl and persuade her, if possible, to return to New York and to look after her health. Meeker arrived in Salt Lake City yesterday from Omaha and left Salt Lake City this morning for San Francisco, but was forced down at Carson City, Nev.

With Miss McConnell, and adding to the mystery, is a woman who said she is Mrs. G. M. Anderson of Cheyenne, Wyo. One report said she is a companion and another said she is a detective hired by Coulter. Mrs. Anderson let it go at that.

P. E. Lane, Pullman conductor, said Miss McConnell confided to him that she was going west for a vacation and to escape "proposals" and that she might "settle down as a music teacher in San Francisco."

SHE LEAVES HOTEL

The mystery was not clarified any when shortly after noon it was announced at the Hotel St. Francis that Miss McConnell had checked out and that it was not known where she went.

Inquiry at steamship offices disclosed that no one named McConnell has booked passage.

Rumors that Miss McConnell is connected with a publicity stunt lost standing during the day and what it is all about no one pretends to know. It was agreed by reporters and camera men that despite the fatigue of travel Miss McConnell is attractive. She is of medium stature, has a neat figure, brown hair, gray eyes and is well dressed.

COULTER SAYS RUTH IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Dec. 20. (AP) From his invalid's chair in the Clifton Springs Sanitarium, Kenneth B. Coulter, wealthy broker and owner of numerous Central and Western New York State farms and dairy establishments, today repudiated previous statements that he is the uncle of Miss Ruth McConnell, who arrived in San Francisco today ahead of D. O. Meeker, who sought to overtake her.

"I have been asked to comment," he said, "on so many stories and rumors that I may have approved a statement that I 'certainly am' her uncle.' That is not true, however. I am a very good friend of the family and have been so greatly overwrought and concerned about her condition that I have hardly known what I have been saying.

"She is very ill, even dangerously so, and my whole efforts have been to straighten out what has been taken as a deep mystery by the press of the country.

"The statement that Mrs. McConnell issued from Indianapolis is absolutely correct, with the exception of a few minor details. Mr. Meeker is not a doctor and has not attended Miss McConnell as such. He and his wife had an appointment with Ruth Monday in Rochester and he became worried when she did not appear. He called me and told me he was on his Christmas vacation and, knowing her condition, would try and locate her and accompany her to her home in the West.

"I received a telephone call from him in Omaha and acceded to his plea that I make arrangements for a special plane that could be used to catch up with Ruth. At that time he gave me a message for his wife, whom he had not informed of his plans because he did not want her to worry about his projected airplane flight."

Mr. Coulter was vague about the last time he saw Ruth and said that he could not say just when it was.

PRISON SENTENCE FOR SCHOOLBOY-SLAYER

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Vincent Rice, 17-year-old Staten Island schoolboy, received a prison sentence of twenty years to life today for the murder of his sweetheart, Alice Joost, 15, in her Port Richmond home on November 2, last. The girl was struck and then strangled with an electric cord by Rice after, he said, she had tried to kiss him.

FOOD PRICE ADVANCES RECORDED

Increase of 1 Per Cent in Month Indicated; Los Angeles an Exception

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Food prices increased about one-third of 1 per cent from October 15 to November 15, last, and they have climbed about one-half of 1 per cent since November 15, 1927.

Figures made public today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that eggs contributed their bit to the rise, strictly fresh ones being 9 per cent higher. Onions were 7 per cent more costly, and fresh and evaporated milk, butter, baked beans, canned tomatoes and prunes dug deeper into the consumer's pocket. But oranges decreased 18 per cent in price, pork chops showed a 5 per cent reduction and other articles that cost less were sirloin steak, chuck roast, bacon, ham, lard and flour.

From October 15 to November 15 there was an increase in the average cost of food in twenty-seven of the fifty-one cities as follows: Atlanta, Boston, Columbus, Dallas, Denver, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Little Rock, Minneapolis, New York, St. Louis and St. Paul, 1 per cent; and Bridgeport, Buffalo, Butte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, Milwaukee, Mobile, Newark, New Haven, Norfolk, Peoria, Pittsburgh, Portland, Or., and Springfield, Ill., less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

The following twenty cities decreased: Baltimore, Birmingham, Fall River, Jacksonville, Omaha and Washington, 1 per cent; and Charleston, S. C.; Cleveland, Los Angeles, Louisville, Manchester, Memphis, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Portland, Me.; Providence, Richmond, Rochester, Savannah and Seattle, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

In four cities, Houston, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Scranton, there was no change in the month.

Transit Company Sued by Railroad Board for Fines

OAKLAND, Dec. 20. (AP)—Suit was filed in the Alameda County Superior Court here today by the State Railroad Commission against the California Transit Company to recover $12,000 in fines, assessed against the company by the rail board, for six asserted violations of the Public Utilities Act.

Reginald L. Vaughan, assistant attorney for the commission, filed the action.

The company is charged with violating a Railroad Commission order to cease operation of its passenger stages between Napa and Vallejo and intermediate points.

The complaint cites six specific violations of the Public Utilities Act in which Railroad Commission investigators charge that they were passengers on the company stages between the two points after the commission's order to cease the operation of the line had been issued. Each violation carries a penalty of $2000.

Winter Sweeps Into Midwest

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Winter swept into the Middle West today one day ahead of schedule, bringing with it the lowest temperature since last winter and widespread snow flurries.

From a high temperature of 25 degrees here today, the thermometer had tumbled at 7 p.m. to 9 degrees above zero, and Weather Bureau forecasters warned that it would go still lower before morning. At 7 p.m., the thermometer at Madison, Wis., read 2 degrees above and at Milwaukee 6 degrees.

Portes Gil Will Welcome Aliens

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 20. (AP)—President Portes Gil says that the doors of Mexico will be open to honest foreigners coming to the country to invest capital and exploit the natural resources under the protection of Mexican laws.

Writing to A. B. Lloyd, an American geologist, who is surveying the oil region, the President added that full protection and facilities would be given to capitalists of good faith without any restrictions except that they must obey the laws.

FORMER JUDGE HUNT ADMITTED TO PRACTICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Judge William H. Hunt, who resigned recently as judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, today was admitted to the California bar at a special session of the Supreme Court. Judge Hunt was admitted to practice in South Dakota in 1871, and later in Montana.

KING BATTLES TO SAVE CROWN

Amanullah in Kabul Citadel Fighting Desperately

News of Afghan Situation Excites Moscow

Britain's Hand in Movement Declared Sighted

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Times]

MOSCOW, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Great excitement has been caused here by the latest news from Afghanistan which shows Amanullah fighting desperately for his throne in his citadel in the Afghan capital, Kabul. For three days radio communication with Russian frontier posts has been broken and sentiment here is pessimistic as the result of messages from London that Kabul is in the hands of the rebels with Amanullah and his queen in flight. It appears that the citadel radio station—which was a gift from Russia and operated by Russian experts, was deprived of power but now is running on current supplied by automobile motors.

Tonight's reports make it possible to form a picture of recent events. To suppress the Shinwari revolt, Amanullah summoned his forces from all over the country to the capital. They included tribesmen from Kugistan, in the northern section of the country on the road between Herat and Kabul. These tribesmen unexpectedly joined the rebels and seized a large part of the Afghan capital. Amanullah still holds the citadel and fighting is in progress for the aerodrome and power station and the hill of Bagiball, all of which apparently is in the hands of the rebels but is subject to a vigorous attack from the royal troops.

BRITISH HAND SEEN

Although Moscow is convinced that English intrigue is behind the uprising the fact announced in today's dispatches that government troops are being rushed to the capital from Kandahar, which is near the southern frontier opposite the English military center Quetta, would seem to imply that the Afghan authorities do not fear English intervention.

On the other hand the Russians publish the text of a proclamation dropped from British airplanes upon Kabul as proof "that the British now are ready for transition from the underground work in organizing plots and uprisings to open intervention for which they apparently consider ground has been prepared."

The text of the proclamation as given here runs as follows:

"To the friendly, grave and religious Afghan people: You will know England is an old friend and well-wisher of the Afghan people and has always favored its progress and prosperity. As long as English missions in Kabul, Jalallabad, Kandahr and Ewma are unmolested and receive respect England will not intervene in internal affairs. If, however, there are acts of violence against the British missions or personnel, you are hereby warned that the English government will take all measures to compensate for any kind of injury inflicted upon personnel or property of its missions and Consulates."

PROOF LACKING

There is no proof of the authenticity of this document which sounds much more like what the anti-religious—that is Amanullah's—faction in Afghanistan would think the English might write than what the English really would write so it is given here for what it is worth. Whatever truth is in this point there is no doubt that the most important factor in the Afghan situation is the struggle between Amanullah and the influence of the religious elements, or Mullahs, which is rather curious because one of the barriers to the full development of Russo-Afghan friendship always has been the shelter given by Afghanistan to fugitive Mullahs from Bokhara, Khiva and other sections of soviet central Asia.

Georgia Planter Sought as Killer

COMMERCE (Ga.) Dec. 20. (AP)—H. O. Williford, 63 years of age, cotton factor and member of a prominent Georgia family, was sought today in connection with the slaying of Bud Haggard, 61, Jackson county farmer.

Search for Williford was authorized by the Coroner's jury which probed the death of Haggard, whose body was found on a farm Saturday with a bullet wound in the head. Haggard had sold Williford several bales of cotton Saturday, but the $850 he received in payment was missing.

FLYING PARSON MADE REAL AIR MAIL PILOT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Rev. Theophilus Lee, Jr., a Methodist preacher, became a full-fledged air mail pilot today when Postmaster-General New approved his application to fly with the mail between Los Angeles and Seattle. Mr. Lee already had the right to call himself a flying parson, having a transport license from the Department of Commerce. He recently has been pastor of Wesley Church in San Francisco.

FINAL COUNT SHOWS STRENGTH OF MANIU

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Dec. 20. (AP)—Final count of the votes for elections to the Rumanian Senate was completed today. The Peasants' party obtained 168 seats, the Liberals, 36; prelates of all creeds, 21; Hungarian minorities, 6, and independents, 3.

The party of Juliu Maniu, new Prime Minister, thus has an overwhelming majority in both houses, enabling it to pass any legislation that it agrees upon.

NONAGENARIAN SUCCUMBS

YOSEMITE, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Cordelia Wright, 99 years of age, of 1936 Thousand Oaks, Berkeley, died here last night after a lingering illness. The body was taken to that city today by her grandson, George M. Wright.

Passion Play Principals Put on Fist Fight

DENVER, Dec. 20. (AP)—The brothers who play the parts of Christ and Judas in the Freiburg Players' passion play, and the wife of one of them who plays the part of Mary, engaged in a battle royal here today which ended only with the arrival of the police.

Professional jealousy on the part of George Fassnacht, Judas, who did not like the way "Christ," Adolph Fassnacht, acted portions of his role, was ascribed by the officers as the reason for the fight. George was said to have struck Adolph, knocking his head through a window in the box office of the City Auditorium. Elsa Fassnacht, who plays the part of the Magdalene and in private life is the wife of Adolph, screamed and attempted to aid her spouse, and then the police arrived.

Woman Facing Life Sentence Mute in Court

LANSING (Mich.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Etta Miller, recently convicted of a fourth liquor-law violation, a felony under Michigan law, stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered for her today when she was arraigned on a charge of being an habitual criminal.

Under the new Michigan Criminal Code conviction of four felonies makes a life sentence mandatory.

Counsel for Mrs. Miller demanded a jury trial, a precedent in such cases in this State. Circuit Judge Collingwood, who presided when the woman was convicted of the fourth liquor-law violation, set the trial for the 31st inst.

Ex-Pastor Gets Term in Prison

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Arthur Clowe Baer, 40 years of age, former Methodist minister at Livingston, Mont., pleaded guilty in Federal court here today to violation of the Mann Act and was sentenced to thirteen months in McNeil Island prison.

Baer was arrested here October 13, last, charged with bringing Irene Renois, Milwaukee (Wis.) waitress, to Portland. Baer's attorney told the court there had been a reconciliation between Baer and his wife, who is living in Seattle with Baer's six children.

When she caused Baer's arrest Irene Renois told officers he performed a fake marriage ceremony on their arrival here last July. Baer acting both as bridegroom and minister, telling her that as a minister he had authority to do this.

Ensenada Road to be Built Soon

MEXICALI, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Contracts for the construction of a sixty-mile paved highway connecting Tia Juana with Ensenada in Lower California probably will be let during January, according to Gov. Rodriguez today. The Governor returned last week from Mexico City, where he attended the inauguration of President Portes Gil.

The proposed highway is to be operated as a toll road, according to Gov. Rodrigues. "The cost will be more than $2,000,000, and as neither the Federal government nor the Territorial government can spare that sum from their treasuries at the present time, it has been decided to let a toll concession to private construction companies," Rodriguez said.

Owner Recovers Fortune in Gems

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Jewels valued at $60,000 which were lost Monday by B. F. Johnson of Rye, N. Y., president of the United Sugar Company of Los Mochis, Mex., were turned today to the insurance company today by officials of the Yellow Cab Company. They were found by a driver who transported the Johnson luggage from a hotel to a railroad station.

The cab driver, Fred C. Lewis, thought the bag containing the jewels held toilet articles. When he was unable to locate the owner at the railroad station he turned his cab in for the night, tossed the bag on top of a locker and went home.

AIR-LINE PLANS LAID

Dates for Launching of Foreign Route Set By New

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Definite dates for the beginning of operation of three foreign air-mail routes, two of which constitute first steps toward establishment of air service to South America, were announced by Postmaster-General New today. The Pan-American Airways, Inc., is the contractor on each of the routes.

The three routes are: Miami, Fla., to Nassau, Bahama Islands, one way, beginning January 2; Miami to San Juan, P. R., via Havana, Cuba and Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, triweekly service, both ways, beginning January 9, and Miami to Cristobal, Canal Zone, and back, temporarily bimonthly, beginning January 11.

SHERIFF WHO QUIT AND CHANGED MIND UPHELD

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—L. O. McKelley, who resigned in May as Sheriff of Lake county and then rescinded his resignation, still is in office, according to the findings of facts returned today to the District Appellate Court by Judge Preston of Ukiah, referee. Judge Preston's findings are accompanied by a petition for a writ of mandate compelling the auditor of Lake county to pay to McKelley, the Sheriff's salary, dating from May until he vacates the office.

MYERS RESIGNS FEDERAL POST

Trade Commissioner to Rule Film Independents

Resignation Accepted by President Coolidge

Attention Won as Champion in Booking Fight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Abram F. Myers resigned today as chairman of the Federal Trade Commission to go with the independent motion-picture exhibitors as a "legal adviser." Current gossip is to the effect he will become "czar" of the independents along the same lines that Will H Hays, former Postmaster-General, serves the Motion Picture Producers' and Distributors' Association.

The resignation was accepted by President Coolidge on condition Myers would continue to serve until several cases pending before the commission are disposed of.

This Myers agreed to do, although he said in his letter to the President that he wished to be relieved as soon as the President found it convenient.

The developments today confirmed a dispatch to the Los Angeles Times last night stating that Myers would resign for a post with the independent motion-picture exhibitors whose cause in the "block-booking" controversy he has espoused.

Myers is leaving the commission at a time when it is doubtful he could be confirmed by the Senate for reappointment. He became involved in a dispute with the Senate Judiciary Committee during its inquiry into the consent decree between the Department of Justice and the Ward Baking Company to terminate antitrust litigation involving the Continental Baking Corporation. Myers, while in the Department of Justice negotiated the decree and the case has been under fire ever since in Congress.

Myers has been serving for several months under a recess appointment and there has been considerable speculation as to whether President Coolidge would send his name to the Senate again.

ROADS ASK FULL RULE OF EXPRESS

Contract Submitted to Interstate Body Offering Better Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Under terms of a contract submitted today to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval, railroads after March 1, 1929, would assume complete control of all express service in the United States.

The plan presented was drafted by the Association of Railway Executives under supervision of a special committee of railroad presidents, including W. B. Storey, of the Santa Fe, W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania, P. E. Crowley, of the New York Central, and Carl R. Gray, of the Union Pacific. It involves, the petition to the commission said, "substantially the same method as now followed," in express service, except that the railroads would pool earnings and organize the Railway Express Agency, Inc. to take over all property of the American Railway Express Company and such other express facilities as are deemed advisable.

The express agency would share its earnings with all carriers in proportion to the amount of business they handle over it. It would be completely owned by the railroads composing the Association of Railway Executives, but all other carriers desiring to do so would be admitted to participate in its earnings in accordance with their traffic volume.

The plan, in the opinion of the petition expressed, "will better service and not unduly restrain competition." The project for pooling earnings, however, requires specific permission of the commission before it can be put into effect. Ownership of American Railway Express stock has already been acquired.

San Francisco Attorney Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Leo H. Sussman, one of the founders of the San Francisco Law School, former Assemblyman and for several years general counsel for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, is dead here. He succumbed last night at 49 years of age after a short illness and funeral services are to be conducted tomorrow.

He entered the law department of the California Gas and Electric Corporation in a minor capacity in 1904 and rose until he headed the department for the successor of that company, the Pacific Gas and Electric.

JAPAN TO FACE RECORD BUDGET

Imperial Parliament Will Open Monday

Premier Tanaka's Ministry Faces Battle

Session First Held Under New Electoral Law

TOKIO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The largest budget in the history of Japan was announced today by the government. It will be presented at the coming Diet, which will hold its first regular session on the 24th inst.

The budget for the fiscal year 1929-30 totals 1,753,000,000 yen (approximately $806,380,000) representing an increase over the current year of 43,700,000 yen. The budget for the navy calls for 268,000,000 yen, an increase of 5,600,000, and for the army 223,000,000 yen, an increase of 7,700,000.

CONFLICT SEEN

The Diet, which will convene next Monday, is the first national Parliament elected under Japan's new manhood suffrage law. Bitter political conflict is expected to center on the empire's relations with China and on domestic tax issues.

Some political observers believe the life of Premier Baron Tanaka's Cabinet, which has been in power since April, 1927, will depend on its ability to weather this storm without defeat on any major question. The government enters the conflict with a small numerical advantage in the House of Representatives over its avowed opposition, but the margin is so slight that a ministerial defeat is always possible.

This is the fifty-sixth session of the Imperial Diet, as the Parliament is called, since its foundation in 1890. The present House of Representatives was elected February 21, 1928, in the first universal manhood suffrage election.

ELECTORATE HEAVY

Under the new law, promulgated in 1925, all male Japanese of 25 years of age or over may vote, making the total electorate 12,000,000, as against 3,000,000 under the old restricted franchise law. The newly elected Legislature already has met once, but only in brief extraordinary session last spring to vote funds for the Emperor's enthronement.

The two chambers—House of Peers, hereditary and appointive, and House of Representatives, elective—meet for organization the 24th inst. The following day will be a holiday, not because it is Christmas, which is not a holiday in non-Christian Japan, but because it is the second anniversary of the death of the late Emperor, Yoshihito, and the formal opening ceremonies, with the Emperor present, will take place the 26th inst. Thereafter there will be a long recess for the new year holidays, and the Diet will not get down to real work until about January 20.

...LIFORNIA SQUAD REACHES PASADENA TODAY

BULWARKS OF THE CALIFORNIA FOOTBALL TEAM

Mello Whips Vince Dundee

BOSTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Al Mello, rugged Lowell welterweight, gave Vince Dundee of Baltimore a decisive beating here tonight in the feature ten-round bout of the all-star boxing show at the Boston Garden. Mello led in each of the ten rounds and richly deserved the decision.

TECHMEN EN ROUTE FOR GAME

Ramblin' Wrecks Set Out for Scene of Battle With Golden Bears

ATLANTA (Ga.) Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—At 4:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon thirty-one players of the football squad of the Georgia School of Technology and a host of coaches, advisers, faculty members, trainers, managers and newspaper experts entrained here and began the transcontinental journey which on New Year's Day will bring the Golden Tornado face to face with the Golden Bear of the University of California for the intercollegiate football championship of the nation.

Departure was made from the Terminal Station over the rails of the Southern Railroad. This road will take the football warriors to Birmingham and on to New Orleans. Again the road is changed and the Southern Pacific will carry the team through the vast empire of Texas through the romantic regions of New Mexico into the sunbaked deserts of Arizona and on to the sunny hills of California and the Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

The Tech party occupied two Pullmans and will travel almost without stop to Pasadena, arriving there Sunday night in ample time for the crusaders to become thoroughly at home in their novel surroundings in the Vista Del Arroyo Hotel before Christmas Day.

Eastern Squad Practices for Gridiron Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Hard practice was the order of the day in the camps of the teams which will meet the 29th inst. in the annual East-West charity football game.

Andy Kerr, head coach of the eastern squad, selected a first and second eleven and sent the two teams through steady signal drill.

Ends: Sweet, Carnegie Tech; Delp, Penn State.
Tackles: Getto, Pittsburgh; Raskowski, Ohio State.
Guards: Fox, Pittsburgh;

Mayor Beaten by Jim Woods in Golf Tilt

Jim Woods, State Athletic Commissioner, is a better left-handed golfer anyway you take him than His Honor, Mayor Cryer. Woods proved this yesterday to the satisfaction of all concerned when he soundly trounced the chief Magistrate of the city, 4 and 3, at the Los Angeles Country Club in the feature match in the quarter-finals of the second-flight play of the left-handed golfers' tournament which is being staged by the Southern California Golf Association. By virtue of his victory Woods advances into the semi-final round today.

Woods will face H. L. Rosen-

PRICE PLANS WORKOUT FOR THIS AFTERNOON

Golden Bears to Go Through Paces at Tournament Park; 47 Men Due to Don Uniforms

BY BRAVEN DYER

California's Golden Bears, back on the pedestal of popular favor, arrive in Southern California this morning for the purpose of preparing themselves to uphold the honor of the Far West in the annual Tournament of Roses football game which features Georgia Tech on the other side of the battle.

Clarence M. (Nibs) Price is slated to unload his charges at the Glendale station shortly after 9 a.m. California athletes, already in the Southland, will meet the Bears and escort them to the Hotel Huntington, which is to be the official headquarters of the team.

"NIBS" PRICE.

Forty-seven players, the largest contingent even trouped into the Crown City for a Rose Bowl classic, will be in the party this morning. There are already many California gridders in these parts and when Price starts practice this afternoon it is expected that he will have more than fifty athletes under his wing.

WORK AT PARK

The workout is slated for Tournament Park, rather than the Rose Bowl. Price, it is said, desires to work twice daily right up until the day before the game and in order to do this and at the same time give the Golden Tornado a chance to blow around a bit it will be necessary to employ two gridirons.

The Bears had a light workout at Berkeley yesterday afternoon prior to their departure for Pasadena. Most of the players have been very busy with final examinations, and there has been little or no time for practice.

However, Price and his assistants have been carefully going over the scouting report brought back from Atlanta by Brick Mitchell and when the players go into action this afternoon they will have a pretty good idea as to what Georgia Tech has been using during the season.

Before leaving Berkeley, Coach Price intimated that there would be no change in the usual starting line-up, which means that Capt. Irvine Phillips and Russ Avery will handle the ends, Bancroft and Fitz the tackles, Gill and Schwartz the guards, and Capt.-elect Riegels the center position, with Lee Eisan, Benny Lom, Stanley Barr and Charley Schmidt in the backfield.

THIRD TRIP

This is California's third trip to Pasadena to take part in a Tournament of Roses classic, but it is Price's first venture of this kind. Andy Smith brought the Bears here in 1921 to oppose Ohio State. The Berkeley boys sent Ohio State home with plenty to think about, beating the visitors, 28 to 0, in the game which first brought western football to the attention of eastern scribes and coaches.

The following year the Bears were back again, this time to withstand the challenge of Washington and Jefferson. This game ended in a scoreless tie, much to the surprise of western fans, who had come to regard the Bears as invincible.

There have been many lean years since those two games, but this season finds the Bears back in a position of prominence, thanks to the untiring efforts of Price, who has had a mighty tough row to hoe. Undefeated in intercollegiate competition, and boasting ties with Stanford and Southern California, the Bears will go into the game with Georgia Tech either favored to win or else on even-money basis. This is quite a tribute to Price and the team, inasmuch as Georgia Tech hasn't been beaten by anybody and has played no ties. It is probably just as much a tribute to western football as it is to Price and the Bears, but it's a tribute, just the same.

MILLER ARRIVES

Don Miller, assistant Tech coach and former star Notre Dame back, arrived in Pasadena last night accompanied by Frank Speer, Georgia tackle, who will not be able to play in the game. They established Tech headquarters at the Vista del

C.I.F. WON'T BAR PLAYERS WHO TAKE PART IN GAME AT COLISEUM AGAINST TEXANS

The California Interscholastic Federation, while disapproving of the game, will take no action to prevent Southern California high school players from taking part in the intersectional contest with Central High School of Fort Worth, Tex., at the Coliseum one week from tomorrow.

GEORGE ANKELE.

This was indicated yesterday when the organization, meeting here, drew up a resolution reaffirming its previous stand against postseason games. At the same time a resolution was introduced which carried with it the suspension of any players participating in the game. This never came to a vote, however, and the compromise resolution was then passed. It is as follows:

"The C.I.F. reaffirms its stand in opposition to postseason football games. We further disapprove of the participation of any high-school letter men or prospective letter man in any football game which is managed or played under the direction of any other than high-school authorities."

Jack Doyle, Exalted Ruler of the Elks, under whose auspices the intersectional game is to be staged, when told of the C.I.F. meeting and its refusal to pass the resolution asking the suspension of players taking part in the contest, stated that the game was definitely on and that the three days of practice already put in by the locals would therefore not be in vain.

"Naturally, we of the Elks would rather drop the game than get any of the boys in trouble," declared Doyle. "But we thought we were on safe ground for the C.I.F. could not very well discriminate against boys playing football and then not take any action against boys who play basketball or baseball in the off season. Therefore, we went ahead with our arrangements and we are all glad that everything is now straightened out satisfactorily."

The Fort Worth team is rated one of the greatest passing elevens ever developed in the Lone Star State and fans of that region have come to call the Panther backfield, "The Four Magic Aces," because of the ability of the four men to do tricks with the pigskin, particularly on the passes.

Fort Worth is captained by George Ankele, all-city center of that metropolis. He has been laid up for three weeks with injuries, but will be ready to go against the Southern California all-stars a week from tomorrow.

Ben Winkelman, coach of the Panthers, plans to bring twenty-five men with him. The team will arrive either Wednesday or Thursday.

WILLS TO MEET FIRPO

Former Heavyweight Stars Will Clash in Final South American Elimination Bout

ST. THOMAS (Virgin Islands) Dec. 20. (AP)—"Harry Wills, the pugilist, and his manager, Morris, passed through here today en route to Trinidad to fight Luis Firpo."

The news like a voice out of the past that Harry Wills has bobbed up in the Virgin Islands on his way to a battle with the one-time "Wild Bull of the Pampas" caused considerable surprise among boxing followers who have come to look upon this pair of top-notchers of a few years ago as definitely out of the heavyweight picture.

Luis Firpo

Firpo is understood to have been accumulating weight in idleness since he returned to Argentina some time after being knocked out by Jack Dempsey in their memorable battle in 1923. In 1924 Wills met and defeated Firpo at Boyle's Thirty Acres before a crowd of 75,000.

It was learned today that Wills is one of several well-known boxers invading South America for a boxing "elimination tournament" being sponsored by Jose Lecteure, Buenos Aires promoter, who was in New York two months ago seeking talent. If Wills and Firpo meet, it is understood further, it will be in Buenos Aires and in the final round of the tourney as Firpo has been accorded the opportunity of meeting the man who successfully fights his way through.

Roberto Roberti is to go to Buenos Aires from Italy for the bouts while Harry Fay, an American heavyweight, was on his way there for the same purpose, when the Vestris sank and he was rescued. The South American boxers, Campolo and Ferrara, also are in on the free-for-all. Paulino and Jack Renault are now in South America and scheduled for a fight in Colombia.

Although the cable refers to Wills's manager as Morris the New York State Athletic Commission still has Paddy Mullins listed as pilot of the once "Dark Menace."

BIG-HEARTED EMPLOYER BUYS 1800 GRID DUCATS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—When a customer walked in last week and bought 800 tickets to the East-West charity football game here December 29, officials in charge gasped, but when the same man stood up during a luncheon today and ordered 1000 more at $3 per they wilted in their seats. William Joyce of New York, chairman of the executive board of the National Surety Company, is the purchaser. The purposes of the game, a benefit for the Shriner's crippled children's hospital, was so commendable, Joyce said, that he is distributing the tickets to members and customers of his firm. Kezar Stadium seats 60,000 persons so the order takes care of nearly one-thirtieth of its capacity.

JOHNNY RISKO, SHAAF TO MEET IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, today agreed to battle Ernie Schaaf of Boston in a ten-round feature bout at the Boston Garden on the 28th inst. Risko appeared here two weeks ago when he lost a close decision to Jimmy Maloney. Jimmy Byrne, Louisville heavyweight, will meet Phil Mercurio of New York in the ten-round semifinal.

Cowboy Wernie Smith Takes on Bert Colima in Hollywood Main Go Tonight

MIDDLEWEIGHT STARS TANGLE

Mexican Battler Favored in Legion Ten-Rounder

Invader Has Decision Over Sheridan in Record

Semi-Wind-up Features Ray McIntyre, Huerta Evans

One of three middleweight bouts that will determine who is to be recognized as the Pacific Coast middleweight champion will be the main event tonight at the Hollywood American Legion stadium. Cowboy Warnie Smith has come here from Oklahoma looking for action and he is being well taken care of by Manager Tom Gallery of the stadium who has matched him with Bert Colima, local Mexican. Colima is a favorite when he starts at Hollywood and the regulars look to see him beat Smith.

Bert Colima

Only five months ago Warnie Smith beat Homer Sheridan in Kansas. He has been a keen and interested observer of Sheridan's success and he decided that inasmuch as Sheridan has been a big card here, he would come to California and see what he could land in the way of fights. Warnie Smith is well known to eastern fight fans and has fought the best middleweights in the country.

Bert Colima hurt his right hand hitting Joe Cordova on top of the head a few weeks ago. He has been working out for two weeks and feels as though he is ready. In two weeks Homer Sheridan will fight Eddie Gill at Hollywood and the winner of tonight's main event with the winner of the Sheridan-Gill fight would be a natural and unquestionably decide the Coast championship.

When Colima swings into action at the stadium the fans feel as though they will see a fight. Many think Bert has passed the peak of his career and is due for a shellacking one of these fine evenings. Warnie Smith has a chance to make himself a big card in Los Angeles by beating Colima who has ruled the roost here for many years.

A set of preliminaries have been booked to support the Colima-Smith fight that should be colorful. Ray McIntyre, an Irish-Filipino bantamweight, will meet Huerta Evans in the semi-wind-up. McIntyre has fought at Hollywood before and always has been a sensational fighter. Evans is trying to work his way to main events by taking a few shots at the stadium with the hopes he will prove an attraction.

In the special event is Chet Gleason, former Los Angeles Athletic Club amateur, and Joe Noto, a sailor. Chuck Havard fights George Stewart in one four-rounder and Tommy Cleary opens the show battling Vernon Gillette.

LEVY SIGNS LAMAR

Joe Levy, Portland (Or.) matchmaker, yesterday announced the matching of Johnny Lamar, Los Angeles Mexican lightweight, and Lertie (Wildcat) Carter of Seattle, for a ten-round bout in Portland New Year's Day. Levy is here for a few days lining up bouts.

NEW TIGER CAPTAIN

DE HOAG TO LEAD TIGER GRID TEAM

Occidental Football Squad Back from Trip; Letter Men Announced

Graduate Manager Phil Ellsworth of Occidental, just arrived from San Francisco, en route home with the Occidental football eleven from the Hawaiian Islands, who arrived at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, announced the letter men and captain-elect of the Tiger football squad. Ellsworth and Coaches Bill Anderson and Eddie Kienholz selected the lettermen last Monday evening while on board the S.S. Manoa.

The sixteen letter winners who will be awarded gold football emblems for the winning of the Southern Conference championship, selected as the 1929 Bengal grid leader, Alan De Hoag, star left wingman. De Hoag has starred at end for two years at Oxy and his brilliant work in the U.S.C. and other tilts this year brought him honorable mention from many Southland coaches. DeHoag will don his baseball togs soon. He is a twirler supreme, also.

Capt. Johnny Eberhart, fullback; Glenn Roselle, Ward Schweiser and Bud Collier, halfbacks, and Jack Schweiser, quarter, are the backfield letter men. Captain-elect Alan DeHoag, end, and Wendall Smith, end; Gerald Chappelle and Walt Coultas, centers; Schursch and Kilan, guards, and Beebe and Ellsworth, tackles; George Marsh, sub guard, and Johnny Manual, sub end, were also named letter winners. Dave Wright, manager, will receive a gold emblem.

Coach Eddie Kienholz, now done with the grid duties which he assumed this year for the first time, will take up basketball duties this afternoon. He led the cagemen of last year to a tie for the championship with Whittier, and with considerable talent on hand this season, expects to capture that title. The players themselves will be split between basketball, track and baseball.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

"ALL, HAIL, CALIFORNIA"

LITTLE Nibs Price rolls into Pasadena this morning with the first California team that has come south to play in a New Year's Day football game for seven long years.

A lot of water has slipped over the falls in that span. The Bears who will represent California a week from Tuesday were high-school punks in 1921. Andy Smith, coach of the eleven that battled W. and J. to a 0-0 tie, has passed to his Maker. His chief assistant, little Nibs Price, is the boss now.

And little Nibs has just come into his own this year. For two seasons after he succeeded to Smith's job it was a heart-rending task, rebuilding from the wreckage of the collapsed "Wonder Teams."

The "Wonder Teams" were great, but they closed the eyes of California supporters to the fact that there was a future. Restocking the athletic roster was overlooked in the general excitement over the play of the "Wonder Teams." The alumni, generally diligent in the search of talent, were dulled by the continuous stream of victories.

And then came the day of reckoning. Football at California collapsed like a punctured toy balloon. California, the pride of the Coast, became the laughing stock.

California failed to win a single conference game in 1926. It was Nibs Price's first year as head football coach. And it was not a pleasant year for him.

Came 1927 and two conference victories for California and respectable scores for the Bears against their two biggest rivals—Stanfod and Southern California. It was better for little Nibs, but he was still on trial.

Came 1928—no conference defeats and tie games with the powerful Stanford and Southern California teams. Sunshine and roses for Nibs and a chance for his team to perform before one of the most colorful and critical audiences in the world—a New Year's crowd at Pasadena.

Out of the depths into the clear. And little Nibs deserves a big cheer. He has worked hard for what he got.

THE W. AND J. GAME

THE arrival of the 1928 Bears today naturally brings up memories of the 1921 Bears.

The eleven that played a scoreless tie with W. and J. was an odds-on favorite to beat the Presidents. It numbered Brick Muller, Charley Erb, Dan McMillan, Crip Toomey, Archie Nisbet, Duke Morrison, etc., in its line-up. But in spite of these all-stars it was lucky to emerge with an untarnished escutcheon.

W. and J. scored on a 35-yard run by Brenkert. W. and J. half, but the play was nullified because a man who did not figure in the play one way or the other was offside at the instant the ball was snapped.

The California that team faces Georgia Tech won't be an odds-on favorite, which may be an omen of victory. The Bears are an even money bet—and that's all. And that's as much as little Nibs Price wants them to be, maybe more.

The 1928 California team hasn't the great galaxy of individual stars possessed by the 1921 aggregation. Benny Lom is the Archie Nisbet of his day, but when you begin comparing individuals the edge favors the old-timers. But the 1928 California team is a good team. It has unity. And that what's made the Bears successful this season, also the Trojans.

California has a splendid line—from end to end, tackle to tackle, guard to guard, and the boys thought well enough of Roy Riegels at center to make him captain-elect.

Coach Howard Jones of Southern California says the Bear line was one of the strongest the Trojans played against this year, and any good coach will tell you a powerful line is the quickest way of getting to first base.

The 1928 Bears may suffer slightly by comparison with the 1921 bunch as far as luminaries are concerned, but the disadvantage ceases right there. They can take care of themselves in any company. They have proved it all year.

POOR OLD "STRANGLER!"

IT HAS been a good old year for Ed "Strangler" Lewis, but it also will be a prosperous new one for the bulky heavyweight mat champion.

He goes East tonight to prepare for a bout with "Flying Tackle" Sonnenberg, the former Dartmouth football hero.

This is to be held in the new Madison Square Garden of Boston, January 4, at $2 to $10 prices, and the probabilities are for a $100,000 house.

The two met earlier in the year at the old arena—half the size of the Garden—and filled the house at $1 to $5 for a $40,000 gate.

This is hard for the "Strangler" to take, but he promises to get over the shock and return to Los Angeles along in February for a title match with the old champion, Joe Stecher.

This is being brewed by "Carnation Lou" Daro, who wound up the year with a whale of an all-around show at the Olympic the other night—a show that grossed something like $15,000—twice as much as any fight card has attracted around here for a long time.

WARD BREAKS ISLAND MARK

Brentwood Player Smashes Catalina Record

Martin Also Hangs Up New Golfing Figure

Cooper did not find the course much to their liking. Loos was the only one to break par with a 30, Hutchison equaled par with a 32, Hunter shot a 36 and Cooper putted two greens for a 37. All, however, should get the range tomorrow.

MUCH TROUBLE

From all indications the 245-yard second hole will be the graveyard of many. The fairway, which climbs abruptly up from the tee and then fades away in a slight dog-leg to the left, has already caused considerable trouble. Loos and Cooper were both out of bounds this afternoon and took a pair of 5's for the hole, one over par.

So far the tendency has been to overshoot the greens. Long hitters have no advantage on the Catalina course, where six out of the nine greens can be reached in 1. The longest hole is 325 yards from tee to cup.

At the present moment it looks that the most accurate golfer with his irons and putter will win the tournament.

In order to speed up the tournament, twenty-seven holes will be played tomorrow, twenty-seven Saturday and the final eighteen Sunday morning. Low forty-eight and tied will qualify for the final thirty-six holes.

While the better-known pros, such as Espinosa, Ed Dudley, Charlie Guest, Cotton, Hancock and a number of others are the favorites, don't be surprised if one of Southern California's favorite sons cops the tournament.

STEVENS SHINES

Tom Stevens of the California Country Club had a 39 for eighteen holes in practice today and appears to be "hot." Fay Coleman, Southern California amateur champion, also of California, was playing excellent golf, although he did not turn in a score for nine holes.

Squirrel D'Arpe, Catalina Island champion; Roy Tufts, San Diego, and Sam Gayer, Chicago pro, will be the first to tee off tomorrow morning at 11:30.

The feature threesome composed of Walter Hagen, Leonard Schmutte, noted Ohio pro, and Charlie (Bean) Guest will get away at 11:36.

CAGERS POINT FOR CLASH

Mercury and Bruin Fives in Top Shape for Game Tomorrow Night at L.A.A.C. Gym

Pointed basketball teams of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the University of California at Los Angeles are on edge for their game that will be played at the Mercury gymnasium tomorrow evening.

Both teams have been through intensive workouts this week and both Coaches Caddy Works of the Bruins and Stan Josephs of the Mercuries will be able to start their strongest line-ups. The club quintet put a stop to the early season winning streak of the university boys last year and Josephs has his squad primed to do the same thing tomorrow.

In three games to date the Bruins have turned in impressive victories over Pomona and La Verne colleges, old Southern Conference rivals, and the Hollywood Athletic Club.

Josephs has announced that he will start a line-up consisting of Laswell and Alman, forwards; Geoglien, center, and McBurney and Parker, guards. Works will probably start off with Linthicum and Wilds, forwards; Geoglien, center, and Capt. Balter and Baker, guards.

The return to the game of Laswell and Olney, old-time Mercury stars, has bolstered up the club team, giving Coach Josephs two old heads to rely upon in the pinches. Olney won't start the game, but it's a cinch the rangy center will see plenty of action.

The game starts off an extensive campaign for the club quintet, which will meet U.S.C. and Brigham Young University of Utah before the opening of the Big Six program of the A.A.U. early next month. The Trojan game will be played at the Olympic Auditorium January 5, next.

Ervast Takes Border Event

TIA JUANA, Dec. 20.—Ervast, owned by Baron Long, San Diego millionaire sportsman, scored his sixth straight victory by winning the Lantana five-furlong handicap today. Jockey Georgie Woolf was aboard and the San Diego-bred two-year-old scorched the track in 58 4-5. The Tartar carrying the colors of C. Carroll, was second, and George Cochran's Nusakan was third. Miss Parsons's Quick Return accounted for the Acacia handicap, secondary feature. C. B. Irwins's Riprap was second. Results.

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Louis Rubenstern, 105 (Critchfield,) won; Frank Sumpter, 108 (Garrity,) second; Knighthood, 107 (Dunlap,) third. Time, 1:07 4-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Rock of Ages, 106 (Pierd,) won; Kalko, 112 (Jones,) second; Heap Wampas, 105, (Owen,) third. Time, 1:08 2-5.

Third race, clubhouse course—Woodgate, 112 (Parmelee,) won; Don Fernando, 106 (Ambrose,) second; Shasta Cherry, 98 (Trivett,) third. Time, 1:34 3-5.

Fourth race, mile and one-eighth—Revillon, 108 (Woolf,) won; Proletaire, 104 (Neal,) second; Penrah, 107 (Fiser,) third. Time, 1:55 4-5.

Sixth race, one mile—Quick Return, 108 (Butler,) won; Rip Rap, 110 (Martinez,) second; Jack Alexander, 113 (Cress,) third. Time, 1:39 4-5.

Seventh race, six furlongs—Red Pennant, 106 (Douglas,) won; Leo Lamps, 106 (Pierd,) second; Little Broom, 104 (Trimble,) third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Eighth race, mile and seventy yards—Serenader, 112 (Snider,) won; Cyclonic, 110 (Murfurd,) second; Home Fire, 102 (Leishman,) third. Time, 1:44 2-5.

French Launch Plan for New Tennis Zoning

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—Dividing the Davis Cup competition into three zones—Northern and Southern European, and American—was the proposal put forward by the French Tennis Federation today and transmitted to all the nations entered, a two-thirds vote being necessary to put the change into effect.

The Northern European section would comprise Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Holland, Germany, Poland, Belgium and Britain. In the Southern European group would be Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Hungary, Greece, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

Nations outside of Europe electing to compete in a European zone could select either northern or southern. The two countries qualifying in these zones would play each other to decide the European champion.

GAZELL ARELEASED TO NEWARK OUTFIT

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mike Gazella, for three years utility infielder of the New York Yankees, today was released to the Newark club of the International League. Gazella, a former football star at Lafayette University, was signed by the Yankees in 1923 and spent two seasons with Atlanta and Minneapolis before returning to New York.

EASTERN GRID MEN WORK OUT

Thompson, Lafayette.
Center: Aschman, Washington and Jefferson.
Quarterback: Harpster, Carnegie Tech.
Halfbacks: Weston, Boston College; Guest, Lafayette.
Fullback: Howell, Nebraska.

Observers were particularly impressed with the kicking and passing of Harpster. Slight of build, but powerful of toe, the ace of this year's Carnegie Tech team sent the ball spinning for fifty-five and sixty-yard rides at will.

The second team, watched over by Dick Hanley of Northwestern, lined up as follows: Ends, Haycraft, Minnesota; Johnson, Northwestern. Tackles: Nowack, Illinois, Wagner, Wisconsin. Guards: Gibson, Minnesota; McMullen, Nebraska. Center: Mitchell, Bucknell. Quarter, Levisan, Northwestern. Halfbacks: Bennett, Indiana; Letzelter, Carnegie Tech. Walter Holmer, Northwestern, who is slated for the fullback berth, will arrive on Saturday.

The western team turned out today under Head Coach Orin E. Hollingbery of Washington State College. It was the first time the squad has been grouped. Most of the workout was confined to tossing the ball around and kicking. A number of formations and signals also were discussed. Heavy practice for the westerners will get under way tomorrow, while on the same day the eastern squad will go to Stanford University to finish training.

ARMY FOOTBALL STAND CRITICISED BY SOLON

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) Dec. 20. (AP)—West Point's eligibility rules in football, which kept the Army from meeting Navy this year on the gridiron, were criticised here last night by Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., as "undemocratic and unsportsmanlike."

The criticism, made by the one-time-all-American Harvard tackle at the Eastman College football dinner, was coupled with the hope that West Point "would step down" from its position and permit the two service teams to resume their annual football game.

GOLDEN BEARS ARRIVE TODAY

Arroyo. The Golden Tornado arrives Sunday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

This morning Price and Bear officials will be hosts to newspaper men at a golf tournament to be played over the course of the Pasadena Country Club, the play to be followed by a luncheon.

The following players are slated to arrive with Price this morning: Ends, Avery, Phillips, Norton Thornton, Brown and Von Tagen; tackles, Bancroft, Fitz, Timmerman, Dennis, Werdell, Williamson, Quinomez, Eldering and Hansen; guards, Gill, Koch, Schwartz, Lindgren, Beckett, Handy, Pitto, Watson, Bican and Tandy; centers, Riegels, Miller, Emde and Eckmeyer; quarters, Eisan, Breckenridge, Peart and Bruno; halves, Lom, Barr, Newman, Clymer, Garrity, Schlicting, Lane, Ewing, Rice, Seeley and Hickingbotham; fullbacks, Schmidt, Cockburn and Gill.

MAYOR BEATEN BY JIM WOODS

bery in one match and Max Green of Glendale will play M. Schlank in the other match on the program. The winners will meet in the final round Saturday.

The semifinal round of the championship flight in the tournament will also be staged today at the Los Angeles Country Club. Roy Palmer of Rancho tackles E. N. Wright of Pasadena and E. L. Doty encounters George "Rube" Ellis of Hacienda. They were returned victorious in quarter-final matches yesterday.

COMPTON JAYSEES LOSE

Compton Junior College basketball five dropped a game last night to the Gem Vikings of San Pedro. The score was 38-21. Tesone starred for the Compton team while Walker and Loffstrom stood out on the club five. Walker was high-point man with 12 points, while Loffstrom was a close second with nine digits to his credit.

Henry Cotton Has Brilliant Career So Far

Young Henry Cotton, British pro who took third in the Sacramento open and who has entered the fourth annual Los Angeles $10,000 open golf tournament to be held at Riviera on January 11-12-13, deserted a prospective career as a civil engineer to become a professional golfer.

Cotton, now making his initial appearances on California fairways, three years ago was an engineering student in London, Eng. With his brother, Leslie, he took the wild plunge into the sea of professional golf. He met with almost immediate success. In 1926, at St. Andrews, the young star was the only Britisher to stick with the cyclonic Bobby Jones more than two rounds. He was eliminated by the Atlantan during the third circuit. Last spring, playing in the British professional championship contest, he reached the finals, losing, after a remarkable display of courage, to Charles Whitcombe. Whitcombe scored six birdies in ten holes to vanquish the 21-year-old contender.

At Sacramento last week, Cotton finished the seventy-two-hole grind in 296 strokes, bowing only to Armour and Golden. In that tournament, he established himself in the rank and file of the American army of fairway professionals.

How Golf Star Differs From Mere Dub Told

BY SOL METZGER

Seems foolish, doesn't it, to explain the difference between a dub and star golfer? Everyone knows. But their answer concerns the results, not causes.

Mike Brady, the fine-playing pro of the Winged Foot Club, where next year's open championship is to be held, tells me that this difference in results is brought about by methods of play. From his long experience in teaching and in playing he has come to this conclusion:

The main reason why a golfer is a dub is because he tightens his body during a stroke in his effort to hit hard and thus slices the ball. The star has overcome this fault of tightening the body and slicing is a rare fault during his rounds. But under pressure he often hooks a shot. The reason for this is that in his anxiety to gain distance he tightens his arms.

All of this means a lot to the average golfer if he will but consider the matter. His best remedy for a quick graduation from continual bad rounds is to ease up with the body in stroking the ball. Straighter shots will result slices will soon disappear. Tomorrow—How Mitchell gets a straight drive.

Inability to make approach shots hold the green add several strokes to one's score. Sol Metzger's leaflet, "The Art of Pitching," will enable you to cut down your score. Send stamped addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and secure a copy.

TECH GRIDMEN EN ROUTE WEST

kins, sporting editor of the Atlanta Constitution; Ed Danforth, sporting editor of the Atlanta Georgian, and Morgan Blake, sporting editor of the Atlanta Journal.

The following football players are making the trip, charged with upholding the football honor of Georgia Tech, Georgia and Dixie:

Capt. Peter Pund, Rusk and Law, centers; Drennon, Westbrook, Brock, Keener, Muse, Edwards, guards; Watkins, Thrash, Maree, Holt, tackles; Waddy, Holland, Jones, Herron, VonWelte, Brumby, ends; Durant, Shullman, Smith, quarters; Misell, Thomason, Dunlap, Faisst, Parham, halves; Lumpkin, Randolph, Fitzgerald, Luna, fullbacks.

These athletes had their final workout Wednesday afternoon at Grant Field. Coach Alexander kept them at it hammer and tongs until pitch nightfall. The well-won sweaters of gold with the great white "T" were distributed and rules and regulations announced to govern their conduct on the trip. The football players will lead a more or less spartan existence on the long train trip. They will arise from their berths by 7 o'clock, breakfast, have two hours of bridge or lounging, attend a football lecture, study formations, lunch, more bridge and lounging, more lectures and study, dinners, relaxation and beds.

SHARKEY AND RICKARD TALK BUSINESS TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP) — A definite agreement between Tex Rickard and Jack Sharkey concerning the Boston fighter's match with young Stribling, planned for Miami, Fla., in February, is on the schedule for tomorrow. The promoter announces that Sharkey and his manager, Johnny Buckley, are due tomorrow to talk business and that he expects his original plan to hold the bout February 26 will go through.

UNION OIL ICE HOCKEY TEAM WINS

The Union Oil Ice hockey team scored a 3-to-2 victory over the Clan Scot outfit at the Palais de Glace last night. Mason, B. Haydn and Swindells scored the goals for the winners, while Robertson and Crouch tallied for the losers.

CUE STARS TO CLASH AGAIN

Greenleaf, Taberski Hook Up on Billiard Table

Old Rivalry Flares Up With Protested Contest

Champion Never Has Lost in Title Tournaments

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The wrangling over who shall wear the first world's pocket-billiard crown may be decided tomorrow night when Ralph Greenleaf, national champion, and Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., former national titleholder, replay their disputed game that brought the tournament to an abrupt close yesterday.

Greenleaf needs only one victory to clinch the title, while a victory for Taberski would throw the championship into a tie between the two ranking experts. Greenleaf won his first two games of the tournament, while Taberski dropped a game to Pasquale Natalie of Baltimore after defeating Erwin Rudolph of Chicago.

The Greenleaf-Taberski row, which ended when Taberski refused to continue play and demanded a forfeit, climaxes twelve years of intense rivalry between the two. They competed in their first national tournament in 1916 when Greenleaf was only 17 years of age. With the exception of a few months in scattered years they have held the national pocket title between them since their first meeting.

While having never won a tournament, Taberski has the record of never losing a match game, defeating Greenleaf several times for the crown. In contrast, the 28-year-old champion has never lost a tournament, but has relinquished his title in challenge matches during the year.

Taberski yesterday demanded a forfeit on the grounds that Greenleaf had left the playing area twice in their game whereas he can leave but once according to the rules. He had previously protested when both Greenleaf and Referee Joe Orr of Chicago called an obvious two-ball combination shot incorrectly. The tournament committee upheld Referee Orr in the first protest, but ruled he had erred in permitting Greenleaf to leave the table twice and that Taberski had grounds for a protest.

Millionaires Down Oilers

The Hollywood Millionaires won their seventh straight game in the California Ice Hockey League last night, defeating the Los Angeles Richfield Oilers, 3 to 1. The Millionaires scored in every period, while the Oilers' score came in the last frame, from the stick of Jack Lawrence, and brought a lot of razzberries from the fans, who thought there was no goal.

Darrell Wells scored the opening tally in the first period and Dave Smith duplicated on a pass from Ward in the next frame. Warren took the puck on a pass from Peltier in the last period. The defence work of Tommy Carrigan, star Hollywood goalie, again was the feature of the game.

MAIN-STREET CLUB ADDS TO PROGRAM

A jazz orchestra has been signed by Carlo Curtis as an added novelty for the regular Saturday night's boxing programs at the Main Street Athletic Club. The orchestra will make its debut tomorrow night on the occasion of the Joe Peregrina-Duke Ostrom middleweight battle. Both fighters have kayo records. Peregrina dropped a recent bout to Bobby Near, the sailor, while Ostrom held him to a draw.

WHITE BOXING GLOVES ON TRIAL IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—White boxing gloves, after a two weeks' tryout in Illinois, are still on trial with conflicting opinions regarding their destrability.

"The glove will be given sixty days trial," said Paul Prehn, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, today. Dye in colored gloves is believed harmful.

EXCITING SOCCER TWIN BILL CARDED FOR LOYOLA SUNDAY

The all-star soccer teams selected from the Los Angeles City League and Southern California group for the interleague tussle on Loyola Field Sunday afternoon, point to turn in the closest struggle of the season and the interesting double-header should bring out a large following from both leagues.

The curtain-raiser between Victorias and Spanish Americans should be a hectic tussle with the two teams meeting on foreign soil in a replay of a Southern California League fixture. These two teams are now fighting to get into the lead of their race and Sunday's tilt should be filled with excitement. Referee N. Watson will start the game at 1 o'clock.

The feature game at 3 o'clock should produce fine football besides determining the strength of the respective leagues. The Los Angeles League squad will be strengthened with several players from the Hollywood eleven, these men being unable to make the trip to San Francisco.

Parkinson, of the Movie City team, will look after the center forward position and, being flanked by two of his teammates, should give the home team considerable scoring punch. The visitors' half line of Duff, Cameron and Johnny Tucker will have a big task in stopping the Los Angeles forwards.

The teams will line up as follows: Los Angeles League: Goal, Wathne, Vikings; backs, Thomas and Hawking, Hollywood; halfbacks, Thompson, L.A.A.C., Coopland and Stewart, Hollywood; forwards, Whittingham, McDill, Parkinson, Hollywood; Pearson, L.A.A.C. Reserves, Bruce, Pasadena Athletic and Country Club; Barber, Richfield; Zanick, Magyars; Wright, Scots; Martindale, Magyars; Patrick, Pasadena Athletic and Country Club. Southern California League: Goal, Jacobs, Germania; backs, Fosberg, Scandia; Smith, Santa Monica; Menk, Rovers; J. Close, Caledonians, Buttons, Caledonians; Cooper, Santa Monica; R. Close, Caledonians, Reserves, Dekena, United; James Tucker, Rangers; Woods, Santa Monica; R. Sculi, United.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

LINER VIRGINIA DUE IN SHORTLY

Palatial New Vessel Booked to Arrive Tomorrow

Capacity Passenger List of 800 Persons Aboard

Holds Entirely Filled With 9000 Tons Freight

Intercoastal shipping receives its biggest Christmas gift in the form of the new electric liner Virginia, due at Los Angeles from New York tomorrow. She is slightly the largest, most palatial vessel built in an American yard.

Completed at the Newport News (Va.) yards at a cost of $8,000,000 a month ago as the sister ship of the new California, she is fifteen feet longer, has accommodations for 800 passengers and 9000 tons of cargo, including liberal refrigeration space.

Every cabin and every inch of cargo space is filled in her on the maiden voyage, and she is booked full for several additional voyages westbound. Of the 800 passengers, 150 will disembark at San Diego today, and the rest will be divided almost equally between Los Angeles and San Francisco. The liner will sail from here Sunday forenoon, arriving in the Bay City the morning of the 24th inst.

L. E. Archer, Pacific Coast manager for the line, passed through here with San Francisco newspaper men yesterday, joined by several Los Angeles scribes, to ride the new liner up from San Diego. Aboard her out of New York are A. J. McCarthy, general manager of the line; Capt. Kirkwood H. Donavin, operating manager, and J. Francis McMullin, Pacific Coast exploitation manager. Capt. Henry A. T. Candy, who brought out the new California a year ago, is on her bridge.

A third and similar liner is now under construction at the same yards and will enter the intercoastal run late next year. Tentative plans have been made for the building of three more.

In addition to being the largest and fastest intercoastal liners with the finest accommodations, the vessels are the first to be fitted for quick dispatch of Pacific perishables to the Atlantic seaboard; the California having carried many orange shipments eastward during its year's services and brought back bananas from Panama.

SHIPPING CONFERENCE HEAD COMING TO COAST

Robert C. Thackera, chairman of the intercoastal conference and credited with retaining it intact during the internal conflict raging last month, will leave New York January 10 for a three weeks' survey of this coast. He will stop at San Francisco first, proceeding thence to Los Angeles and then going to the North Pacific.

Why housewives still believe in Santa Claus. Several hundred new washing machines arrived from the East Coast yesterday on the American Hawaiian freighter Iowan. The vessel also dropped 2000 tons of automobiles, soap and Egyptian cotton for mixing with local fiber in tires. The Kansan of the same line today will take out 3000 tons of copper, hides, beans and wool for the North Atlantic.

Capt. W. H. Wilder, formerly of the Kekoskee, went out as master of the Richfield tanker Pat Doheny yesterday with 78,000 barrels of gasoline for New York. Capt. Alsager, former mate on the Larry Doheny, takes the bridge of the Kekoskee. The Texas Company tanker Helen Vinmont went out for Tocopilla with 96,000 barrels of fuel oil yesterday on another trip charter to Chile Steamship Company.

Capt. Francois Bougouin, formerly on the Georgie and the Montana, was on the bridge of the Arizona, arriving from Europe yesterday on her first trip for the French Line since transferring to French from British registry. She is dropping 1500 tons of pipe, steel and rags. He said the first of the four new motorships will be out here in June.

Another pre-Christmas liner making her first appearance here will be the El Salvador, due the 24th inst., from New York to enter the intercoastal service for the Panama Mail Line. She will have 150 passengers and her capacity of freight. Capt. Henry Stephenson, a veteran of the Grace Line, commands her. The liner is a sister ship of the Guatemala, both diverted to this run from the New York-South American service.

The Guatemala is due tomorrow from San Francisco to take on additional passengers and freight, and sail that night for Central America and New York. Carlisle Thorpe, president of the California Walnut Growers' Association and Mrs. Thorpe will embark here for New York.

Others sailing from here are Mrs. Amanda Salazar, wife of a former diplomat of Nicaragua, returning home with her two daughters, and A. L. Drowns, Santa Paula agriculturist and wife.

Several other modern tank motorships will follow the Atlantic Tankers' carrier Skagarrak here yesterday on her first visit, according to Capt. Frederick Duus, master. The Skagarrak left last night with 60,000 barrels of gasoline for United Kingdom. She was completed in Danzig in November and is 411 feet long, of 8600 tons deadweight, and powered with a Sulzer Diesel of 2800 horsepower, giving a loaded speed of twelve and one-half knots.

Shell Company of California will be known as Shell Oil Company after January 1, according to instructions sent shipping agencies yesterday.

Air-mail service between Mexico City and the important mining center of Metehuala has just been inaugurated.

Increase in Net Anticipated for Steel Concerns

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Wall street is anticipating increased earnings among the steel companies for the current quarter, as compared with the third quarter of this year and the final quarter of last year. Principally the gains are expected to favor the smaller companies. While United States Steel will, in all probability, also show larger earnings during the current quarter, its vast size and widely diversified interests always cause it to respond more slowly and on a smaller scale to any trend in prices.

Assuming fourth-quarter gross earnings of $85,000,000, which under existing conditions is thought to be reasonable, and that deductions for depreciation, etc., are the same as in the third quarter, the net for Steel common stock would be about $27,000,000, or, roughly, $3.75 a share on the 7,116,235 common shares outstanding, compared with $3.31 a share in the third quarter and $1.06 in the fourth quarter of last year.

In the first nine months of this year United States Steel earnings were $8.17 a share. With earnings as estimated for the fourth quarter, final net for the year would be close to $12 a share, against $8.80 in all 1927.

Ratio of Stock Loans Reported

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Total borrowings by New York Stock Exchange members against stock collateral on the 1st inst. increased to 9.66 per cent of market value of all listed shares from 9.62 per cent on November 1. Market value the 1st inst. of all shares listed on the exchange totaled $66,113,258,317, an increase of $5,037,441,852 since November 1. During same period loans to brokers advanced $511,923,202 to $6,391,644,284.

Average market value of shares increased $5.22 to $89.13 on the 1st inst., compared with $83.91 on November 1 and $83.42 on October 1. Number of stock issues listed for trading increased to 1161, aggregating 741,680,869 shares on the 1st inst., compared with 1142 issues and 727,792,206 shares on November 1 and 1131 issues and 711,197,109 shares on October 1.

Union Oil Issue Underwritten

New stock of the Union Oil Company of California, which will be presently outstanding under the terms of the recent subscription offer, has been underwritten at $35 a share, without cost to the company, by a syndicate composed of Dillon, Read & Co., First Securities Company, William R. Staats Company, Blair & Co., Inc., and Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., W. L. Stewart, president, announced yesterday in a letter to be mailed to stockholders.

The rights to subscribe to the new stock apply to shareholders of record the 20th inst., and expire at the close of business February 15, next. Stockholders have the option of subscribing by installments of $5 on February 15; $10, May 15 and August 15, and $9.38 on November 15, not including interest at 5½ per cent. Applications will be made for listing the new stock on the various exchanges.

Moreland Plane Concern Formed

Moreland Aircraft, Inc., with an authorized capital of $500,000 divided into 50,000 shares each with a par value of $10, has been given a permit by Corporation Commissioner Friedlander to sell 30,000 shares of its stock. According to its application the company proposes to purchase a tract of land near Mines Field to be used as a landing field and as a site for a factory building.

The land will cost $58,800 the company stated, development of models to be manufactured $50,000, and $40,000 for building and plant, leaving a balance for working capital. Officers of the company are O. E. Moreland, president; W. A. DeRidder, secretary-treasurer, and Charles J. Wild, vice-president.

TREASURY ISSUE OVERSUBSCRIBED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Secretary Mellon announced today that total subscriptions for two issues of Treasury certificates of indebtedness dated the 15th inst. aggregated $631,182,000. The certificates bear 4 1-4 per cent interest and a total of $520,164,000 was allotted. The nine months' issue allotment totaled $200,918,500. The certificate issue, which runs for one year, amounted to $310,245,500.

MART HERE TO LEAD COAST

By 1930 Los Angeles Exchange Expected to Pass San Francisco; Seats in Demand

BY EARLE E. CROWE

After worrying successfully through several crises, some of the forward-looking members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange confidently expect it to pass the older and more established San Francisco Stock Exchange within two years. This year the Los Angeles exchange will do about $900,000,000 of business, which will fall about $200,000,000 short of the valuation the San Francisco exchange probably will report.

Next year, so these prophets predict, the value of transactions on the Los Angeles exchange will run almost on a parity with San Francisco before the year is over. By 1930 this market should pass the northern exchange, provided the existing rate of growth is maintained.

MORE COMING HERE

This is not entirely an idle prophecy inspired by intercity rivalry. Stock brokers naturaly are in business for profits, and are not the kind to allow partisanship to interfere with commissions. Some of the San Francisco brokers have even concurred in this prophecy, and it is understood that the coming year will find five or six more of these houses opening offices in Los Angeles.

This year there were five San Francisco brokerage companies to buy seats on the Los Angeles exchange, having been attracted by the surprising increase in business on the Los Angeles exchanges, and the constantly growing volume of New York business originating here. The fact is now well established that Los Angeles is the largest originator of New York business in the West.

Nobody can dispute the fact that the Los Angeles exchange in the past has been open to criticism on several points. But since the exchange has been reorganized under its new management, and geared its operations to modern conditions and modern business methods, there has been no ground for complaint. The membership now is an alert body, fully alive to its responsibilities and opportunities. Elimination of inactive and undesirable seat holders is reflected in the transfer this year of thirty-four seats, or virtually one-half of the membership.

ADVANTAGES LISTED

Favored by a rising trend of population; new industries and the expansion of old ones; continuing development of oil fields and organization of new companies; rise of the city as the national center of aircraft manufacturing, and a solid backbone of agricultural wealth, it is no wonder that the prospects point to Los Angeles as potentially the largest security market on the Pacific Coast.

The Pacific Coast as a whole is favored ground for the expansion of the securities business. Data supporting this statement are found in the comprehensive annual report of the San Francisco Stock Exchange for the fiscal year ended September 30, last.

In its economic study of the Pacific States, the exchange concludes that the population of the Coast will double in the next twenty years, while in the same period the population of the United States will only increase 25 per cent. Moreover, general business, according to this study, is increasing 50 per cent faster on the Pacific Coast than for the United States as a whole. Over the last ten years, the average annual increase in business for the United States has been 4 per cent, compared with 6 per cent for the Pacific Coast area.

Offer of Stock in Mond Nickel Deal Announced

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Directors of International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., today voted for an exchange of stock with Mond Nickel Company, Ltd., shareholders, in a plan to place control of 90 per cent of world nickel supply in International Nickel hands.

International Nickel offers to exchange one share of .7 per cent cumulative $5 par preferred stock for each 7 per cent one-pound par preference share of Mond, plus, in the case of first 7 per cent cumulative preference shares of Mond, a cash payment of 2 shillings 6 pence a share. For each ordinary Mond share, one share of International's no par stock will be given.

Mond has outstanding 3,750,000 preference shares and 2,500,000 ordinary shares. The offer is contingent on acceptance by 75 per cent of Mond stockholders. Seven places on the present board of twenty-five members will be given to Mond interests, control thus remaining with present directorate.

Hide Exchange Plans Reported

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Although arrangements are still in the embryonic stage it was officially stated today that the New York Hide and Skin Exchange will be incorporated shortly. The market is expected to aid in the stabilization of hide prices, since trading in futures contracts would enable leather manufacturers to hedge their commitments. Wide fluctuations in the price of hides have long been recognized as the leading cause of the speculative nature of the hide and leather industry.

Heavy inventory write-off in the case of declining hide markets has spelled deficits for more than one leather manufacturer. Those in an authoritative position declare that high prices are not desired by leather manufacturers, and what is regarded most favorable is a relatively steady trend in cost of hides without sharp dips or rises.

PERMIT GRANTED TO NEW OIL COMPANY

Santa Fe Royal Oil Company, organized for the purpose of developing oil in the Santa Fe Springs field, has received a permit from Corporation Commissioner Friedlander to dispose of all of its 1,000,000 shares of stock. Each share has a par value of $1. The company has acquired a lease of nearly 7 acres in the Santa Fe Springs field. It proposes to pay an 18 2-3 per cent landowner's royalty, and to be repaid out of the remaining oil the cost of each well it drills, not exceeding $125,000 in each case, and thereafter to receive 44.36 per cent of the future production. Officers of the company include Frank E. Damon, G. B. Davis and H. G. Moss.

STOCKHOLDERS TO GET REWARD

Year-End Actions Reported by Group of Companies

Dividend on Midcontinent Oil Common Resumed

Gold Dust Split and Merger Plans Approved

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Two large corporations took steps today to resume dividend payments, while a third approved a stock split-up and consolidation with another company. Directors of several other companies declared extra and stock dividends.

Stockholders of Gold Dust Corporation approved a 2-for-1 split of common stock and merger with American Linseed Company. The new company will be known as Gold Dust, Inc. Directors placed the new common on a $2.50 annual basis by declaring a quarterly dividend of 62 1-2 cents, payable February 1 to shareholders of record January 17. This is equal to $5 on old stock, the rate previously paid.

QUARTERLY DECLARED

Midcontinent Petroleum Corporation directors placed the common stock on a $2 annual basis, marking resumption of dividends on the issue. A quarterly dividend of 50 cents was declared payable February 15 to stockholders of record January 10. The previous dividend was 75 cents on common, paid August 1, 1927.

The board called for retirement on March 1 at $120 a share and accrued dividends the outstanding $6,228,000 of preferred stock. On November 15 the $8,726,000 outstanding first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds were called for redemption March 1 at $105. Common stockholders of record January 10 will be offered rights to subscribe to 447,912 additional common shares at $31 a share in ratio of three shares for every ten held.

MAGMA RAISES RATE

An extra $3 dividend was declared by Central Railroad of New Jersey. Capital stock of Magma Copper Company of Superior, Ariz., was placed on $4 annual basis, against $3 previously. New common and preferred shares of Steel Company of Canada, Ltd., of Hamilton, Ont., were placed on $2 annual basis.

Directors of Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company of Cleveland, subject to approval of stockholders on January 9, increased no par common shares to 1,662,980 and outstanding 8000 preferred shares, authorized in 1892 and 1897, to 40,000 no par common shares. This action will give common stockholders ten shares for one and preferred shareholders five no par common shares for one preferred share. The company is associated with North American Company.

Louisville Gas and Electric Company of Chicago is offering Class A and B stockholders rights to subscribe to additional stock at $31 a share. Standard Gas and Electric Company, owner of more than 90 per cent of Class B stock, has waived its pre-emptive right to the new issue.

Organization of Oil Concern Told

Entrance of the Coastline Oil Company, a Nevada corporation, capitalized at $1,000,000 into the oil industry of Southern California was announced yesterday. According to the announcement the new organization plans to develop oil lands, produce, refine and market the finished product.

The company has acquired several producing properties in different fields of the Los Angeles Basin, and is said to be negotiating for a refinery equipped with pipe line facilities. Officers and directors of the Coastline Oil Company include: William W. Bearman, president; Joseph Weinblatt, executive vice-president and general manager; William I. Zidell, treasurer; Lorin Rogers, secretary; Jean R. Vedeitz, assistant secretary-treasurer, and Jacob P. Harper, director. Acquisition of approximately 260 independent service stations located in Southern California is planned.

PRINTING COMPANY TO PAY STOCK DIVIDEND

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Directors of W. F. Hall Printing Company declared a stock dividend of 5 per cent, payab's January 31 to stockholders of record January 10, according to an announcement made today. Rights will be issued to stockholders of record January 10 to subscribe at $20 per share for one new share for each five shares now held. This will involve issuance of 600,000 shares of new stock. Directors also declared the regular quarterly of 25 cents on the common, payable January 31 to stock of record January 10.

NOVEMBER CIGARETTE OUTPUT SHOWS GAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Internal Revenue Bureau reports that 8,536,425,793 small cigarettes were produced in the United States in November, against 8,093,752,340 in the 1927 month. Production of large cigars last month totaled 630,530,992, against 654,164,577 last year. Small cigars, 35,435,000, against 35,138,520. Manufactured tobacco was 26,734,282 pounds, against 28,111,043, and snuff, 3,412,075 pounds, against 3,441,531.

EXPORTS DROP IRKS BRITAIN

Elimination of Adverse Trade Balance of Large Proportions Troubling Empire Leaders

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Great Britain continues to have trouble building up her exports. Her record for November discloses a further shrinkage under that of November a year ago of about 9.6 per cent, around $30,000,000. Her imports likewise declined, but only one-half of 1 per cent, about $2,500,000. Studying the figures, one finds that the export shrinkage is largely in manufactured articles.

The adverse balance of Great Britain for the eleven months was nearly $140,000,000 lower than last year, and about $450,000,000 below 1926.

Will the lumber industry be the next to organize with a czar in control?

At a recent meeting of the lumbermen of the United States in Chicago there was considerable discussion of the advisability of asking the government to appoint a conservation board in connection with the lumber industry, similar to the Oil Conservation Commission.

The lumber business is badly in need of integrating in a natural way. On the whole, it has not been prosperous in the last few years. It has been a case of too much production and too little demand. But how should its problems be handled? That is the question. Lumber substitutes have entered into the fold further to complicate the problem.

Should oil, lumber and coal be tied up in one government board and carefully surveyed? There are difficulties in such a tie-up—totally different kinds of industries. One thing seems sure. The industry will be forced to work much closer with the government in developing a business policy for the future than it ever has in the past.

While the trade of Canada with the United States exceeds that of all Latin America, the trade of Latin America with the United States is expanding rapidly every year.

In the year Lincoln was elected President the United States sold $40,700,000 worth of goods to Latin America and imported $79,110,000, making a total of $119,810,000. Imports from Latin America have nearly always exceeded exports, and during the last five years the total volume of trade between Latin America and the United States has averaged better than $2,000,000,000 a year.

The figures for this year are not yet complete, but for 1927 the United States sold more goods in Latin America than were sold by the United Kingdom, Germany and France combined. The United States also bought more from Latin America in 1927 than these three nations combined.

The trip of President-elect Hoover should have far-reaching effects in developing still more this trade expansion.

London Market Rules Steady

LONDON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a steady tone today with industrial issues again in good demand, especially Ford Motor Company, Ltd., Mond Nickel also was a strong feature, buying being based on a belief that a statement will shortly be issued concerning a proposed merger with International Nickel Company of Canada. Talking-machine issues were in fair demand and tobacco shares were well purchased. The oil group had a firm tone, and the mining list was steadier. Artificial silk securities were in better demand, and textiles were steady. Rubber and wireless issues were quiet.

The gilt-edge division had a steady tone. Foreign issues were dull. Argentine rails were in fair demand while home rails were quiet.

EAST BAY UTILITY TO REDEEM BONDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—East Bay Municipal Utility District will redeem $3,000,000 of East Bay Water Company Series D, thirty-year 6 per cent gold bonds on March 1, 1929, at 103 and accrued interest, it was reported here today. No announcement was made relative to redemption of any of the remaining outstanding bonds of the East Bay Water Company.

CUBAN SUGAR CONCERN REPORTS YEAR'S LOSS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Cuban Dominican Sugar Corporation reports for the year ended September 30, 1928, net loss of $643,037 after interest and depreciation, against net income of $137,793 in the preceding fiscal year, equal to 12 cents a share on 1,142,833 no par capital shares outstanding.

TIGHTER MONEY HALTS ADVANCE

General Upturn at Opening Abruptly Ends

Early Gains Sharply Cut or Turned to Loss

Increase Again Reported in Trading Volume

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The bull party decided that the long talked-of holiday money pinch had been largely a false alarm, and has just started a general upturn on the stock market today, when call money mounted from 7 to 8 per cent, and quick retreat was called.

Gains running from 2 to 15 points in a wide assortment of issues were reduced and in some cases more than canceled. There was a partial recovery in the afternoon, however, and the Associated Press average price of twenty industrials recorded a gain of nearly 2 points. Total sales aggregated 3,807,200 shares, the largest day's business since early last week.

As a matter of fact, bankers rather freely acknowledged that the year-end credit stringency had been later and more moderate than expected. It was explained that the persistent warnings of tight money had drawn funds into the market in the hope of profiting from the expected high rates. The unexpectedly large government overdraft has eased the credit situation all this week. With the overdraft paid 12 per cent call money is expected next week, resulting from the withdrawal of funds for January 1 requirements.

ACCEPTANCES UP

The Federal Reserve Bank disclosed a reduction in brokers' loans of $64,929,000 bringing the total down to $5,110,922,000, about where it was a month ago. While the reserve statement indicated greater holdings of government securities, this was attributed to the Treasury's December 15 refinancing, rather than an indication that the bank has acted to ease credit.

Another commentary on the credit situation was an increase of 1-8 of 1 per cent in bankers' acceptance rates by some dealers. The acceptance market was demoralized by lack of unified action and two large dealers took most of the offerings at the old rates.

The stock exchange disclosed that the violent bull market of November, with the acute break at the end of the month, left the ratio of member borrowings to the market value of all listed securities at 9.66 per cent on the 1st inst., an increase of 0.4 per cent from November 1. The value of all listed shares increased more than $5,000,000,000.

PROGRAM OF ACCEPTANCE BANK GIVEN

Plans of International in Deal With Manhattan Announced by Board

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Directors of the International Acceptance Bank today approved in principle a plan for the exchange of International Bank stock for shares of the Bank of Manhattan Company. The plan, it was stated, does not contemplate a merger of the two institutions, but rather of the two groups of stockholders. The International Acceptance Bank will continue to function as a separate and distinct organization.

The plan involves an increase of Bank of Manhattan Company stock to 222,500 shares from 160,000. The capital will become $22,250,000. Shareholders of International Acceptance Bank will receive one share of Bank of Manhattan stock in exchange for two shares, 50 per cent paid, of International Acceptance stock.

Details of the plan are not completed, but it is understood that several directors of the International Acceptance Bank and the International Acceptance Trust Company will join the board of the Bank of Manhattan. Officers of the Bank of Manhattan will be unchanged, except that Paul M. Warburg, chairman of the International Acceptance Bank, will become associate chairman of the board of the Bank of Manhattan.

J. Stewart Baker, president of Bank of Manhattan, will become vice-chairman of the International Acceptance board. F. A. Goodhue will continue as president of International Acceptance and will be placed on the board of the Bank of Manhattan.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Bond market price movements were irregular in dull trading today. Investment buying bolstered a few issues but the firmness of money, advance in the call rate and caution of loans by banks appeared to make traders cautious. Total sales were only $7,403,000.

International Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s attracted much of the day's trading and advanced to a new top at 113 on buying encouraged by gain in the stock of Public Services of New Jersey. 4½s also were acquired at slightly higher prices.

Amerada Corporation 7s supplied the strength in the copper group, gaining nearly 2 points. Anaconda 5s and most other coppers were inclined to heaviness, although Tennessee 6s improved fractionally. Former issues included Bethlehem Steel 5s, International Paper 5s A, Porto Rico-American Tobacco 6s, Pathe Exchange 7s, United States Steel 5s, Transcontinental Oil 6½s, Armour Real Estate 6½s and Bush Terminal 5s. Wilder recessions occurred in American Ice Company 6s, Goodyear Tire 5s, Sinclair Crude 5½s, Kayser & Co. 6½s, Certain Motors acceptance 6s and Hazell and Myers Tobacco 6s.

First-grade rails were inclined to heaviness, but the secondary lines showed some improvement. Illinois Central 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s, C. Frisco 4s A, Big Four 4s, Virginian and Southwestern 5s and Seaboard All-Florida 6s B, to quote the latter moving to a new year's low at 58½. Nickel Plate issues, Oregon Short Line 4s, Rock Island 4s and Denver and Rio Grande Western 5s made small gains.

The foreign list was irregular, Bolivian government 8s improved but the 7s sold off a point.

United States government obligations again were easier.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Weakness Develops in Local Trading as Demand Falls to Low Levels

In contrast to the firm price trend displayed under the influence of renewed buying Wednesday, yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange fell back to the slow pace set earlier in the week. The oil list, in which the majority of interest and speculative activity are centered, softened by reason of the lagging demand and the few advances scored on the previous day were wiped out. Bank shares, which held fairly steady Wednesday, joined in the downward movement.

Union of California was the only major oil stock to end higher for the day and, after slumping to 51 7-8, closed up 1-8 net to 52 1-4. Standard Oil of California dropped off 1 7-8 points to a low and closed at 71 1-8.

Rio Grande new lost ¼ and the old, 1½ points to 32½ and 160½, respectively. Richfield, at 45½, was down ½. Barnsdall lost 1-4 to 41 and Pacific Western the same to 22 3-4. Union Oil and Union Associates' rights each transferred at 1.70. Lower-priced oil shares were steady.

Los Angeles-First National Bank dropped 1½ points to 120. Merchants' National and California Bank held firm to 128 and 250 on light sales. Pacific National eased 1-4 to 80 1-4. Security Trust and Savings, exchanged in odd lots at 523, was down 10 points from the previous sale. Trans-America Corporation firmed up 3-8 to 128 1-8.

Emsco Derrick, in the industrials, jumped 12 points to 287, in further response to an expected split-up and possible higher dividend rate. Southern California Edison, among the utilities, firmed up 1-4 to 53 1-4. In the miscellaneous division, Pacific Finance again fluctuated erractically with an advance of 2 points to 68. Piggly Wiggly gained 1-4 to 26 1-4.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Mixed prices characterized operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Showing a marked reduction in volume, trading followed the example set by the parent board, while price changes were, for the most part, confined to fractions.

Mexican Seaboard Oil, although transferring at a slower pace, held the strength of the past two sessions with an advance of 5-8 to 60½. Macmillan Petroleum reacted a point to 41 3-4. Barnsdall rights gained a point to 16. Bandini featured the lower-priced oils by swinging back to the peak at 4.80. The stock closed at 4.35 for a net gain of 35 cents.

Chapman Ice Cream registered an unusual spurt in activity and jumped 2½ points to 23½. The action is attributed to expected developments within the company. Claude Neon Electrical Products maintained its recent increased trading interest and advanced 1 1-8 points to 51 on a transfer of more than 1500 shares. Maddux Air Lines made its first appearance on the board and, on an exchange of 3429 shares, ranged between 13¼ and 12¼ and closed at 13. Lockheed lost 7-8 to 12 3-4, and the rights dropped 3-4 to 6½.

Sales totaled 84,612 shares valued at $652,445.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Price movements became increasingly erratic in today's curb market as the widely predicted year-end stiffening of money rates got under way. While final quotations showed about an even division of gains and losses, the bulk of the day's activity was on the side of rising prices.

Ford Company, Ltd., was again the outstanding feature, climbing 24 points higher at 13¾, or nearly treble the par value on a turnover of close to 200,000 shares. Ford Motors of Canada dropped 7 points on a new odd lot sale. Firestone Tire and Rubber closed 10¼ points higher at 228½, after touching a new high record at 240.

Fresh buying came into the merchandising and chain store shares. Metropolitan Chain Stores was marked up more than 2 points to 74, duplicating the year's high, on buying influenced by expectations of substantial increases in earnings through the recent acquisition of several Canadian stores. American Stores and the Safeway issues showed net gains of 1 to 2 points.

Most of the public utility shares were inclined to heaviness. Electric Investors, Electric Bond and Share, Houston Gulf Gas and several others dropping a point or more. Electric Power and Light advanced 2 points, duplicating the year's top. Coal shares recorded sharp gains on expectations of colder weather. Fairplans stocks ran into further profit-taking, Boeing common dropping 2½ points and the preferred 4¾ while Keystone yielded 2 points.

A brisk advance in the Prairie issues featured the mixed oil market. Checker Cab ran up nearly 2 points at the expense of an overcrowded short interest. Substantial losses were recorded by John Aluminum, Bullard Machine Tool, Niagara Hudson, Peruvanda Miners and Dawson-Pond. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, total sales running close to 1,300,000 shares.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both bid and close when same as the high.

NEWS FAVORABLE

The day's news brought a few favorable dividend actions, including an increase in the annual rate of Magma Copper from $3 to $4. There were important merger developments, including an offer by International Nickel to exchange its stock for that of Monds Nickel, and approval of a plan for combination of International Acceptance Bank and the Bank of Manhattan Company.

Some of the volatile issues made sharp gains, Adams Express soaring 18 and Radio 15 points. Coppers generally encountered profit-taking while steel, motor and amusement shares made substantial progress.

General Motors mounted about 4 points to 192 7-8, a new high for the current movement and Pierce Arrow issues broke into new high ground for the year. Central Alloy Steel mounted about 2 points to 47 1-4, a new high. Mohawk Carpet Mills and Spiter Manufacturing also touched new peaks. General Electric and American Can sold up 3 and 4 points. Central of New Jersey jumped about 5 points on declaration of an extra dividend.

Wright Aero sold up 7 points then fell 16. International Nickel dropped 9 points, but halved its loss on announcement of the merger offer. National Tea lost 10 points, and Allied Chemical, American Radiator, Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Curtiss Aero and Sears-Roebuck lost 3 to 4 points.

Cotton made a fair advance on the report of the Census Bureau showing smaller ginnings than expected, but lost its gains in realizing. Wheat was easy on reports that shipments from Argentina are imminent.

In the foreign exchanges, unloadings of purchases of sterling made on the recent decline caused a general depression of European currencies.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Notwithstanding the announcement that brokers' loans were down some $94,000,000, was enough to arouse the San Francisco Stock Exchange from its lethargic condition. The session was comparatively inactive and prices were irregular.

The industrials reversed their trend of the past few days and most of them lost ground. Kodak Pathe rose from 64½ to 65, but even so was off ½. Caterpillar selling ex-rights, slumped from 79 to 77¾, later recovering to 77½. The rights rose from 2.90 to 2.95. Golden State Milk declined from 41 to 39¾, closing at 40, a decrease of ½. Byron Jackson Pump sold at 76½, off 1½. Crown Zellerbach closed at 108½. Pacific Gas and Electric and Pacific Lighting were up ½ at 64½ and 72½.

The oils were heavy. Standard receded from 73¾ to 70¾, subsequently strengthening to 71¾, down ¾. Union Oil of California 41¾ and Union Associates at 41¾ were off ¼ and ½, respectively. Richfield lowered to 24¾, slumped to 24¼, and then rose to 25¾ on 10,000 lot. Consolidated moved up to 30, up ¼. The banks were inactive. Trans-America opened 128¾, touched 129¼, and then eased off to 128¾, down ¼. The Atlas Imperial Company, selling ex-dir., yielded 140½. West Coast Bank sold at 130¼.

Total sales: Bonds, $25,000; stocks, 45,713 shares of $2,594,443 market value.

Vows Annulled on Bad Temper

Before Mrs. Marie E. Williams married William G. Williams he was a perfect gentleman, but afterward he swore and called her vile names, according to Mrs. Williams when she appeared before Superior Judge Fleming yesterday asking for an annulment of the marriage.

Mrs. Williams said that she had known Williams about a year before she married him and he appeared to be all right, but after the ceremony he completely changed. They separated less than a month after the marriage. The annulment was granted.

NAMES FOR BRIDGES ASKED

The California History and Landmarks Club yesterday petitioned the Council asking that all the new city bridges be named after the old pioneers. It was suggested that the First-street bridge be named in honor of Juan Crespi. The matter was referred to the City Engineer.

DURANT DRY LAW PLANS SELECTED

Names of Prize Winners in Liquor Enforcing Race Will be Announced Later

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The two winners of the $30,000 in prizes offered by W. C. Durant for the best plan to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment were selected today, but their names will not be made public until the 26th inst., the Durant prize committee announced.

The competition was divided into two sections, one open to everyone and carrying a prize of $25,000 for the winner. The other was limited to students of high schools, preparatory and parochial schools, with a prize of $5000 for the best plan.

There were 23,230 participants in the general contest, submitting 10,000 plans. One hundred and ninety-four plans were received in the school competition, each school holding its own elimination contest and submitting only one plan.

The prize committee is headed by Dr. W. O. Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State University, and includes as members Jane Addams, Senator Borah, Senator Glass, William G. McAdoo, Rabbi Wise and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman.

INDIANA RAID NETS BANK BANDITS $35,000

CLINTON (Ind.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Loss estimated at $35,000, of which only $5000 was in bonds, was sustained by the First National Bank of Clinton when it was robbed by four bandits shortly before noon today. Three of the robbers entered the bank and forced several customers to lie on the floor. They herded the employees into the vault, scooped up what money was in sight and escaped in an automobile driven by a fourth robber.

COOLIDGE INDORSES RELIEF FOR INDIANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—President Coolidge today recommended to Congress that $30,000 be made available for the Office of Indian Affairs to care for Sioux and other Indians impoverished through crop failures during the last year.

SANTA PLEASES POLICE NURSE

Hospital Veteran Given Deed to His Home by Group of City Colleagues

Chief Nurse Charles Whitehead of the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, who has been in attendance upon the city's injured for more than twenty years and who recently fell ill himself, was waited upon by a delegation of firemen and policemen yesterday afternoon.

It was a surprise visit. There was a brief presentation speech by Capt. Jerry Kline of the fire department, who handed Whitehead an envelope containing a deed to his home at 1208 West Thirty-eighth street, upon which a mortgage had lingered. The deed, Capt. Kline said, was the gift of Whitehead's many friends in the police and fire departments. The delegation included Deputy Fire Chief Frank C. McDowell, Capt. Carl Ward, Walter P. Long, representing the Firemen's Relief Association; Capt. John D. Hubbs and Lieut. Fred A. Therkorn of the police department.

Whitehead told the delegation he will wait until he goes home and give his wife the pleasure of opening the envelope.

INQUIRY IN AIR CRASH CONCLUDED

Pilot in Fatal Sunday Mishap Declared to Have Been Unlicensed

Neither Douglas Bolding, pilot, nor Harry Weymouth, student flyer, who were killed last Sunday afternoon in an airplane crash at Western avenue and One Hundred Thirty-sixth street, had been licensed by the government, and the airplane in which they flew previously had been damaged, according to a report submitted to the Department of Commerce yesterday by W. P. Parkin, local supervising inspector of the department.

Mr. Parkin, who concluded his investigation of the accident at the short airport, from which the airplane was flown, added that Harry Cagle, the mechanic in charge of the airplane, also had failed to get a government license. He said he discovered that the airplane had been in a previous accident, had been patched up to fly again and that no proper report of the accident had been made to the Department of Commerce.

Bolding and Weymouth were killed instantly when one of the wings of the biplane broke away, sending them into a tailspin. The airplane in falling narrowly missed crashing into a dwelling.

Fair Weather Forecast for End of Week

Fair weather with moderate temperatures is the government's forecast for today and Saturday in the Los Angeles district.

In the citrus belt favorable temperatures are predicted and the government experts said there will be little need of smudge pots. Temperatures in the citrus belt in the early morning hours of yesterday were close to the danger point and some smudging was resorted to. No damage was reported.

The fires were confined only to the exposed orchards in Redlands, Azusa, Glendora, Covina and Whittier districts. A warm breeze dispelled fears for a cold snap around Santa Paula in the Santa Clara Valley.

Temperatures reported by the Weather Bureau in the citrus belt were: Redlands, 32; Riverside, 40; San Bernardino, 38; Santa Ana, [illegible] San Fernando, 39; Imperial, 30; Tustin, 27; West Orange, 38, and Garden Grove, 30 deg.

SALARY INCREASE PASSED ON

The Council yesterday referred to the Finance Committee the request of the Board of Fire Commissioners that the salary of the commission secretary be increased from $300 to $350 a month.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC RUSH ON

Officials of Roads Here Announce Special Service to Care for California Bound Crowds

Christmas holiday traffic has begun in earnest and so has the tourist season, according to statements issued yesterday by officials of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Union Pacific systems.

The Santa Fe announced that its crack extra fare train, the Chief, left Chicago for Los Angeles in two sections last night and that this will be necessary again tonight. The Chief will arrive in time for travelers to participate in Christmas celebrations here. The three sections of the California Limited, which leaves Chicago the 28th inst., will arrive on the afternoon of the 31st inst., and one of these trains will be known as the Tournament of Roses Special, it was announced.

George R. Bierman, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific system, said the sunshine and warm winter climate in Los Angeles and Southern California, plus the added interest in the Tournament of Roses parade and East-West football game will shatter the mark set last year in westbound train travel. He said that already additional cars are required on all the limited trains of the Union Pacific carrying passengers from eastern points and that Monday probably will see the peak of holiday travel.

Heavy traffic, both inbound and outbound, was reported by the Southern Pacific system. Although no additional sections for the Golden State and Sunset Limited have been installed, traffic officials declared that extra sections of their crack trains will be run immediately after the holidays in accord with the heavy tourist travel then commencing.

JUDGE-JURY TANGLED IN QUANDARY

Aggeler Uncertain About Locking Self Up Prior to Acquitting Defendant

Whether a judge should order himself locked up in a jury room while deliberating on a criminal case was one of the problems that confronted Judge Aggeler yesterday when he concluded hearing testimony in the case of John V. Roberts, charged with an offense against a 9-year-old boy. Roberts was tried under the recently adopted statute providing that jury trials may be waived in criminal cases.

In jury trials the jury is locked up while considering some cases. There is an absence of rulings on what a judge should do with himself when sitting in the place of a jury.

Judge Aggeler did not order himself locked up, but he did admonish others not to talk to him about the case and agreed not to discuss it with himself until it is submitted to him. The court deliberated about five minutes in reaching a decision freeing Roberts.

GRAND THEFT VERDICT COMMITTED TO JUDGE

Albert Beck, charged with grand theft in connection with his asserted appropriation of $5900 worth of property from Dorothy M. Porter of South Pasadena, went on trial yesterday before Judge Craig after waiving a jury trial. Judge Craig is scheduled to decide the case today.

Women Burned in Gas Mishaps

Two women were burned seriously yesterday while lighting gas stoves in their homes. They are Mrs. Sarah Russell, 68 years of age, of 425 West Eighty-ninth street, who was burned about the neck and arms when accumulated gas exploded in the oven of her stove, and Mrs. Emma Cummings, 62, of 930½ Winfield street, whose apron caught fire and burned her about the chest. Both were taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Mrs. Cummings's daughter, Mrs. Edna Murray, was burned slightly when she extinguished the flames which rapidly were consuming her mother's clothing.

Report Due in Park Avenue Controversy

A report from the Board of Public Works as to what progress has been made on the revised plan for distributing the cost of the improvement of Park avenue between Sunset and Glendale boulevards is scheduled to go before the Council today.

The Council also will consider the confirmation of assessments for the improvement of Third street between Lankershim Boulevard and Riverside Drive. Protests will be heard against the lighting of Bronson avenue between Hollywood Boulevard and Sunset Boulevard, the improvement of the Grape street and Santa Ana Boulevard district, and the setback lines on Banning Boulevard between L and J streets.

BOOK REVEALS CITY'S WEALTH

Chamber Issues Directory of Industry and Trade

Volume to be Distributed in Many Countries

Production Statistics and Resources Listed

To all parts of the world will go the information that the population of Los Angeles is 1,366,880, that the pay roll in 1927 was $160,000,000, exports in that year were valued at $110,991,047, imports totaling $40,388,142, and also the names of manufacturers, exporters and importers as well as trade names in the Los Angeles area. These and many other facts pertinent in the trade importance of this city and county are set forth in a directory of manufacturing and foreign trade just issued by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to the number of 20,000 copies and ready for distribution to manufacturers, purchasing agents and trade agencies throughout the nation, consuls in many foreign lands and foreign traders.

Though the thirteenth directory and commodity index issued by the chamber, it is the first time that statistics compiled by the manufacturing and foreign trade departments of the chamber have been combined in one book.

In the 496 pages of the publication, is contained a compendium of Los Angeles' manufacturing and shipping activities and many of the factors that contribute to this city's far-reaching importance in that regard.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS

"Nature's Workshop" is a caption topping a statistical list that gives impressive data regarding Los Angeles city and county.

Founded September 4, 1781 and incorporated in 1851, Los Angeles in 1850 had a population of 1610 and a county population of 2330, which by 1920 had grown to 576,673 for the city and 936,455 for the county. The city's population now is well along to the 1,500,000 mark and the county's population is 2,319,820.

The city has an area of 434.22 square miles and the county 4115 square miles.

There is an aqueduct 230 miles long costing more than $25,000,000 and the daily water consumption is given as 138,000,000 gallons.

There are 1520 miles of city and interurban car lines. Three transcontinental lines have terminals here.

In 1927, Los Angeles' postoffice receipts came to $9,781,076.95.

There are 336,996 telephones.

The improved streets have an aggregate length of 2429 miles.

Other details given are:

Automobiles and trucks in city 427,926; in county, 672,463; building permits in 1927, 37,655 of a valuation of $123,027,139.

PRODUCTION ENORMOUS

The manufactories and industries in the Los Angeles district in 1927 numbered 4300 and the value of the production was $1,100,000,000.

The county's agricultural crops came to $67,604,701 and the value of the live-stock products $26,106,251.

The city's assessed valuation was $1,971,830,700 and the county's assessed valuation, $3,371,219,634.

The total resources of the city's banks as of January 1, 1928, are given as $1,262,270,891.05 with deposits at $1,118,633,542.85.

There are 668 churches, 189 theaters, 377 public schools, 150 private schools and colleges, sixty-seven public parks, more than 4000 hotels, apartments and roominghouses; 114 motion-picture producing companies, thirty-one motion-picture studios. Eighty-four per cent of the motion pictures made in America are produced in Los Angeles.

This is the richest agricultural county in the world and the eighth county in wealth.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has the largest membership of any chamber in the world, numbering some 12,000.

Compilation of data for the directory was under supervision of Clarence H. Matson, manager of the foreign trade department, and Robert D. Sangster, manager of the industrial department.

ROOM EXPENSE PROVIDED

The Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday appropriated $110 from the department's unappropriated balance for furnishing the girls' room at the Griffith Park playground.

HER ARRIVAL HERE SETS RUMOR FLYING

WOMAN DRY CHIEF VISITS SOUTHLAND

Mrs. Willebrandt Here to Spend Christmas Denies Rumors of Plan to Quit

Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States Attorney-General, arrived in Los Angeles on the Union Pacific yesterday to spend the Yuletide holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Walker, 133 South Allesandro avenue, Temple.

Mrs. Willebrandt's unannounced arrival in Southern California gave rise to rumors that she is here to assist Federal authorities in the Christmas prohibition enforcement program, but she denies the reports.

"This is the first time in eight years I've been able to be at home for Christmas, and there is absolutely no official significance attached to the trip. I plan to return to Washington during the early part of January," Mrs. Willebrandt said.

Having disposed of reports concerning her visit here, she was informed of others which said she had resigned from her government position and would open private law offices in Los Angeles and Washington, specializing in Federal practice.

"I cannot imagine where such reports originate," she said. "They are positively unauthorized."

While Mrs. Willebrandt is in Southern California she will have a number of conferences with Federal officials, including Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, prohibition administrator, and U.S. Dist.-Atty. McNabb.

Rites Announced for Film Worker

Funeral services for Richard Easton, 26 years of age, assistant motion-picture director of 813 North Milton street, will be conducted today at 3 p.m., from the funeral chapel of W. M. Strother, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard. It was announced yesterday. Easton died Wednesday at the Hollywood Hospital after an illness of two weeks. Pneumonia was assigned as the cause of his death.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Marcella Faye Easton, two sisters, Mrs. Wallace Fox and Miss Winifred Easton of Hollywood, and a brother, George Easton, who is a medical student at the University of Indiana.

Easton is to be buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

SLOT MACHINES PUT UNDER BAN

Dist.-Atty. Fitts Orders Lid Down

Ruling of Keyes Discarded by New Prosecutor

Order Hits 1600 Devices; Owners to Comply

Removal of upward of 1600 slot machines in various localities throughout Los Angeles county will begin today following a round-table conference yesterday between Dist.-Atty. Fitts and twenty-two manufacturers and distributors of the machines at which the latter were informed their devices are illegal and must cease operation.

The slot machine manufacturers and distributors agreed to voluntary removal of the devices on Fitts's demand after the District Attorney explained his duties under the Penal Code, and cited the section on which he reverses a ruling by former Dist.-Atty. Keyes that slot machines are not illegal.

MAKES DEMANDS

After a prolonged conference Fitts made his demands and suggested to the slot machine distributors and their attorneys that a test case against his ruling can be taken to the Supreme Court if they so desired. It is unlikely that such a move will be made, Fitts says.

Other officials attending the conference with Fitts were Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, Assistant Chief Deputy Jordan, Chief Investigator Wheeler, Investigator Tom O'Brien and Dep. Dist.-Attys. Simpson, Bush, Richardson and Van Cott.

HIS STATEMENT

After the conference Fitts issued the following statement:

"Since assuming the duties of this office on the 3rd inst., complaints have come to me on the matter of slot machines. In many instances these complaints were from mothers and fathers of school children; in other instances, public officers and school authorities.

"The former District Attorney of this county ruled a year ago that slot machines were legal. Acting in perfectly good faith many merchants and other law-abiding citizens in this county have become in my judgment, innocent parties to the violation of the laws of the State of California. My associates have made an exhaustive study of the legality of these machines and we all have arrived at the same conclusion; that they are illegal, and that the ruling heretofore made as to their legality is erroneous.

"I have, therefore, today informed the manufacturers and distributors of these machines that, in my opinion, the devices are illegal, and that by reason of that fact they must be taken from Los Angeles county. In the event that they are not removed, I shall ask that the grand jury of this county indict, and I so informed them."

Days Grow Shorter as Yule Nears

Kiddies who are counting the days until the time for St. Nick to do his chimney-climbing act probably found consolation and pleasure in the brevity of yesterday and will find almost as much in the days remaining before Christmas.

According to the reckonings of astronomers, weather forecasters, meteorologists and others who make studies of diurnal progressions, yesterday was the shortest day of the year in Los Angeles with time space of only nine hours and fifty-four minutes between sunrise and sunset. The remaining days between now and the 25th inst. will be almost as short, though, for the time will be lengthened by only one minute.

VETERANS GIVE FETE

The annual Christmas party of Roosevelt Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, will take place in Patriotic Hall tonight beginning at 8 o'clock. About 600 children of veterans will be special guests of honor and a kiddies' revue, Christmas tree and a Santa Claus will be provided for them. More than 1200 persons are expected.

PLUNGE OFFER REJECTED

On recommendation of Supt. Hjelte, the offer of W. C. Cornwell to lease the Crystal Plunge in Van Nuys to the playground department for two years at $2000 a year was turned down by the Playground Commission yesterday.

The Lancer

WE DID not need that indorsement, subsequently disclaimed, of the flapper teacher of California by the president of the National Education Association. We knew it already.

A teacher who isn't in the world and of the world is of about as much practical influence as an artificial ice plant at the North Pole.

THE "THIRD DEGREE"

There are two ways of looking at this "third degree" question which is now agitating Los Angeles.

The police have been driven into methods that are undoubtedly wrong and dangerous. But who drove them? The piffling technicalities of the courts and the unfair, dishonest tricks of shyster lawyers.

CLEAN HOUSE

The "third degree" was an expression of the honest indignation of cops who spent months of hard work and danger catching criminals only to see them slide out of jail by trickery. The "third degree" ought to be stopped; but so ought the shyster lawyers.

Along with its eloquent condemnation of police methods, the State Bar Association could with value to the public, do some valuable house cleaning.

SOLDIERS IN OVERALLS

Dress uniforms have at last been authorized for the United States Army. Since the World War they have been dressed in what amounts to [illegible]. When you take pride from a soldier you take his impetus and inspiration. If you are going to turn the military profession into a business-like affair you straightway raise in the soul of each recruit the question whether it is good business to get killed. There was a strong and sensible reason why the dress of the Indians was gaudy and gorgeous.

A LOVELY CHRISTMAS

I have never seen a Christmas in Los Angeles so lovely. This custom of lighting whole streets with Christmas trees is charming and interesting. Only next year let the trees be living trees, planted for the purpose—not the dead corpses of wantonly murdered trees.

A TRUSTFUL INVESTOR

Putting aside the horror of the case of the Long Beach woman accused of trying to sell the petrified body of her son . . . how did the man who claims to have been bunkoed ever expect to manage to collect the $32,000 he says he lost? Peddlers of fake oil stock will weep and weep and weep when they read about him and his trustful investment.

GOT MONEY'S WORTH

In which connection a little joke on our friends in Long Beach:

Some months ago a Long Beach excursion went into Mexico. The visitors were a trifle conservative as to tips and expenditures.

When I was in Guaymas last week two taxi drivers got into a boiling row. They called down curses, anathemas upon each other. They inadvertently upon each other's ancestry until they were exhausted.

Finally one fixed the other with a deadly look and hissed: "You Long Beachy." This was too much. The defeated vituperator slunk away in dismay to think of an adequate comeback.

EARLY BAR DAYS RECALLED

More Than 600 at Fiftieth Anniversary Banquet; Pioneer Lawyers of Association Honored

Early days of Los Angeles and the stirring part taken in the development of the pueblo by the legal talent of that period were reviewed at the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the Los Angeles Bar Association last night. More than 600 guests attended the banquet.

At the table of honor were seated attorneys who have been members since the Bar Association was reorganized in 1888, and there was one member—former Judge A. W. Hutton—who was a member of the original Bar Association of 1878. Place had been reserved for J. A. Graves, also a member of the original association, but his physician advised him not to attend.

The main part of the program was in charge of Attorney Arthur M. Ellis. He reviewed the history of the bench and bar in Los Angeles, illustrated with stereopticon slides. The slides were made from early drawings, engravings and photographs of the streets and buildings of the city.

Some of the drawings dated back to 1830. He showed photographs of the pioneer attorneys and officeholders of 1850 when the city had a population of 10,000. The earliest court was held in a small adobe shack on Spring street near the present intersection of Temple street. He told of the arrival of the first typewriter in Los Angeles and the efforts of some of the lawyers

FIREMEN'S SACRIFICE LAUDED

Willingness of Members to Give Blood for Transfusion Brings Commendation of Commissioners and Private Individuals

Willingness of the members of the fire department to offer themselves for blood transfusion services to aid sick or injured persons yesterday resulted in the Board of Fire Commissioners passing a resolution commending the department for its self-sacrificing spirit, and Fireman George A. Smith of Engine Company No. 24, and Fireman Paul C. Roussell of Truck No. 18, in particular. Fireman H. J. Johnson also was named for commendation.

Smith had volunteered his service for blood transfusion for Mrs. G. W. Rochester, wife of Fire Commissioner Rochester, who feelingly said:

"My appreciation and gratitude cannot be expressed in words. I have never seen such a spirit of helpfulness and sacrifice. Fireman Smith not only submitted to the operation, but insisted that he should be called on to furnish more blood if necessary."

Lauding Fireman Roussell, who furnished blood for a transfusion operation for Albert Challoner of 3334 Laclede avenue, Mrs. Challoner wrote:

"My husband and myself want to tender our thanks to your noble men who came forward and offered blood. Mr. Paul C. Roussell supplied blood to my husband. He has our eternal gratitude. Mr. Smith also offered blood if my husband needed more, and we are just overwhelmed with gratitude. Oh, sir, believe me, we are humbly grateful to your noble men. It is a gift we can never repay."

Fireman H. J. Johnson was lauded by Fred A. Hooper, agent for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, for similar sacrifice in a blood-transfusion operation. In a letter to Chief Scott he said, in part:

"I wish to compliment you on the type of men which make up your organization. It is a great satisfaction to the community to know that the department is made up of such men, who not only stand ready to sacrifice in the line of duty, but also stand by to sacrifice in the cause of humanity. Too much praise cannot be given these men."

Authorities Not Liable for Pupils' Carelessness, County Counsel Informs Supervisors

School authorities and officials are not responsible for the carelessness of children and teachers while on school grounds, but they are responsible for defective apparatus. The foregoing is the opinion of County Counsel Mattoon submitted yesterday to the Board of Supervisors.

The opinion points out, however, that the teachers, as individuals, are responsible for the safety of their pupils.

An instance is cited wherein a child was injured on playground equipment which was not properly assembled. In that case the school authorities were responsible.

TEACHERS ABSOLVED

There is no liability on the part of the teachers, or school officials, provided the injury is incurred in some manner not due to a fault of the playground apparatus or other equipment at the schools, the opinion says.

Responsibility, according to County Counsel Mattoon, for the well being of children at school, is placed directly on the shoulders of the teachers and playground supervisors as individuals. That is to say, individual teachers are responsible for their individual carelessness.

GLENDALE CASE DECIDED

The opinion was written in response of Supt. Richardson D. White for specific ruling on the matter. As a result of the opinion, Glendale school authorities are not respon-

"Miracle" of Cured "Blindness" Disclosed by Convicted Pastor

PREACHER GETS TERM IN PRISON

Former Follower of Angelus Temple Confesses

Prayers Help Remove Fake Sightlessness

Subterfuge Used to Become Religious Leader

The story of a modern miracle was unfolded before Superior Judge Wood yesterday by Arthur S. Arnold, former follower of Angelus Temple and late pastor of the Huntington Beach, Highland Park and Redlands churches of the Pentecostal faith, with a confession that he had elevated himself to a high place in religious circles by pretending that he had experienced a miraculous cure for blindness.

The confession came unexpectedly as Judge Wood was preparing to sentence Arnold to San Quentin penitentiary for issuing checks without sufficient funds.

ARTHUR S. ARNOLD JR.

Arnold at first hesitantly said he had something on his mind he wanted to tell the court, but as he started to tell the story the words came tumbling out rapidly explaining in detail how he duped religious followers and became their leader. Briefly the story is this:

HE BECOMES "BLIND"

Five years ago Arnold, then a follower of Angelus Temple, decided that if he could obtain the cure of some affliction after receiving the gift of prayer, he could become religious leader. Accordingly, he donned dark glasses and became "blind." A physician's certificate to that effect was obtained from some unknown source.

To carry out the subterfuge, Arnold said, he wrote to his parents in Huntington Beach, telling them of his misfortune, and they sent him money to provide for his living. Then came the cure. Prayers were offered and one day the 28-year-old student pastor cast aside his glasses and announced he had been healed and had regained his sight.

Huntington Beach, where Arnold went to visit his parents, he was met with loud acclaim by followers of the Pentecostal Church. Eventually he was named pastor at a salary of $55 a week.

OTHERS CALL HIM

The flock grew and the popularity of the pastor who had experienced the miracle of regaining his sight grew likewise. Soon his services were demanded elsewhere and he accepted the pastorate of a church in Highland Park.

It was at this time other counties heard of Arnold, with the result that he finally accepted a pastorate in Redlands with a salary of $60 a week.

It was the limitations of the small salary, Arnold told probation officers, that eventually caused him to write worthless checks in an effort to provide for his family.

When the end seemed imminent, Arnold said, he told his wife that he was going away, but that he would return soon. He was not seen again until apprehended in Spokane. Judge Wood denied Arnold's petition for probation and sentenced him to San Quentin for a term of from one to five years.

Judge Orders Film Director to Pay Alimony

Dell Andrews, motion-picture director and writer, will have to pay his divorced wife Edith $100 next Wednesday or be in contempt of court under the order yesterday of Judge Aggeler following a hearing on an order to show cause brought by R. D. Knickerbocker, attorney for Mrs. Andrews.

Andrews and his wife were divorced last August and an agreement was reached whereby Andrews was to pay Mrs. Andrews $200 a month.

Mrs Andrews declared she had been receiving only $30 from Andrews under an order granted in Municipal Court some time ago, when Andrews was cited for failure to provide for their minor child.

Yesterday it developed that Andrews has been earning $300 a week as a writer, but that he has not been working steadily.

The soviet government is paying higher prices for flax in order to induce the peasants to raise more of the grain.

Wife Divorced on Nonsupport

After Mrs. Hazel McCubbin Benedict testified that her sister, Betty Blair, motion-picture actress, and her mother had contributed most of the support for herself and two children while married to Maynard Benedict, Superior Judge Ballard yesterday granted her a divorce. She was also given the custody of the children, Beverly, 3 years of age, and Maynard Ross, 4, and $30 a week alimony.

Mrs. Benedict said that her husband, who was formerly vice-president of the Palomar Tennis Club, during a whole year and a half only gave her $50 to support herself and children.

ROAMING MATE DIVORCED

Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerman neglected her children in order to have a good time, according to Willard Leroy Zimmerman, who asked Superior Judge Gould yesterday to grant him a divorce. The husband declared that his wife associated with other men and often remained away from home overnight. He was given a decree and the custody of the children.

NIGHT SHOPPING ACCLAIMED

Hollywood Business Men Declare After-Dinner Sales Approximate One-third Day's Business

Christmas shoppers and sightseers are taking advantage of Hollywood stores open at night and brilliantly lighted and decorated Hollywood Boulevard, with the result that Hollywood merchants last night declared that they are doing approximately one-third of their daily business between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Hundreds of lighted Christmas trees on Hollywood Boulevard from Vine street to La Brea avenue, lavish window displays and decorations, have turned the film center into a teeming after-dinner shopping center.

Automobiles bearing thousands of people who came to view the Christmas tree display, crawled down Hollywood Boulevard last night as motion-picture celebrities rubbed shoulders in the crowds on the sidewalks and in the stores. The Christmas decorations are part of an illumination program sponsored by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and the Hollywood Boulevard Association.

TREES AID SALES

Not only do the trees form a brilliant spectacle for shoppers, but they are having a psychological effect on the buyers, many Hollywood merchants declared.

Not only are the night sales boosting Hollywood totals far above previous years, but day purchases have increased above expectations of store owners during the present season, many state.

Bank clearings, indicative of general business conditions, bear out the merchants in their optimistic reports. An increase of more than $700,000 is recorded over the same date last year in yesterday's Hollywood clearings. Last year on the same date the figure was $1,218,906.81, while yesterday's total was $1,942,971.98.

Night sales of the Hollywood store of B. H. Dyas Company have nearly equaled those of the day sales during the last few days, T. Adams, vice-president and general manager of the store, announced.

OTHER INCREASES

One-third of the business Mathis in Hollywood, men's furnishing store, of is being conducted after 6 p.m., the owner declared yesterday.

From R. C. Markley, manager of the Robertson Company, department store, came a report that business this year is 25 per cent greater than that of last year and that night sales are responsible for much of this increase.

Business in Barker Brothers Hollywood store will be doubled over last year, O. D. Goerz, manager, stated. Goerz reported that the store is filled with shoppers each night until closing.

Hollywood gift shops are doing a record night business, according to Oscar Balzer, owner of two gift stores, who said that 25 per cent of his business is being transacted after dinner.

VENICE LIGHT PLANS BEING PREPARED

In response to a petition by Venice property owners asking for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on the ocean walk, the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday directed that they be informed that the city engineer is preparing for such a lighting system, under direction of the Board of Public Works, and that the playground department will confer with the petitioners when the plans are completed.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR CUT BY ARRESTS

One Man Held for Having 350 Gallons of Alcohol; Other Has Whisky Supply

Los Angeles' Christmas liquor supply was further reduced yesterday, it developed, in Municipal Judge Reed's court where Hugh Sears, 1659 Roosevelt street, and Walter Herbruck, 58 Market avenue, Venice, appeared to answer charges of possession of large quantities of illegal liquids.

Sears, according to Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins, drove a large automobile, in which, was later found 100 gallons of alcohol, up in front of the Roosevelt-street address, where dry-squad officers were stationed. When they attempted to arrest him, Detective Lieutenant Caldwell declared, he fled into the house. Following him the officers report they found a still and an additional 250 gallons of alcohol. Sears requested a delay until tomorrow to plead.

Herbruck, Higgins told the court, was halted by traffic officers at Crown Hill and Boylston avenue. Officers declare they found five cases of imported Scotch whisky in his car. He pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial, which Judge Reed set for January 18.

Toy Drum Spoils Marital Chords

When Guy A. Pell played the piano player loudly to annoy his wife, Mrs. Mae E. Pell, she didn't mind so much, but when he played an accompaniment on a toy drum it was more than she could stand, she recites in a complaint for divorce filed yesterday in the Superior Court.

Pell, according to the wife's complaint, would play the instruments when she was ill. When she asked him not to, he would play all the louder.

Mrs. Pell also accuses her husband of associating with other women, particularly one called "Goldie" and another named Ruth. When she tried to kiss him, he pushed her aside, the complaint says.

Winifred Dunn

SCENARIST BRIDE OF SCULPTOR

Winifred Dunn Informs Friends of Marriage to Harold Swartz

Hollywood received another surprise yesterday when Winifred Dunn, scenario writer, announced her marriage to Harold Swartz, well - known sculptor. The ceremony was performed several days ago at San Diego. The bride's mother, Mrs. Louise F. Dunn, was present.

HAROLD SWARTZ

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Swartz returned to their studio home on Ronda Vista Place.

Miss Dunn first came into prominence in the film world when she wrote and helped produce "The Red Viper," an Americanization picture.

Swartz is recognized as one of the foremost modern sculptors. He studied with George Kolbe in Berlin and now is affiliated with the Chouinard School.

The bride is related to the literary Marriott family, to the late Sir Forbes-Robertson and to Lord Charles Russell. She is a member of the executive board of the Writers' Guild and of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. She recently became chairman of the women's committee of the Olympic Games Committee of California.

JULIAN SALE LEGALITIES COMPLETED

Federal Judge McCormick Issues Decree Approving Disposal of Properties

The legal step to complete the sale of the physical properties of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and the California Eastern Oil Company was taken yesterday when United States District Judge McCormick made a decree confirming the sale of the properties to the Sunset Pacific Oil Company.

It was stated by the court that Monday he will set a date for the final report of Receivers Scott and Carnahan of the Julian company.

The properties of the two companies now will be turned over to the Sunset Pacific Oil Company.

For president of the Sunset company, H. L. Carnahan, now Lieutenant-Governor, has been mentioned. It was stated that now a board of directors will also be elected. The voting power will lie largely with the First National Trust and Savings Bank, First Securities Company and the Associated Oil Company, as the heaviest creditors.

Under the reorganization plans, bonds to the extent of $10,000,000 will be issued to cover secured claims against the Julian company. An issue of $2,500,000 will be made to cover unsecured claims. Two classes of stock will be issued. For stockholders in the Julian concerns. Class A will be for valid stock and Class B for those who purchased the overissue stock in good faith.

MORE PLAYGROUND DRAMAS GIVEN TODAY

Continuing the series of playground Christmas plays being presented this week at the Los Angeles thirty-six playgrounds, ten playgrounds will offer their Yuletide dramatic programs today.

Plays, pantomimes and even operettas are on the schedule which the playground children will give today. It will all be a portion of the great dramatic program which began this week and will culminate in the great outdoor Christmas pageant on the steps of the City Hall Sunday evening.

The schedule of plays for today follows:

2:30 and 8:00 p.m.—Barnsdall Playground. "The Dream Toy Shop;" "The Christmas Message."
3:00 p.m.—Verdugo Playground. "The Tree Triumphant."
3:00 p.m.—Venice Playground. "The Tree Triumphant."
7:30 p.m.—Watts Playground. "The Tree Triumphant."
7:30 p.m.—Recreation Center. "The Tree Triumphant;" "Home for the Holidays."
7:30 p.m.—Compton Playground. "A Christmas Pantomime."
7:30 p.m.—Evergreen Playground. "Kay and Gerda" (operetta;) "Santa Claus Discovered" (operetta.)
7:30 p.m.—Exposition Playground. "The Tree Triumphant;" "Old Gentleman Oak."
8:00 p.m.—Vineyard Playground. "On Christmas Eve;" "The Christmas Jest;" "A Joke on the Toy-Maker" (operetta;) "Christmas Eve at Mother Hubbard's."
8:15 p.m.—Echo Playground. "Merry Christmas;" "Home for the Holidays."

Red Tape Halts Operation on Jail Prisoner

Interpretation of Section 1600 of the Penal Code of the State of California yesterday caused a mix-up that for three hours delayed the transfer of Calvin Smith from the County Jail to the General Hospital, where physicians were to attempt to remove a pin from his stomach that he swallowed accidentally two months ago.

The dispute arose because of recent legal opinions questioning the power of a sheriff to remove prisoners from jail without court orders, and the power of a judge to order the Sheriff to remove a prisoner except the removal pertain to criminal proceedings concerning the prisoner.

Since the grand jury began its investigation of the removal of Albert Marco from jail to visit banks, Sheriff Traeger has declined to remove any prisoner unless provided with a court order.

According to the Sheriff, he was unable to obtain a direct court order for the removal of Smith, but obtained one which gave permission to transfer him to the General Hospital.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

TRIAL ENDS IN 'DOCTOR'S' CONVICTION

Self-Styled "Wonder Man" Found Guilty of State Pharmacy Law Violation

"Dr." H. L. Musick, self-styled "wonder man," violated the law in mixing his "wonder remedy" which he sold to patients as a remedy for many ills, a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court decided yesterday. He was found guilty of violating the State Pharmacy law. He will be sentenced at 2 p.m. today.

Musick, who testified in court that he has sold $7,000,000 worth of the "wonder remedy" during the last fourteen years, also faces trial, which has been set for January 23, next, for violation of the State medical law, that date having been set by Judge Sheldon when a jury disagreed late Wednesday night, following his trial on that charge.

Musick's combined living quarters and "laboratory" at 701 Camulos street were crowded by scores of patients when he was arrested, Special Agent William A. Byrne of the State Medical Board testified at the trial. Each patient, without regard to the nature of his illness, was sold a package of the "wonder remedy," Byrne declared. The remedy, several packages of which were introduced into evidence by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, consisted of capsules filled with a brown powder.

Aircraft Head Flies Here to Attend Inquest

Bert Mooney, president of the Butte Aircraft Corporation, pioneers of aviation in Montana, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday by air, just in time to attend the inquest into the death of his brother-in-law, William J. Murray, who was killed on Tuesday in a traffic accident.

Mooney flew his own plane from Great Falls, Mont., to Salt Lake City, then made the rest of the journey here via Western Air Express.

Murray received fatal injuries when his automobile side-swiped another car at Montana and Logan streets, and turned over. The other car was driven by Mrs. W. R. Price of 1442 Mohawk street. She was not hurt, police stated. The Coroner's jury found the accident "unavoidable under the circumstances."

Mr. Mooney said he will take the body of his brother-in-law to Butte for burial.

FELON'S WIFE FREED

Robert P. Hickman and his wife Kitty were married for twenty-five years, then he left and later was convicted of a felony in Arizona. Mrs. Hickman testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich, before whom she appeared asking for a divorce. Judge Yankwich signed the decree.

Compton Man Found Guilty

Lester Smith, Compton garage man, yesterday was convicted in Judge Fricke's court of simple assault on C. E. Maule, said to be a Compton High School football star, as the aftermath of an altercation between the pair September 22, last.

Smith was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but the jury compromised on the verdict of simple assault. He was sentenced to six months in the County Jail with a recommendation that he be placed in the county road camp.

According to testimony in the case, Smith and Maule engaged in a fight at a dance in a Compton clubroom. Smith was asserted to have stabbed Maule twice with a knife during the course of the fight.

Speedway Tax Suit Settled

U. S. Atty. McNabb today will ask for dismissal of charges against George R. Bentel, promoter and sportsman, and Joe E. Brown, his son-in-law, charged with not paying admission tax to the Ascot Speedway in the amount of $12,000.

Atty.-Gen. Sargent instructed Mr. McNabb to accept a payment of $3500 as a compromise and ask the United States District Court to dismiss the case. This will be done today, it was stated.

CHEER FOR WOMEN

Overseas Service League Will Give Packages at Sanatorium

Spreading Christmas cheer through the women's building at San Fernando Veterans' Hospital is one of the major holiday functions of the Los Angeles chapter of the Women's Overseas Service League.

This evening at W.O.S.L. headquarters in Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, a Christmas packing party is to be given with Miss Elizabeth Hill, past president of the league, in charge.

Each disabled woman veteran at the sanatorium is to receive a gift package for each day during Christmas week, according to Mrs. Rose Connelly, executive secretary of W. O. S. L.

Decorating the wards and rooms in the women's building with Yuletide garlands is also to be undertaken by the overseas women.

Irish Patriot Here for Visit

Visiting the United States in the interests of establishing an Irish daily newspaper to be published in Dublin, Gen. Frank Aiken, who won his title in the Irish Republican army, will address a gathering tonight at St. Vincent's hall.

"The paper which we expect to found will be nonpartisan and strive for the cultural advancement of Ireland," he said. "I, personally, am not nonpartisan, for I believe in the freedom of Ireland and represent County Louth. Irish Americans are lending support to the movement for the daily paper and we will soon be able to start the presses."

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsilitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store.—[Advertisement.]

Today's Bible Text

Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings; they fly away as an eagle toward heaven. Prov. xxiii:5.

CLOTHED MINDS

The philosopher tells us we must clothe our minds. Evidently he doesn't want any such thing as a naked thought snooping around the place.

QUESTION MARK

Some day a guy rocketing to Mars will cross the path of an adventurer visiting Venus and the twain will swap flasks in mid-ozone. Thus proving that flyers can refuel in the air.

GETTING TOGETHER

Nearly all the Democratic Senators voted for the Colorado River improvement, so that it was in no sense a partisan measure. The solons all drank from the same stream. May this unanimity of thought continue.

NOT SO MAD

During the year the dogs of Los Angeles bit into the legs and other extremities of human beings to the extent of 2177 cases, yet only one death from rabies was reported. Thus proving that there is small warrant for the scares that arise every now and then. Dogs that bite are not mad. They are merely slightly annoyed. Often more playful than peevish. Don't get excited.

SEEING THINGS

Among his other playthings Dr. Millikan now has an X-ray machine of a million volts capacity. With this device a perfect stranger can see through a couple of inches of solid steel as if it were a pane of glass. Maybe this would be handy in taking a look at the stock market. Also the attention of ivory hunters is called to this wonder. A doctor should be able to tell not only what a man has in his pocket, but what he has on his conscience.

THE GREETER

The official floor walker or gladhander of the city of New York has been made police commissioner of the metropolis. Grover Whalen is general manager of the huge Wanamaker stores but he is best known as the official greeter for Gotham. Every day some great personage or group of distinctive personalities arrives in the big city and it is the business of Brother Whalen to don his silk hat and frock coat and take a brass band and a flock of policemen down to the pier or the terminal and wish the visitor a happy new year. Then they all march up to the City Hall steps and get photographed. Now that Whalen is running the force the films at Jimmy Walker's front door should show improvement. There will be a fine looking line of cops in the parade.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Since the football season is over, the all-Americans have been safely chosen and the alma maters have settled down to patching up their youngsters in both bones and brains, it may be well to consider another college that will open in January.

The Electoral College permits but a limited matriculation; indeed, its executives long since decided that it should have the same number of students as the nation has Congressmen. Whether the exemplary lives of Congressmen, or equal representation for all the States, prompted this number, the reader will have to determine.

The curriculum is composed wholly of electives—or rather of one elective. When the student body has functioned and finished its course, it goes back at once to oblivion.

The chief qualification of a member of this college is to know a President when he sees one. They are instructed at the polls and woe be to him who fails to carry out his instructions. Thus far none has dared to assert his independence. In this respect he is different from other college boys.

Southern California is the champion of the gridirons of the country; California School of Technology may boast more cosmic rays; Notre Dame rambled farther and was seen more; but the Electoral College picks the all-American President.

The Electoral College is the safety device on the national election and is Uncle Sam's best attempt to make politics foolproof.

AS TO THE "THIRD DEGREE"

The address of President Morrow of the Bar Association before the Justinian Club brings to the fore again the question of police invasion of private rights, which has been under discussion, more or less quietly, in police circles and out, ever since President Morrow began it some months ago. Others have joined the bar head in criticising asserted activities of the police, and one prominent member of the department has added fuel to the flames by asserting the belief that a "good punch in the nose" is occasionally necessary and salutary treatment for the arrested criminal.

Discussion of such matters is all very well, but discussion alone is rather barren of results. Presumably President Morrow, and others who have spoken on the subject, had specific cases in mind on which are based this general indictment of the police. The charges are that prisoners are held incomunicado; that the "third degree," including both physical and mental cruelty, is practiced for the purpose of extorting information; that there is physical and verbal abuse of prisoners by officers, apparently purposeless; that prisoners are not arraigned promptly before a magistrate; that unjustified arrests, searches and seizures are made.

These wrongs, if they exist, cannot be cured by talking about them. They can be cured by prosecuting the officers involved in the manner provided by law. No new legislation is needed; the California Penal Code already provides ample machinery and severe penalties. A fine up to $2000, and removal from office, may be imposed upon any officer found guilty of "willful inhumanity or oppression toward any prisoner under his care or in his custody." Beating of prisoners is punishable by $5000 fine and five years in jail. Willful failure to take a prisoner promptly before a magistrate is a misdemeanor, punishable as such. Making an arrest without lawful authority is also a misdemeanor, and so is holding a prisoner incomunicado.

With all due respect to the motives of President Morrow, the trouble with a general indictment is that it can easily be met with a general denial, and that it is too inclusive. No one asserts that all the police officers are guilty of these practises, yet the onus of the charge now falls upon all the officers alike. Thus some are punished too much and others not enough, and worse than this, the punishment takes the form of a withdrawal of public confidence and support from a body of men who need the co-operation of all good citizens to carry out their duty of protecting life and property.

If, on the other hand, the charges made are specific; if it is asserted in a charge filed in court that such and such an officer has been guilty of such and such conduct; then evidence can be adduced on both sides and a proper adjudication made, according to law; and the punishment will fall on the guilty individual.

Either citizens are suffering from high-handed police actions or the police are being maligned and slandered. That is a question of fact which can be proved or disproved, but not by public discussion. What is needed is not talk, but a showdown at the bar of justice. Even if high-handed practices are general, it should not require more than a few prosecutions to put a permanent stop to them. But if it should require more, if it should be necessary to file complaints against every single officer, the practises complained of can be ended only in the manner provided by law—by convicting and punishing those guilty of them.

The Times holds no brief for police brutality. It does not believe that any prisoner should be manhandled except when necessary to insure his capture or prevent his escape. In fact, it believes that the purpose of the criminal law is defeated when police officers admit to criminals that they, also, do not respect the law. The constitutional rights of a prisoner should be preserved meticulously if only for the purpose of proving to him that society stands ready to give him a square deal, that the dice are not and will not be cogged against him if he plays fairly himself.

But it holds also that charges of criminality belong in the court and not in the forum. It is time either to convict some officer or officers of unlawful conduct, or to stop talking about it.

VOTING MACHINES

Under conditions that were far more exacting than would be encountered ordinarily, the fifty voting machines recently purchased by Los Angeles county fully demonstrated in the November general election not only a decided advantage over the old paper ballot system, but proved the contention of their sponsors that machine balloting is more expeditious, accurate and economical than the system in use.

Although something of an experiment in Los Angeles, the machines have been satisfactorily used in such cities as New York, Seattle and San Francisco, the officials of the last-named community having just purchased a sufficient number to furnish every Bay City precinct with the mechanical equipment.

The machines tried here proved simple in operation and, despite the fact that thousands of voters operating them for the first time had no prior instruction in their use, Registrar of Voters Kerr reported to the Board of Supervisors that not a single complaint was made.

In his official comment on the introduction of the machines here, Registrar Kerr informed the county heads that the mechanical method of voting represents a real advance over the existing paper ballot system.

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Kerr, "that the success of the voting machine lies in the simple matter of educating voters how to use them. I consider the fifty machines did wonderfully fine work in an election where 750,801 votes were cast, the largest in the history of the county."

Demonstrating the greater speed in obtaining final returns from the machines, Registrar Kerr said that the last machine total received by his office arrived six hours after the polls closed, and that the last paper ballot precinct to report came in forty-five hours after voting ceased.

Successful use of the machines by approximately twenty-five cities in the United States has shown that expedition in reporting election totals is merely one of many important improvements, the most valuable of which is certain protection against mistakes by the voters themselves and protection against fraud or manipulation of the returns.

Approximately 50 per cent of the present cost of conducting elections under the paper ballot system is saved through the use of machines, the reduced number of election officials and economies in other operating expenses assuring a saving eventually equal to the total cost of the mechanical equipment.

The fifty machines now owned by the county were purchased following an exhaustive report by the County Efficiency Bureau in which the advantages of the mechanical system were outlined in detail. Hence, having met every requirement expected of them, acquisition of additional machines in sufficient quantity to assure their gradual extension for practical use to the entire voting population of Los Angeles would seem to be a sufficiently self-evident fact.

PRISONERS AT LARGE

Sheriff Traeger, according to reports, intends to claim the right to permit prisoners to go out of the County Jail in custody of an officer, despite an opinion of the County Counsel that a court order is necessary to release a prisoner from actual confinement, even temporarily. The case in point is that of Albert Marco, reputed vice baron, who, if rumors are correct, has been using the County Jail as a place to sleep only and whose liberty otherwise is little restricted.

Considering the trouble and expense Los Angeles county was put to to place Marco even nominally in jail, the freedom allowed him will not add to his jailers' popularity, except, perhaps, with Marco's friends. If the Sheriff wished to make a test of his authority he would have been better advised to use some other individual for the purpose. He would not, then, have been open to the charge of playing favorites.

Of course if Marco may go about attending to his ordinary business affairs, eating his favorite food in his favorite cafes, and looking after his varied interests with no inconvenience except a deputy sheriff tagging along, other convicted felons are entitled to the same privilege, and still more, those prisoners who are merely accused of crime and who are presumed to be innocent are entitled to come and go freely. The Sheriff would hardly maintain that this is practicable; the force of deputies would have to be enlarged beyond all reason. And if he cannot extend the privilege to all he ought not to extend it to any.

Conceding for the sake of argument that the Sheriff is correct and the County Counsel mistaken in interpreting the law, discretion is not being properly exercised in the Marco case; in fact, it is being abused, and gravely so. Nothing is more likely to bring the law and the administration of justice into disrespect than partiality, and partiality granted a man of Marco's known character is an abomination.

MEETING AND PARTING

Nevada is the champion State of the Union in both marriage and divorce. This is not by reason of its own people, but because of its neighbors. During the year the number of divorces in the whole country was 1.62 to each 1000 of population. The number of marriages was 10.12. In the State of Nevada there were thirty-one marriages and twenty-five divorces to each 1000 inhabitants. California is responsible for a lot of this. If we want to get married or divorced in a hurry we have to go to Nevada. We often wish both.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT

By James J. Montague

I'm told that fifty dollar bills
Are brittle when they're new
And should be laid away in tills
A year, or maybe two—
That when this trifling time has passed
Their fibers will grow strong
And one will find that they will last
A hundred fold as long.

This statement may be true or false,
But I shall never know,
For I have neither tills nor vaults
In which my bills to stow.
And be they frail or be they strong
All those I ever see
Assuredly will last as long
As they abide with me.

Though old and worn or crisp and new
With backs of gold or green
They tarry briefly in my view
Then vanish from the scene.
They have to go for this or that—
Bright butterflies are they
Which touch my hand to leave me flat
And flutter on their way.

And if they crack or tear across
As on their flight they fare
Some other man must stand the loss
And little do I care.
So let them brittle be, or tough,
The few I ever see
V'ill certainly last long enough
To take away from me!

The Lee Side o' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

WHETHER three California boys eat Christmas turkey at home or plum duff on a British merchantman has become a matter of international wire pulling.

Charles Donlon of Oxnard told us the story. His son, Peter Donlon, stroke oar on the world champion California rowing crew, is one of the three. After their victory in the Olympic games at Amsterdam, Peter and two other members of the crew sighed for more worlds to conquer, so they sold their return trip tickets and pooled their funds for a tour of Norway, Sweden and as much of the rest of Europe as their money and enterprise would carry them through. They didn't even worry about sending the home folks their addresses, saying that eventually they would return to Paris. So they've been enjoying months of European travel, without calling on their dads to foot the bills, and now are working their way home as seamen on the good ship City of York.

Ho, for the Life of a Say-y-y-y-lor!

When the boys signed on, the ship was scheduled to end its cruise at San Francisco about December 15. Then orders were changed, and Vancouver was made the ship's destination. That meant the boys would be arriving in Vancouver on Christmas Day, so they asked to be allowed to "resign" when the ship reached San Francisco. But not all ships are run like the Vestris. "If we arrive in Vancouver shorthanded," said the captain, "we must have a good excuse. Even if we report that you boys deserted we will have to prove that we did not wink at the desertion. I can't let you go without orders."

We Bet on Turkey

Now "Charlie" Donlon is the sort of man people like to do things for—first, because he's always doing instead of asking favors; secondly, just because they like him. "Charlie" wrote friends in official and semi-official positions that he didn't want to interfere with regulations, but if it could be properly arranged he and the other California dads—not to mention mothers—would be mighty glad to see their boys at home on Christmas Day. As a result, both steamship agents and consular officers have been exchanging cablegrams with London, and when the City of York steams into San Francisco Bay the captain and the British Consul immediately will confer. And we rather think Pete Donlon and his friends will eat turkey instead of duff.

Historic Table

In the Donlon home, Christmas dinner will be served on the most expensive table in the world, one which has cost hundreds of people millions of dollars—and has resulted in the beautification of Southern California.

That great dining table, so big and solid it takes a strong man to lift one end of it off the floor, and all the chairs which go with it were made from one eucalyptus tree grown on Mr. Donlon's ranch. The set was made in Los Angeles many years ago, and was so handsome that the Chamber of Commerce borrowed it for exhibition purposes. That started the excitement over the possibilities of eucalyptus. A New York concern set out thousands of acres in eucalyptus trees. A dozen companies to raise eucalyptus for furniture were organized. Prospectuses were issued asserting that in seven years eucalyptus would grow from seed into trees big enough for milling.

The Donlon tree grew alone in well-irrigated soil. Hundreds of groves of eucalyptus set out more than twenty years ago, close together and in unirrigated lands, still are too small and warped to be millable. But they are beautiful.

Native Son Born in Dublin!

"Charlie" Donlon, by the way, has started a lot of people arguing when he has been introduced as "a native son of California who was born in Dublin." Some of them have tried to take his Native Son button from him, and many have demanded an explanation. The Dublin in which he was born is a village near Oakland. When he was three days old his father bought the ranch near Oxnard. Lumber for the house was flung off a ship when the tide was flowing in, and floated in to the gangs of workmen who dragged it ashore.

Charm of Oxnard

Oxnard fascinates us because it is a thriving city firmly rooted in the soil of old California. Nearly every man in it is a lover of the land, deeply interested in agriculture, horticulture and animal husbandry. Even Jim Krouser, editor of the Courier, owns and successfully farms five ranches besides managing a good daily newspaper. And there are ranchers like Fred Noble who still preserve the hospitality and romance and traditions of the old days, even though their ranches are operated on most modern methods.

"The Mandate"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I congratulate The Times on its editorial on December 16, entitled "The Mandate." It is a clear, expressive and succinct statement of the meaning of the November election and the duty of law-abiding citizens in view of the mandate of that election.

If all great metropolitan newspapers would take the same sensible and patriotic stand, it would be a great influence for law observance.

The recent election certainly refuted the oft-reputed assertion of the opponents of prohibition that a majority of the American people were opposed to the law, and would repudiate, if given an opportunity. A man running for President on an unpopular issue could not possibly carry forty out of forty-eight States. L. A. SWAN.

TEMPLE (Cal.) Dec. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Feeling that every commendable move should be encouraged, that has for its object better loyalty, better morals, better citizenry, and better government, I take this occasion to congratulate you on the very able, fitting and timely editorial today, entitled "The Mandate."

To my mind it is a masterpiece, and coming at this time will be effectual in reminding the ordinary citizen of his responsibility, and encourage the official in performing his obligations.

Please pardon me in suggesting that similar articles along the line of obligations and responsibilities of lodges and clubs are needed. The collective violation or evasion of prohibition laws is too often taken as an excuse for the individual.

The effect of the press has a large bearing on public sentiment and only in acknowledgment of that, am I writing this letter. D. W. WALKER.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I very much appreciated your editorial in yesterday's issue of The Times entitled "The Mandate."

As you clearly set forth, prohibition will come only when the better element of our citizenship voluntarily observes the law and creates a public opinion which will make the so-called good citizen feel uncomfortable when violating it.

More education along this line will ultimately result in a successful administration of the act. ARTHUR W. ECKMAN.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Yesterday's editorial, "The Mandate," is one of the very best I have ever read on the prohibition question. It places the matter of enforcement squarely where it belongs—on the honor and the humanitarian sentiment of the people themselves, especially those who by education and civic prominence should be the last ones to violate the law, but who, alas, are the very worst offenders, which everybody knows. The article was certainly a corker.

A. W. BECKER.

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to express my appreciation of your editorial in today's Times on prohibition enforcement.

If all the large papers of our country had the backbone to come out for what they know to be right even from any angle one might look at it except a purely selfish basis, this law would be enforced or found out that it could not be, and proper remedies provided. Education through the newspapers will be a large factor in the right direction. Give more and more of straight from the shoulder truth. A Times reader.

JOHN D. KELLY.

THEN I SHALL SING

All morning I climbed the blossoming hills,
Singing, singing, singing!
At noon I stand on the sunlit peak,
Wondering why, with all my joys
And my heart so full of melodies,
I sang so poorly.
And I hope that one day I may sing
A song more worthy of Her I love.
As the sun goes west I shall walk down hill,
Composing a song to my Beloved,
Softly I'll enter the twilight vale,
Where I shall find Her, alone in the silence,
Waiting—waiting for me!
Then shall I sing the song that my heart
So long has been aching to sing!
And I know She will say: "I have heard, I have heard
Your heart's music along the way—
But, of all your songs, the last is best."
And She will smile and take my hand
And lead me away—lead me away
To my home among the hills of heaven,
And I shall go on singing.

The First Noel

This favorite Christmas carol will be sung on the streets of Los Angeles by 15,000 minstrels on Christmas Eve under direction of the Playground and Recreation Department. The complete set, as published in this column of The Times, makes an authentic collection of Yuletide songs.

They looked up and saw a star Shining in the East beyond them far,
And to the earth it gave great light And so it continued both day and night.

This star drew nigh to the northwest, O'er Bethlehem it took its rest,
And there it did both stop and stay, Right over the place where Jesus lay.

AT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

BY IRENE WILDE,
Hollenbeck Junior High School

Yes, teachers are people. If anyone doubts it, let him mix with them during institute week.

Mrs. Dorsey told us maternally in a bulletin two years ago that we were not to knit, crochet, or sew on Christmas presents at any institute session, no matter how uninteresting the speaker proved. The taxpayers are paying us for attending these lectures, and we are to give attention, she said, or words to that effect. In that same epochal bulletin she also confided to us her own recourse on dull occasions. If the speaker proves hopelessly uninteresting, "I withdraw into myself and occupy the time in profitable meditation," she admitted.

There hasn't been any knitting or crocheting at institute since; but at almost any institute session one may detect the stamp of ill-concealed "meditation" on innumerable faces.

But the speeches are not always dull by any means. In our sixty-two-page booklet program this year there is an embarrassment of riches in subjects ranging from "Teachers' Interest in Beauty Surgeon Problems" to "Poetry as Spiritual Vision."

The average teacher selects—proof of her humanity—sessions that promise entertainment and inspiration regardless of whether they are in her particular field or not, a fact which explains an attendance of 2000 at an Oral Arts presentation, when there are only about 150 oral arts teachers employed in the city schools. Of course there are a few conscientious souls who can be counted on deliberately to select a dull subject by a dull speaker in their own field in preference to a lively theme in another; but such are, fortunately, rare.

Wherever two or three teachers are gathered together during institute week such fragmentary bits as the following may be heard:

"There's going to be a luncheon at ——"

"Will it count? We must get in ten sessions, you know."

Oh, yes, it counts double. There's a luncheon speaker, and after that an address on . . ."

Such sessions are deservedly popular. They afford an opportunity for the satisfaction of both social and professional needs and support the happy assertion, made by one of their number, that teachers are people.

DECISION ON COAST ROAD LINK UPHELD

Superior Court Sustained and Obstacle Removed to Rindge Estate Highway

One of the last obstacles to the opening of the San Juan Capistrano-Oxnard coast highway through the Rindge estate in the Malibu Hills north of Santa Monica was removed yesterday when the Appellate Court sustained a Superior Court decision condemning a right of way and awarding the Marbelhead Land Company $82,000 damages.

Work on the construction of the last link of the highway already has been started under the Superior Court decision. The right of way was condemned by Los Angeles county, which will pay the damages, and the actual grading and surfacing of the highway is being done by the State Highway Commission.

The case was taken before the Appellate Court on the appeal of the land company, which asserted that the damages were insufficient because no allowance was made for improvements. The company also contended that the county could not acquire the right of way for State use under the present laws.

Presiding Justice Conrey and Associate Justice York, who signed the decision, overruled both grounds for appeal.

Accused Fires on ex-Wife and Her Husband as They Sit at Dinner Table

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Mr. and Mrs. J. K. White are in the Ramona Hospital in a critical condition tonight and Eugene H. Howeth, 41 years of age, former Los Angeles police officer, and Mrs. White's former husband, is being held by local police on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

EUGENE H. HOWETH

Howeth is asserted to have visited the White residence at 128 Willis avenue while the couple were at dinner and brandished a revolver. "Now I've got you both together," the former policeman is reported to have declared, and started shooting when White grappled with him.

The woman was shot through the shoulder and just above the heart and another bullet passed through White's hand and into his back. Mrs. White ran to a neighbor's home and collapsed and her former husband left the residence in a taxicab.

Howeth told police that he shot the couple because they owed him $3500 and refused to pay despite many requests made by him, it was reported. White, however, denied the assertion and declared that it was jealousy which prompted the attack.

The asserted assailant surrendered to a patrolman.

Howeth and Mrs. White were divorced four years ago, the former told police, and a year later she married her present husband, who is a locomotive engineer employed by a cement company. Howeth was appointed an emergency patrolman in Los Angeles in 1915 and served in that capacity periodically until 1924, when he resigned.

LIONS' SANTA CLAUS GREETS BOYS TODAY

The annual Christmas party of the Los Angeles Lions Club will be held during the weekly luncheon in the Biltmore today noon. The club will be hosts to a group of boys from the Lark Ellen Home, which is sponsored by the organization. Santa Claus will be present to distribute gifts and a Christmas tree will be erected for the occasion. The Lions of the club, their ladies and their children will be present. The program will be broadcast over radio KHJ from 12:45 to 1:30 p.m. Charlie Wellman will be master of ceremonies.

HISTORICAL HOUSE RINGS WITH MUSIC

Program Presented at Olivera-Street Building in Drive to Preserve It

For the purpose of stimulating interest in the move to preserve the historical old Abila house on Olivera street, between 200 and 300 Mexican and other residents gathered in front of the building yesterday afternoon for a program of speaking and music.

Characterized by Mrs. Christine Sterling as a Christmas good will gathering, the audience was addressed by F. Alfonso Pesqueira, Mexican Consul; Rev. Eucario M. Sein, pastor of the Plaza Mexican Methodist Episcopal Church; Carlos Tamborrel, Mrs. Sterling and others. A program of Mexican musical selections was presented by the orchestra of Maestro Ignacio Castillo, director of the Boston Opera Company, and of La Nacional de Mexico.

The building, declared to be one of the oldest in the city, once served as headquarters for Gen. Fremont, Kit Carson, Commodore Stockton and other historical characters. Recently it was condemned by the city health authorities. In an effort to preserve it because of its historical importance, Mrs. Sterling leased the site and now is endeavoring to raise funds by popular subscription for its rehabilitation.

VALUE OF AVOCATION STRESSED

State Director Hume in Talk Here Says Everyone Should Have Side Line

"With most of our schools accepting vocational education there is a danger of losing sight of the importance of avocation in man's daily life," Samuel Hume, State director of avocation in education, told approximately 150 members and visitors of the California Art Club at a dinner meeting of the club last night in Barnsdall Park.

"Man needs relief from the humdrum of daily work," Mr. Hume stated, "which to him is his vocation. Tell me what a man does when he has nothing to do and my department will be able to tell you a great deal about him.

"Bridge, at times, is a pleasing avocation, but every night in the week it ceases to fulfill a purpose and should be transferred to the vocational field and followed as a means of livelihood.

"The world needs cultural education and it can be best developed by inviting the masses to give thought to idle moments."

Henry C. Niese, local Consul for Argentina, stressed the need for North American artists to acquaint themselves with the high development of the fine arts in the capitals of South American countries.

A letter of greeting to the club members from Aline Barnsdall, donor to the city and the art club of the crown of Olive Hill, rechristened Barnsdall Park in her honor, was read.

Yuletide Cake to Rule in Menu

A Christmas cake gleaming with sugar ice and topped with a frosted "snow man" will be Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman's culinary tribute to the Yuletide at The Times cooking school this afternoon at 1:30 in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

Recipes in response to the requests entered last week will be given and the menu entrees to be demonstrated include crisp Swiss pancakes, a dish popular throughout the holiday season in Switzerland, Rissoto Milanaise and Spanish macaroni.

CHIROPRACTOR FINED BUT ESCAPES LOCK-UP

David Greenwood, chiropractor, was fined $150 and given a thirty-day jail sentence yesterday in Judge Pope's court when he was found guilty of operating a bathhouse without a license. The jail sentence later was suspended by the court.

Angeleno Keeps Rare Souvenir of Royal Pair

With world interest centered on the British royal family, Charles E. Chamberlin of 6352 Lockhaven avenue is exhibiting a rare souvenir of the wedding of Albert Edward and Alexandra, Prince and Princess of Wales, at the time of their marriage March 10, 1863.

The portraits of the royal pair are on a silk plaque, appropriately done in colors. The inscription says: "Married at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, March 10, 1863. Their Royal Highnesses Albert Edward and Alexandra, Prince and Princess of Wales."

Mr. Chamberlin was given the plaque thirty-five years ago by a neighbor, at Braddock, Pa.

Mr. Chamberlin values his souvenir of the British royal family so much that he keeps it in a safety deposit box.

DAVIS DECLINES BANQUET

Shirley Meserve, president of the Interfraternity Council, yesterday received a message from John W. Davis stating that the latter will be unable to attend the interfraternity banquet at the Elks' Club on the evening of the 27th inst. Fraternity men at the annual feast will hear several speakers, including motion-picture actors.

COUNTY SCHOOL CHIEF TEST SET

Superintendent Examination January 30

Position Open to State-wide Competition

Upjohn, Acting Since Keppel Death, Candidate

A State-wide competitive examination for the office of superintendent of public schools in Los Angeles county will be held January 30, next, according to an announcement made yesterday by Sam J. Chappel, secretary of the County Civil Service Commission.

The examination will start at 8:30 a.m. and will be held in the examination room of the commission on the tenth floor of the Hall of Records.

PAY $9000 A YEAR

The pay of the County Superintendent of Schools at the present time is $9000 a year. This amount, it is believed, will be sufficient to induce some of the best talent in the State to compete for the office.

The requirements of the candidates call for men with college or university training with bachelor degrees, their credentials from California schools. Thus the examination is held within the State and is not made nation-wide.

The candidates entering the race must have ten years of experience teaching during the last twelve years and must have a full knowledge of school law, tact, diplomacy and a knowledge of the civil service rules.

UPJOHN CHIEF CONTESTANT

Principal among the candidates who will try for the office is Hubert S. Upjohn, for many years chief assistant to County Superintendent Mark Keppel, who died six months ago. He has been acting superintendent of the schools of the county and will continue until a man has been chosen to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mr. Keppel.

The rating basis in the scope of the examination is: Written examination, 30; general fitness, education and specific experience, 70.

The examiners appointed by the commission for the coming examination are: Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the University of California, Los Angeles; Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; State Superintendent of Public Instruction Cooper; President Dexter, Whittier College; B. E. Davis, examiner of the County Civil Service Commission, and Sam Chappel, secretary of the County Civil Service Commission. He is also the chief examiner.

PROTESTS DATE SET BACK

The Council yesterday continued until February 21 hearing of protests against the widening of Council street between Edgemont street and Alexandria avenue and the improvement of Kilkea Drive between Beverly Boulevard and Third street.

An example of what a thousand miles of ordinary driving with ordinary gasoline can do—oil 31% gasoline"—thinning caused by incomplete burning of "wet" gas

Correct this vicious circle with "DRY" GAS

"WET" gasoline that doesn't vaporize completely runs down the cylinder walls and thins your oil. Then the thinned oil can't seal the pistons properly, so more gas gets past them and further thins the oil!

You've probably seen the lubrication man drain the crankcase, and you've undoubtedly noticed how thin the old oil is—particularly if you've been using ordinary "wet" gasoline.

Heretofore there wasn't much you could do about it. Gasoline was wasted, oil was ruined, the car suffered, but none knew how to correct it. Repair men recommended new and tighter piston rings; oil refiners tried to overcome thinning with special lubricants.

And all the time gasoline was to blame. "Wet" gasoline, filled with heavy "wet" particles that failed to burn.

Shell 400 is a "dry" gas. Exact refining has eliminated the "wet" fractions and produced a fuel that goes all into power and miles—the things you buy gasoline for.

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, is more costly to make—there is less of it in a barrel of crude oil—but it costs you no more than the "wet" gas you've been using. All yellow and red Shell pumps sell it—there is no other Shell gasoline sold.

Fill up with it. Begin now to dodge the vicious, never-ending circle of thin oil and "wet" gasoline.

SHELL 400 The "DRY" GAS

Shell Gift Scrip in books of five, ten and twenty dollar value is on sale at all Shell Company operated stations and at many Shell dealers. An ideal gift for any one who drives a car. Ask about it when you buy gasoline or oil.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the luncheon with which Miss Virginia Laswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Laswell of Windsor Boulevard, entertained yesterday afternoon at the Los Angeles Country Club in honor of Miss Dolores Whiffen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin U. Whiffen of Santa Monica, whose betrothal to William Wallace Barton, son of Mrs. Merrill Clancy of Brentwood, was announced recently.

The Yuletide motif was effectively carried out and the feature of the afternoon was the announcement made by Miss Laswell of her betrothal to James Edwin Addicott, Jr., of San Francisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwin Addicott of San Francisco and Honolulu. The news, which came as a great surprise to the guests, was told by the place cards, which were red parchment envelopes in which were inclosed white parchment cards representing a newspaper at which a young couple were looking at the names of the betrothed, which were engraved, and a tiny bungalow in the background.

No date is set as yet for the wedding.

A silver metal cloth covered the great U-shaped luncheon table and the centerpiece was of crimson roses, poinsettias, English holly and lighted by tall red candles in silver holders.

The guests included Mmes. Thomas Cannon, Carl Verheyen, Aileen McDonald, W. L. Miles, Theodore Rackerby, Justin Kennedy, Thacher Taylor, Harry Slater, Nell Baldwin, Sid Van Keuren, Virginia Bishop-McCarry, Henry Bollman, Merle Sproule, Ray McGuire, Clinton La Tourrette, Gerold Mangenheimer, Frank Forbes, James [illegible], Leroy Taft, Roger Laswell, Hiram Cassidy, Lewis Reed, Eleanor Rogers, Thomas Quine, Edward Wormhoudt, Richard Fewel, Daniel Ferguson, Clem Atwater, Hayes Busch, Charnley Atwater, Harold Godshall, Francis Wells, Richard Gibson, Lee Bernay, Adele Jaffray, George Meredith, Sanford Wilson, Edwin Linthicum, Charles Heming, Misses Dolores Whiffen, Glory Kennedy, Helen Heath, Mathilda Ray, Mary McAlister, Jane Phillips, Houston Jones, Peggy Quinlan, Elizabeth Herron, Geraldine Herron, Charlotte Edwards, Sue Keithly, Virginia Tharpe, Louise Brodin, Mayre Benninger, Amorita Hawpe, Zella Ingraham, Lois Ingraham, Maxine Kells, Florence Hamburger, Marjorie Rankine, Georgia Ridge, Mary Clarke, Mary Lou Monte, Vivian Foy, Billie Gordon and Dorothy Henry.

Mrs. Laswell assisted her daughter in receiving her guests.

Gone Abroad

Mrs. Egbert J. Benedict of Covina, accompanied by her son, George Gilson, left yesterday morning for New York City, where they will pass the Christmas holidays. They are planning to sail aboard an Italian liner January 6 by way of the Mediterranean for the winter in Italy and Southern France.

Many lovely affairs were given in honor of Mrs. Benedict before she left for the East.

Formal Tea

The Los Angeles alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority were delightfully entertained recently by Mrs. Moye Wicks Stephens at her lovely home, 920 Kings Road, the tea table, candles and appointments carrying out the early winter motif. The hostess was assisted by the alumnae officers, including Mrs. Charles Cecil Calvert, Mrs. Frederick Conant, Mrs. Harold Tunison, Mrs. William Leake, Mrs. Gerald White, Mrs. Eugene Ramsey, Mrs. O. J. Haynes, Mrs. Robert R. Robertson, Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. Karl Davis, Miss Josephine Joplin and Miss Dorothy Pavis.

Fifty guests responded to the invitations.

Delightful Affair

The English Speaking Union, Los Angeles chapter, in conjunction with the Los Angeles Drama League, are issuing cards for a reception and tea Thursday afternoon, the 27th inst., at the Women's Athletic Club, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the especial guests of honor being Mr. and Mrs. Archibald D. Flower of Stratford-on-Avon, Eng.

Mr. [illegible] will speak at half past three on Stratford and the Shakespearean players. Reservations may be made through the English Speaking Union.

Coming to the Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderlip are planning to leave New York and come to the Southland, arriving here soon after January 1, and will be at home to their many friends here at their wonderful rancho at Palos Verdes for several months.

In Gotham

Mr. and Mrs. George I. Cochran are in New York City, where they are planning to stay until after the New Year. They are domiciled at the Plaza.

Betrothal Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Vay Hampton, of 345 North Mariposa [illegible] announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret, to Gene Trago, formerly of Santa Ana, now of New York City. Mr. Trago was graduated from Leland Stanford University in 1923 and was a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity, the honorary dramatic and theatrical fraternity, and was prominent in the college theatricals of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Miss Hampton, a member of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority and Delta Tau Mu, honorary professional sorority, and the Merry Maskers Dramatic Club at the University of California at Los Angeles, has just returned from a most delightful trip of several months' in the Hawaiian Islands, where she was the guest of Miss Virginia Byrd, a sorority sister, whose brother is a captain in the United States Navy, stationed in Honolulu. The marriage will take place in Riverside the 26th inst., and they will leave at once on an eastern honeymoon trip. They will pass New Year's at the Grand Canyon of Arizona. From there they will go to New Orleans and Memphis, Tenn. They will make their home in New York City.

Luncheon Party

A gay dinner party was the affair given at the Montmartre Cafe last Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. L. Frederick De Kane in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott Barnes of Washington. Pink roses with blue delphinium were the floral decorations that added to the attraction of the dinner table. Among the

POTATO PORK DUMPLINGS

Mix four cupfuls of peeled and grated raw potatoes with one teaspoonful of salt and enough sifted flour to make a soft dough; roll into small even-sized balls and roll into the center of each ball, a small cube of fresh pork, seasoned with salt and pepper and onion juice. Drop the balls into boiling salted water and boil fast for one and a half hours. Drain well, place on a hot plate and pour over melted butter mixed with finely chopped parsley.

PUREE OF LENTILS

Cover two cupfuls of lentils with warm water and let stand overnight. Drain well, place in a soup pot, add two quarts of water, bring slowly to a boil, skim and simmer for two hours. Place in a frying pan one tablespoonful of butter, one sliced onion, six branches of parsley, one bay leaf and one quarter of a teaspoonful of thyme; stir and cook until the onion is lightly browned and add to the hot soup. Cook until the lentils are soft, rub through a sieve into a clean saucepan, stir in one well-beaten egg, smooth with a little of the soup. Season with salt, pepper and a little mace.

BOILED DINNER

Place in a pot a five-pound piece of corned brisket of beef, cover with cold water and bring quickly to the boiling point. Take it off the fire and remove the scum, reduce the heat and simmer for a half hours. Skim fat from the broth and pour enough of the broth into a clean saucepan to cook the head of cabbage, three parsnips, six peeled and quartered turnips, six peeled and quartered potatoes, and three carrots. Cook the beets in a separate saucepan. When the meat simmer until the vegetables are tender. Then put the cabbage on a hot platter, surround with the meat cut in slices and pour over the cooked vegetables. Serve with fresh mixed English mustard and fresh horseradish.

PUMPKIN PIE

Beat two eggs and beat into them one cupful of brown sugar, one and a half cupfuls of canned pumpkin, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of ground cloves, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of ground ginger, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of ground allspice, one teaspoonful of salt, and one and one-half cupfuls of milk. Beat for two minutes, pour into a deep pie tin, set in a moderate oven and bake ten minutes, reduce the heat and bake slowly for forty minutes. Let stand until cold and serve.

Mrs. Wyman does not answer mail requests for recipes, as the demonstrations published every Tuesday and Friday reproduce [illegible] reserved. W. A. L. Wyman.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Reading Plaits

Plaits should be ironed with the band holding them in line with the grain of the goods. Then they will always hang straight lines.

Expert Advice

If your baby is not well, don't listen to the instructions or advice of each neighbor or friend. You will be hopelessly confused. Call your doctor and follow his instructions to the letter. Instead of doing the many other things the directions given you that are sure to apply to their baby and not to yours at all.

An Attractive Bay

Use chins of a different color from that used by the rest of the family on the gray bay room. It gives a note of cheer to the invalid and makes it easier to keep the dishes spotlessly clean. The finest china will appear on the invalid's tray and create an appetite just by appearance.

The Forgotten Bread Box

So many people forget to keep their bread box sweet by occasionally sharpening the knife. Sharpening it costs little and is an economy as a sharp knife cuts much thinner and neater slices.

A Little Water

When not in use, all washbowls and bowls should have a couple of inches of water in them. Otherwise the wood will become too dry, shrink and crack.

Apartment Life

If space is needed in the kitchenette, try using a tiny shelf instead of a dish pan for the dishes right in the sink. Many housewives prefer this method as they can rinse their dishes and put them under the hot-water faucet.

A Little Courtesy

If your next-door neighbor is entertaining her bridge club, select that day to beat out all your dusters or to clean your pantry. The consideration of such small attentions will be appreciated by your neighbor.

Matching Colors

When you start a new piece of embroidery cotton, cut off a few inches of it and tie to the skein on which is the number of the shade. Put this away and if more is needed you will have no trouble matching it.

Clears the Atmosphere

A very simple, but good, preparation for the sick room is to put a teaspoonful of iodine in a shallow box and sprinkle a few drops over the top. Stand the box where the air will carry the fumes all over the room. The room will be disinfected.

Clean Sink

Rub soap under the rim of the sink before starting any kind of a stove cleaning and then wash it off. When you wash your kitchen floor you will find no trace of the dirt has been able to penetrate the soap and no danger of it getting into your milk.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Clark McCoy

Mrs. A. L. Wyman has good cookery in South Broadway.

covered for fifteen or twenty minutes without adding any water. When ready to serve remove cover and place under broiler flame until slightly browned on top. Serve with butter.

Melba toast dressing: Grind a sufficient amount of Melba toast and moisten with milk. Add the desired quantity of ground celery, minced ripe olives and raisins. Mix together thoroughly and use as stuffing for turkey or chicken.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

GLASSY EYES

Question: Mrs. L. writes: "The articles you have in the paper are a great help to me, and here is a question I'd like to ask: What is the cause of one's eyes getting glassy and what should one do to cure this in a person between 30 and 40 years of age?"

Answer: You may be suffering from some form of thyroid derangement, such as exophthalmic goitre. This disorder is so named because it has the effect of making the eyes protrude and look glassy.

DOUBLE CHINS

Q.: Mrs. William E. asks: "Will you please publish again the exercises for getting rid of double chins. Several of us will be interested in seeing this."

A.: Any of the neck exercises will help in reducing a double chin. This one is especially effective: Tense the neck muscles and quickly throw the head back, keeping the muscles tense. Repeat this several times and gradually increase the number of times each day. Another exercise is taken by placing a pillow against the wall and leaning with the forehead against the pillow so that the muscles on the front of the neck are tensed. Roll the head from side to side in this position.

BRONCHITIS AND LARYNGITIS

Q.: Mrs. D. P. asks: "Will you kindly tell me the difference between bronchitis and laryngitis, and sympotoms of each?"

A.: The symptoms are very similar in some ways, but with bronchitis there is usually a whistling sound heard during breathing and more mucus is coughed up. In laryngitis the inflammation is mostly in the throat and may or may not be accompanied with mucus. Any doctor can tell you the difference in a minute's diagnosis.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

MAKING GIFTS

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Half the child's joy in Christmas comes from the presents he himself gives, and the presents he enjoys giving most are those which he himself has planned and made.

Although he is eager to give presents, which will be a joy to the recipients, he usually needs a little help in order that he may feel that he has chosen something suitable, and made it so well that it is fit to give to someone he loves.

The following suggestions will help the child make things which are appropriate and still preserve for him his own creative joy in preparation for the great event:

Let him start to make his gifts early enough so that they will be finished without the undue haste which makes for carelessness and slovenly workmanship. Let him begin late enough, too, so that the span of interest and suspense carries over to Christmas Day. The thing he sets out to make must be well within his powers, and not so complicated that his interest in the work drags and the work becomes monotonous. The very little child should not attempt anything that he cannot finish in one or two sittings.

In helping the child decide what he should give, we must remember that no small part of his pleasure lies in trying himself to think of exactly the gift which will be most pleasing to the recipient. We must try to direct his decision so that he will use any special aptitudes and skills he may have. The child who has a feeling for color should be encouraged to exploit it. The child who is handy with his hammer should use it.

Here are some things which even very little children can make well enough to feel that the result is worthy of its purpose: little calendars pasted on bright mats; blotters decorated with pictures which have been cut out and pasted on; a gay bowl, bought for a few cents, planted with bulbs set in pebbles; paper weights of clay, painted and given a hard surface with shellac; a wooden rack on which to place mother's flower pots.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 4 weeks to 4 years; prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother; constipation; enemas; outfits for the new baby; sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking; adenoids; colic; bed wetting; training in cleanly habits; periods of nursing; cod liver oil; orange juice; hives; worms; vomiting; refractory children; prune juice; lime water; rupture; styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

AN EXCEPTIONAL 4-YEAR-OLD

Here is the "picture" of an exceptionally brilliant child of 4 years. He has been taught by the parents and also has acquired a great deal of knowledge by digging it out for himself. His social behavior is advanced as his knowledge of language and his mental age. Here he is.

"Our boy was 4 in July. Before he reached this age he could do the following:

"At 44 months he was taught his letters and numbers; he learned them very quickly and easily and immediately began to spell out his name and a few short words on an educational board he had been given for Christmas.

"At 45 months he had a craze for clocks and by asking numerous times during the day what time it was he learned to tell time accurately every five minutes in the day, never getting the hands confused.

"At 46 months calendars were his hobby and by being a keen observer and asking lots of questions and having a wonderful memory he learned the months and days of the week, so that he could not only rattle them off but spell them. He could look up any day of the year and tell what day it came on; knew all the holidays and dates of each; knew the number of days in each month. In short, there was nothing about calendars he didn't know. We finally took them away from him and haven't given them back.

"At 47 months he had learned to count from clock and calendar and with a little help could get to 100.

"At 48 months he could print the entire alphabet, learning to do this entirely alone. We never gave him a copy nor did he refer to his A.B.C. book. He soon began printing words of four and five letters. These words he got from grocery labels or things about the house or street signs, service stations, headings of newspapers and so on. I realized he was learning to spell but finally checked up and found he could spell over 200 words of three or more letters. Of these he has never been taught to spell more than 10 per cent, though when he asked us to spell something for him we always did. Once he hears it he runs and writes it down and never asks again.

"His health is very good, never has a sick day, never naps but sleeps well at night. He is rather underweight, nervous and imaginative. Will you please advise if we should take his pencils and paper away. He loves them more than his finest toy. He gets more pleasure making cards to put on his velocipede than in riding it. I notice he is beginning to stammer a little."

ANSWER

An exceptional child. He should be allowed to have his pencils and paper but not at the expense of his exercise outdoors, and playing of games which stimulate the large muscles. He is doing work now suitable to the 7-year-old. Get him a toy upon which to climb and hang, make him stay out at least three hours daily and teach him how to skip, hop, gallop and run in time to musical or rhythmical beats. A drum will help if you haven't a piano.

Longer Life

After using the hot water bag, hang it upside down to drain for several hours. Then blow air into it and screw in the top. This will prevent the sides from rotting by sticking together when hot in use.

Careless

If someone has left their chewing gum parked on your carefully guarded furniture, rub the marks left from it with a cloth moistened with olive oil. All traces of the gum will wipe away.

At the Card Party

Take a few minutes from your game of cards and put up the windows just long enough to change the air in the room. You will all feel refreshed and play a better game of bridge.

KELLSTROM MUST STAY IN LOCK-UP

Judge Upholds Bonding Company Demand Against Former Store Owner

Superior Judge McComb yesterday decided that O. K. Kellstrom, former owner of the now bankrupt United Fashion Stores of Hollywood, must stay in jail a few days longer.

The ruling was made by Judge McComb in denying Kellstrom's motion for his release. He was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff and the surety company on his bond released from responsibility.

Kellstrom was arrested under the code of procedure for civil arrest two years ago when Mrs. Ada Moore filed a suit for $14,000 against him, asserting fraud. She asserted the money was loaned to Kellstrom to invest in the United Fashions Stores. At the time he was released on bond pending the trial of the case.

The suit went to trial recently and yesterday Superior Judge Rector made a ruling in favor of Mrs. Moore. Following the decision the bonding company immediately handed Kellstrom over to the Sheriff and demanded that he be locked up in order to safeguard the company's interests.

Represented by Attorney William Morse, Jr., Kellstrom immediately filed a motion for a release which came before Judge McComb, who decided that the defendant must stay in jail, at least until judgment has been entered or a new bond obtained.

At the close of the hearing Attorney Morse said that an appeal will be taken.

CLOTHES UNMAKE MAN

Wilmot M. Tobey was so slovenly in his dress and personal appearance that it caused his wife, Annie C. Tobey, great mental anguish, she recited before Superior Judge Bishop yesterday when asking for a divorce. The worst of it was, she told the court, while he ran around not caring about his clothes, he nagged her because of her dress and conduct. She was granted a decree.

Suicide Threat Liberates Wife

One of Wiseman C. Smith's methods toward his wife was to emerge from their bathroom flourishing an old-fashioned razor, which he drew back and forth across his throat, threatening to kill himself, Mrs. Lydia R. Smith testified yesterday when asking Superior Judge Price to grant her a divorce.

This frightened her terribly and she called for help. A decree was granted.

RITES TOMORROW FOR LUMBER MAN'S WIFE

Last rites for Mrs. Frances Munger True, 63 years of age, 428 South Mariposa street, wife of A. W. True, prominent lumber man of Chicago and Los Angeles, will be conducted at Brosee Brothers Undertaking Company, 855 South Figueroa street, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in the mausoleum at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Mrs. True, who had lived in Los Angeles about twelve years, was a member of the Ebell Club and of St. Paul's Cathedral. Dean Harry Beal will officiate at the funeral.

LA BREA OPTIMISTS HOLD SPANISH FIESTA

The La Brea Optimists Club held an open-air Spanish fiesta luncheon at Fourth and La Brea streets at noon yesterday and the funds collected will be devoted to the Christmas celebration tomorrow night for the inmates of the Strickland Boys' Home. Mayor Cryer, Councilmen and several hundred persons attended the fiesta-luncheon. H. L. Booker of the La Brea branch of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank and vice-president of the Optimist Club, was in charge of the program.

Wilson offers an ideal place to spend the coming holidays.

ROOF BALLROOM PLANNED

In addition to the Montmartre Cafe, for which elaborate plans are being made for New Year's Eve, Eddie Brandstatter will operate the ballroom on top of the Hollywood Storage Building, it is reported. Brandstatter will call this the Club Royale, and it will be one of the bright spots of Los Angeles and vicinity on New Year's Eve, according to plans now scheduled.

CAROLS AT ROOSEVELT

Famous old Christmas carols sung by the choir of the Hollywood Congregational Church will regale Christmas Eve diners at Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, through arrangements just made by J. A. Hadley, managing director of the Roosevelt.

Starting at 7 o'clock, the singers will present a program around the huge Christmas tree to be erected in the lobby this evening.

NEW SHOW AT OAKS TAVERN

A new show opened at the Oaks Tavern Cafe recently, included in which are "China Girl," featuring Miss Jackie Shannon and Walter Van; Melba Roy, a newcomer to the Tavern; Miss Helen Miller in special offerings and Bob Holman's "Revelers." Frank Rieter, proprietor of the Oaks Tavern, makes it a habit of personally greeting many of his patrons at the door.

BUILDING PLANS REVEALED

Corporation Gives Data on Pantages Theater and Office Structure in Hollywood

Confirming a news story of the development project printed exclusively in The Times yesterday, details of the new Pantages theater and office building to be erected at Hollywood Boulevard and Argyle street were made public last night by the Bartlett Syndicate Building Corporation.

The building, which is designed by R. Marcus Priteca, architect, will consist of two separate improvements, fronting on Hollywood Boulevard, a height-limit commercial building of Class A construction, and in the rear, but accessible from the boulevard by a fifty-foot wide court, the theater building, a structure that will contain seats for 3500 persons. The investment will approximate $2,500,000, it was declared.

SYNDICATE OFFICERS

The Bartlett Syndicate Building Corporation was formed by Frank R. Strong. Its officers are George L. Reynolds, president, and Gilbert H. Beecemyer, G. W. Dickinson, Walter R. Wheat, Thomas D. Barnett, E. W. Stanfield, A. E. Taft, W. E. Dimmock and N. R. Wilmn, directors. Rodney and Lloyd Pantages, in association with their father, Alexander Pantages, took a twenty-five-year lease on the theater portion of the building.

"I began business with one theater and now have sixty-six houses all over the country," said the elder Pantages as he discussed the deal last night. "Now I am starting my sons in the business with one theater and expect them to beat my record. Hollywood will be the center of theater activities in Los Angeles and the Hollywood-Vine area will be the heart of the amusement center."

WIDE FRONTAGE

The commercial building will have a frontage on Hollywood Boulevard of 210 feet and 310 feet on Argyle street.

The main theater entrance will be on Hollywood Boulevard and at the end of the court the theater patron will enter a grand lobby, designed to be 106 feet long by forty-five feet wide, with a forty-foot ceiling. Exits from the theater will be provided on both Vine and Argyle streets. The theater auditorium will be 140 feet wide by 170 feet long, with a low balcony entered from a mezzanine promenade. The stage will have a fifty-foot proscenium arch and will be forty-two feet deep.

City Attorney to Pass on Plea

An opinion from the City Attorney on the legality of the city leasing a portion of playground property near the Arroyo Seco swimming pool for the erection of a club or community house for war veterans is sought by the Playground and Recreation Commission, as the result of a petition for the lease by representatives of Highland Park Post, No. 208, of the American Legion.

The delegation, composed of Commander Theodore Stearns, Past Commanders Clifford Britton, George Terhune and Van W. Bishop; Adj. Thomas Estabrook; Jack Worsley, president of the Highland Park Commercial Club, and others, appeared before the board, explaining that the ground sought was not being used and it would be a favor to the veterans to provide space where they could erect their own community structure.

BUSINESS GIRLS ASKED TO CORNER CLUB FETE

All business girls of Los Angeles are invited to the Christmas party to be given by the Girls' Corner Club, at 6 p.m. on the 24th inst. at Philharmonic Auditorium, Mrs. Frances Neth, president of the club, announced yesterday. The musical program will include selections by the boys' choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, and songs by the Corner Club Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Guy Bush. Santa Claus and his wife will be present with gifts.

HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1217

America In the 20th Century
Early Automobiles

by J. CARROLL MANSF

THE EARLY 20TH CENTURY WITNESSED THE COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT OF ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTORS IN OUR MODERN LIFE, THE AUTOMOBILE. THE MOTORCAR OF TODAY HAS SPRUNG FROM A LONG LINE OF INTERESTING ANCESTORS. THE FIRST SELF-PROPELLING VEHICLE WAS INVENTED BY CUGNOT, A FRENCH ENGINEER, IN 1771.

EARLY IN THE 19TH CENTURY STEAM ROAD COACHES CAME INTO USE IN ENGLAND, AND WERE AN IMPORTANT MODE OF TRAVEL UNTIL 1831, WHEN THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT DECIDED TO PROMOTE THE BUILDING OF RAILWAYS. IN THAT YEAR THE STEAM COACHES WERE BARRED FROM THE PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

STEAM-DRIVEN WAGONS WERE BUILT IN THE UNITED STATES AS EARLY AS 1794, BUT WERE NEVER WIDELY USED. HOWEVER, EXPERIMENTS WITH POWER-DRIVEN VEHICLES CONTINUED. IN 1877 GEORGE B. SELDEN INVENTED A CARRIAGE PROPELLED BY A GAS ENGINE, AND IN 1895 WAS GRANTED A PATENT ENTIRELY COVERING THAT FIELD.

OTHER GAS-AUTOMOBILE OF SELDEN'S PATENT, AND A LONG SUIT IN COURTS FOLLOWED. MANY OF THESE OBTAINED LICENCES FROM SELDEN AND PAID HIM ROYALTIES. HENRY FORD, WITH A FEW OTHER MANUFACTURERS, KEPT UP THE LEGAL BATTLE. IN 1911 THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS DECIDED THAT FORD HAD NOT INFRINGED ON THE SELDEN PATENT, AS HIS ENGINE WAS A DIFFERENT TYPE.

Mrs. M'Pherson Averts Panic in Fire at Temple

Aimee Semple McPherson turned from the role of pastor at Angelus Temple long enough to avert what observers said bordered on a panic when a fire in the Christmas decorations of the church started from an eight-foot candle Wednesday afternoon, according to a fire department report yesterday.

The evangelist, according to Temple attaches, was commenting from the pulpit on the decorations when a woman in the choir called to Mrs. McPherson that one of the candles had started the fire. Eight invalids on cots were in front of the altar when the warning was sounded.

The temple was emptied quietly, it is reported, and the fire extinguished before any damage was done, the report says.

Cleaner's Bill Wins Divorce

It was only a little bit of paper, but it helped Mrs. Eva L. Parsons win a divorce from Charles Parsons yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Collier.

The paper was a bill from a San Francisco cleaner to Parsons for work on feminine wearing apparel for a woman other than Mrs. Parsons. She was granted a divorce.

Plans Arranged for Fete Here to Gen. Balbo

Plans for Gen. Italo Balbo, Minister of Aviation in Italy, who will be a guest of the government at naval airplane maneuvers at San Diego today, to fly back to Los Angeles in time to attend several receptions arranged for him tonight, have been completed, it was announced yesterday. The general and his party will arrive in Los Angeles over the Santa Fe this morning, but will depart immediately for San Diego to be on time for the maneuvers there.

Arrangements had been made to hold a reception for him in the afternoon and a dinner at night, but because the authorities in San Diego had scheduled the air maneuvers for today the reception plans had to be switched.

Gen Balbo and party will be met at Pasadena by F. M. Andreani and several others prominent in Italian circles in the city and the plan to fly back to Los Angeles will be broached. If the general agrees the banquet at the Elks' Club will be given according to schedule.

If he does not approve of the idea a reception will be planned for Saturday noon and he will be shown about the city Sunday.

American population in China has fallen off more than 3000 in the last three years.

Judge Stephens Reassigned to Appellate Court

Judge Stephens, senior member of the Superior Court bench, received notice yesterday of his designation to serve a three months' term on the Court of Appeals bench.

This is the second time the Judicial Council has called upon Judge Stephens to serve in the higher court. Last December he was given a similar designation; and was retained in the Appellate Court for more than six months. He is one of the few Superior Court judges who have been given two temporary appointments. During his first service he wrote opinions in some of the most important cases before the higher court.

Fall Off Roof Fatal for Man

William Duncan, 40 years of age of 4026 San Carlos street, suffered a fractured skull when he fell fifteen feet from the roof of a one-story building at Santa Barbara and Walton avenues while setting tiles on the roof yesterday.

He died later in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

NOTED NAVY FLYER WILL JOIN MADDUX

Lieut. Tomlinson, Leader of "Three Seahawks," to Direct Line's Operations

J. L. Maddux, president of Maddux Air Lines Company, yesterday announced that Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, leader of the famous combination of naval flyers known as the "Three Seahawks," has resigned his commission with the United States Navy to become vice-president in charge of operations of Maddux Air Lines Company.

Lieut. Tomlinson has been in the naval service for sixteen years, chiefly on the Pacific Coast and Honolulu, and has had wide experience in all forms of flying. He has attained wide fame as a leader in all forms of flying, and is considered one of the great aviators of the world.

Lieut. Tomlinson will assume his duties with the Maddum company shortly after January 1. He will make his headquarters in Los Angeles.

IOWANS MEET NEXT WEEK

The Iowa Association of Southern California will hold its annual reception, dinner and reunion next Friday evening, a week from today, at the Alexandria. All Iowans are invited.

Body of Smith Rests in Vault

The Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Cemetery was banked with California flowers at noon yesterday when last rites for Fred J. Smith, Hollywood clubman and well-known business man, were conducted by Dr. Robert E. Freeman of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. Interment was in one of the cemetery vaults.

Smith, who was 46 years of age at his death, was the son of Carrie Jacobs Bond, noted song writer. He ended his life in a mountain cabin following more than a year's illness. He leaves a widow and two children.

MEN'S CLUB TO GET NEW CASH REGISTER

Because the cash register of the Men's Club, 221½ South Main street, in behalf of homeless and needy men in the city, has broken down, the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday appropriated $455.70 for a new one yesterday. Average daily attendance at the Men's Club is approximately 4000, and small fees are charged for various services in order to help pay the maintenance. Total receipts for last week, a fair average, were $176.26.

Mrs. Hahn and Mother Injured

Mrs. S. S. Hahn and Mrs. Marie Pepe, her mother, suffered minor injuries at Seventh street and Pacific avenue, San Pedro, yesterday noon, when the car Mrs. Hahn was driving collided with one driven by Miss Evelyn Beddome, San Pedro waitress of 632 Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Pepe suffered a broken rib in her left side and was taken to San Pedro General Hospital. Mrs. Hahn escaped with abrasions about the knees and was able to return to her home at 1729 Angelus Drive, Beverly Hills. Miss Beddome was uninjured.

Police were investigating conflicting statements, both drivers insisting they had stopped for the intersection.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR OCTOGENARIAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Naomi Wager, 84 years of age, of 924 South Catalina street, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today at the Little Church of the Flowers. Mrs. Wager came here eight years ago from Colorado Springs, Colo. She leaves a brother Amos Ackroyd, and a daughter, Mrs. Eda Wellock. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

DEATH ENDS TWO WEEKS' WIDOWHOOD

Mrs. Sallie E. Mathews Succumbs to Influenza After Husband's Demise

Mrs. Sallie E. Mathews, 70 years of age, widow of the late Dr. Joseph Mathews, died of the influenza yesterday morning just two weeks after the death of her husband, at the Shoreham Hotel, 666 South Carondelet avenue.

Mrs. Mathews's illness dates from the period her husband was stricken. Both were treated in the same bedroom. When the husband, who was 81, died, little hope was held for Mrs. Mathews. She lingered in a coma until yesterday.

She came to California eighteen years ago from Versailles, Ky., where the family made their home until Dr. Mathews retired. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Evalene Miller, of the Shoreham Hotel. Funeral services will be conducted by A. E. Maynes of the George Fitch Mortuary Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Little Church of the Flowers.

A thrift competition at Surbiton, Eng., was won by a woman who made a boy's vest from the legs of an old pair of trousers.

The SILENT SCREEN TAKES VOICE

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

the dingy, musty nickelodeon with its lone piano player and illustrated songs, its silent screen and crude one-reel Indian thrillers. TODAY luxurious million dollar picture theatres as exemplified by West Coast Theatres Circuit on the Pacific, and the miracle of miracles, Fox Movietone—the film you hear and see.

Thus has the screen advanced from the birth of moving pictures in the fertile brain of Thomas A. Edison, to the present perfection of Fox Movietone talking pictures, the invention of Theodore Case, who with the encouragement and financial aid of William Fox, President of Fox Film Corporation, achieved what others had failed to do—the perfect synchronization of sound and motion picture, with the life-like reproduction of the human voice on the screen.

We still remember the sorry results of early experiments in talking pictures through the use of a phonograph record played behind the screen. Even today similar antiquated disk methods of sound reproduction are employed by other companies. Fox Movietone is the only perfected system, because the sound is actually photographed on the film.

And so, today, thanks to the miracle of Movietone, the screen takes voice—and LIFE! Today titles give way to the actual dialogue, spoken from the lips of the players. The phantom figures of the silent screen become real characters of flesh and blood—they live, they talk, they sing—you hear it all. A shout or a whisper, Fox Movietone brings it to you as clear and natural as life itself.

Today, thanks to Fox Movietone, you not only see your favorite stars of stage and screen, but you hear them, too. Today, you not only see the world's news, but Fox Movietone brings you the sound as well. Today, the world's greatest celebrities speak to you through Fox Movietone from the four corners of the globe—royalty in the persons of King George of England and King Alfonso of Spain, and international figures like George Bernard Shaw and Mussolini.

Fox Movietone has developed with amazing strides. The first subject shown publicly was Raquel Meller, Spanish artiste, in a cycle of songs, on January twenty-first, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-seven, in conjunction with a special performance of the Fox picture, "What Price Glory." On May twenty-fifth of the same year the first complete Movietone program was given in New York, in conjunction with a showing of "7th Heaven," the Fox Picture which has since won the Photoplay Magazine Medal for the best picture of the year.

On December third, the first regular issue of Fox Movietone News, the first talking newsreel, was shown. With a world-wide organization of newsreel crews recording the news in sound and picture, Fox Movietone News became a weekly feature, but its popularity with the public became so tremendous that two issues weekly were necessary. On December first, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-eight, a schedule of three weekly issues was put into effect. Now announcement comes from William Fox that further increases in the weekly schedule will be made until by June first, a daily issue will be released—one complete talking newsreel every day.

No less sensational has been the development of Fox Movietone all-talking features of short and full length, for the production of which the world's largest sound studio plant has been erected in Hollywood. This site, known as Movietone City, covers over forty acres of ground.

Here a staff of celebrated authors, composers, directors and technicians have been devoting their expert services, under the production supervision of Winfield Sheehan, vice-president of Fox Films, to give the public all-talking features that will set a new high standard for the speaking screen.

The first of these new quality pictures has been completed. The title is "In Old Arizona" and on Christmas Day it will be shown at the Criterion Theatre. The featured players are Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter and Dorothy Burgess. This is a superb, actional love-drama, filmed on a lavish scale against a sweeping background. Many of the scenes were filmed amid the natural beauty spots of Arizona, the first talking picture filmed outdoors.

Despite its locale, "In Old Arizona" is not a so-called "Western Picture," but the first great love-drama of the speaking screen, and the last word in talking pictures.

You can't judge the quality of a Rembrandt by looking at any old oil painting. Neither can you judge the quality of Fox Movietone talking pictures by looking at any old "talkies." If you want to see the best in talking pictures, look for the name—FOX MOVIETONE!

CAFE OWNERS IN RADIO PROTEST

Cigarette Programs Create Ire of Group

Commission Asked to Take Quick Action

Congressional Inquiry Threatened

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The fellow who said there was nothing new under the sun didn't know much about radio. Here it is:

Some of the network programs are sponsored by a cigarette manufacturer, and the programs use the slogan "pass up the sweets." It seems as though the United Restaurant Owners' Association takes that as the signal for starting on the warpath, figuratively speaking.

Anyway, its president, Joseph Burger, petitions to the Radio Commission to get the cigarette programs stopped, or at least to discontinue using the slogan "pass up the sweets."

BURGER COMPLAINS

The association threatens to take the matter into court if the commission doesn't do something; and also call the situation to the attention of Congress.

The programs complained of are characterized as "insidious, unmoral and outrageous," and the purpose of the propaganda is declared to be to "transform the school girls and growing boys and the youth of the country into confirmed cigarette addicts, regardless of established medical and health findings."

Burger, on behalf of the organization, declares that the commission has full authority to grant, modify or withdraw operating licenses to stations on the principle of public service, convenience or necessity. He asks "Is it to public interest, convenience or necessity to permit a powerful corporation to broadcast to 10,000,000 homes in the United States the claim that its cigarettes are an aid to health?

"Is it upon the basis of public interest, convenience or necessity that alleged testimonials, for which high prices are reputed to be paid to stage and motion-picture celebrities, should be broadcast over a nation-wide network encouraging smoking of cigarettes as a substitute for wholesome food?

"Is it to public interest, convenience or necessity to allow a great corporation to tell the future mothers of the nation that the way to retain the fashionable figure is not exercise, nor moderation, nor clean living—no, it is to smoke more cigarettes?

"Is it to the public interest, convenience or necessity that the growing boys of the country should be told through radio that cigarette smoking is harmless, and that it is the smart thing to do because leading athletes whose alleged testimonials are recited on the air are supposedly confirmed cigarette addicts?

MAKES LARGER AUDIENCE

"If the Radio Commission feels that the people of the United States, in whom the domain of the air is vested, have no protection under the Radio Act of 1927 from such outrageous propaganda broadcast through the air by stations licensed by the government, the United Restaurant Owners' Association is ready to take steps to secure an interpretation of this act by the highest courts in our land."

There seems to be grave doubt whether the commission can do anything in the matter.

In the meantime the controversy will probably have the effect of creating the largest audience of any network feature. The present audience will be augmented by hundreds of thousands of curious fans.

NEW REMOTE CONTROL FOR KMIC

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 20.—A new remote-control program for KMIC will make its radio debut Friday from 6 p.m. to midnight, according to the station management. The broadcast is to originate in a new Los Angeles studio and will be directed by C. Sharpe Minor, whose organ programs have lately been featured over KNX.

MOTHER OF NORTHCOTT IN OUTBURST

Accuses Attorney Savay of Misrepresenting Facts About Letter to Son

Mystery surrounding the letter which Mrs. Louise Northcott is asserted to have sent her son, Gordon Stewart Northcott, now in the Los Angeles County Jail, yesterday caused an open breach between Norbert Savay, attorney for the two accused slayers, and Mrs. Northcott.

In a dramatic meeting in the Riverside County Jail, where Mrs. Northcott is held pending her joint trial with her son for the slaying of 9-year-old Walter Collins, the woman accused her attorney of misrepresenting facts surrounding the letter she sent to young Northcott last week by Savay.

The missive, Mrs. Northcott contended, was not a document from J. McKinley Cameron, Calgary (Alta.) attorney, who represented the mother in her long fight against extradition, but a letter from her to her son which she said she ordered Savay to deliver to young Northcott.

It was an asserted document from Cameron, which County Jail officials refused to allow Savay to deliver to Northcott, upon which Savay based his habeas corpus action Wednesday and which was continued for one week by Superior Judge Woods. Savay asked the court to prevent jail officials from interfering with his conferences with Northcott.

A final conference on classification of evidence to be used against Northcott will be held this morning in the office of J. Clark Sellers, criminologist.

Deputy Sheriffs Croushorn and Brewster of Los Angeles, who have conducted the local investigation, and Dep. Dist. Atty. Redwine, of Riverside, will participate in the conference.

It was announced yesterday that practically all investigation into the case has been completed and the State will face Northcott with evidence now in its possession, and which principally consists of parts of an asserted human body found on Northcott's ranch, and the affidavit of Sanford Clark, Northcott's 15-year-old nephew, who first revealed the asserted crimes.

Northcott is accused of having slain a Mexican whose headless body was found near Puente a year ago. Walter Collins and Louis and Nelson Winslow of Pomona.

Studio Adopts Vitaphone Mark

With the completion of the sound stages and the installation of the recording devices, announcement was made yesterday that hereafter all First National productions will be released with the Vitaphone trademark. The announcement came from Jack Warner, production chief of Warner Brothers, which company has formally taken over the destinies of the Burbank plant.

This means that pictures now in production starring Colleen Moore, Richard Barthelmess, Corinne Griffith, Billie Dove, Milton Sills, Alice White, Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall and other contract players will henceforth be known as [illegible] National-Vitaphone productions.

The new sound stages at First National are now ready for use and the completion of this unit, Vitaphone numbers eleven sound stages in Southern California with another in Brooklyn. The first talking picture to be made at the Burbank plant will star Miss Moore. Miss White and Sills. Nine pictures still remain on the 1928-29 program.

ELECTION HELD BY PEDAGOGUES

Los Angeles Principal Head of Southland Teachers

High Tribute Paid to Work Done by Mrs. Dorsey

Addresses Feature Institute Department Sessions

in Havana twenty years ago, but today Cuba is looking to the United States, and especially to California, for information in this line," said Dr. Davis. "Of all inquiries that come to our bureau of education concerning kindergarten work, almost every letter has some reference to your California system. You have 70 per cent of your 4 and 5-year-old children enrolled in kindergarten classes, as against 27 per cent for the nation at large.

"The art of teaching young children is one of the greatest of arts," said the speaker. "To give the child the right amount and kind of physical exercise, so as to free the little mind from undue body-consciousness, and to guide his emotional nature and mental development, is an accomplishment of which the instructor should be proud. One of the chief requisites for the kindergarten teacher is the ability to remain calm and poised herself, and never to confuse the child with emotional outbursts."

Dr. Ernest C. Moore, president of the University of California at Los Angeles, spoke of the value of the work of primary and kindergarten teachers, declaring there is no more important work in the field of education than that of properly molding the mind of childhood.

Dr. Moore was greeted by cheers when he said, "I am delighted to tell you it has been decided that at the University of California at Los Angeles the teachers' college will go with the college of letters and science. No culture is too good for our teachers."

PRINCIPALS ADDRESSED

"Your splendid educational system in Los Angeles is but one indication of the progress of this remarkable city," said Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, in an address at the Biltmore to members of the Department of Elementary Schools Principals of California, southern section.

"I never dreamed a city could grow so fast as has Los Angeles," said Mr. Beck. "And the end is not yet. You are just getting ready to fly into high gear."

Discussing business principles which, he said, could be applied by school principals, Mr. Beck said that the principal always should consider his responsibility to his employer, to individuals on the pay roll and to those who come to him seeking employment or advice.

"Good will is the mainstay of every institution," said the speaker. "The rights and sensibilities of employees always should be considered judiciously and in a kindly manner. In our own institution no foreman is allowed to 'hall a man out' in the presence of others. Many persons think of the stock exchange solely in terms of 'big business,' forgetful of the human element behind the scenes without which the large-scale operations of the exchange would be impossible. The truth is that the problems which face us in matters of absenteeism, lateness, sick benefits, health, insurance, savings and thrift plans, retirement allowances, etc., are as real and pressing as those presented to any other organization or industry in the country."

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB TOLD OF GREAT MIGRATION

Paul Harvey, lecturer, struck the one serious note at the annual banquet and frolic of the Schoolmasters' Club of Southern California last night at the City Club, 833 South Spring street, when he drew a rapid sketch of Manchuria as it is today.

"Since the opening of the South Manchurian Railway the greatest migration of modern times has been pouring millions of Chinese into that country. More than 26,000,000 of Chinese now are in that country. While Japan went into Manchuria to help herself, she did a far greater job for the Chinese," the speaker declared.

Briefly he told of the modern equipment of the South Manchurian Railway with its broad-gauge track, built with 100-pound rails, and the trains as fine as anything to be found in America.

"Harbin, into which 80,000 Russians were forced to flee some six years ago with nothing but the clothes they wore, has become one of the finest of modern cities. Just to walk through its streets is to realize what a splendid people the Russians are when freed from the oppression that menaces them in their own country," he said in conclusion.

A distinguished list of speakers with a fund of fresh after-dinner stories lent gayety to the occasion. Among those at the guest table were Dr. W. C. Reavis, University of Chicago; Dr F B. Knight, University of Iowa; Dr. C. A. Buckner, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. R. H. Hargreaves, Washington Teachers' College; Hon. Moises Saenz, subsecretary of Education, Mexico; Dr. Frank Bohn, New York Times; Dr. F. Thomas Hopkins, University of Colorado; Walter R. Siders, Cameron Beck and Phidelah Rice.

LETTERS RIFT HOME

Correspondence of Radio Singer With Other Woman Told

Letters couched in the most endearing terms written by another woman aided Mrs. Marie A. Webster to obtain a divorce in the Superior Court from Warren A. Webster, radio singer. The decree was signed yesterday by Superior Judge Guerin.

The letters introduced in the evidence were asserted to have been written by Mrs. Lloyd B. King. Under the questioning of her counsel, Attorney Griffith Jones, Mrs. Webster also accused her husband of visiting Mrs. King late at night after finishing his work at the studio.

Mme. Suzanne Grinberg, France's first woman lawyer, makes a specialty of divorces.

CHEST AGENCIES PLAN YULETIDE

Orphanages and Homes to be Made Merry

Thanks Will be Returned to Those Who Gave

Increased Subscriptions Being Received

Eight of the thirteen Community Chest orphanages and homes for dependent children yesterday announced their Christmas activities. In every institution thanks will be offered Christmas morning to the 375,000 persons whose contributions to the Community Chest this year makes possible the continuance of their humane and needed work for another year.

Hundreds of increased subscriptions to the Community Chest fund were received yesterday in response to Campaign Chairman J. A. H. Kerr's recent city-wide appeal, in which he asked the public to remember that virtually all the poor, sick, old, crippled and orphaned of the city will be taken care of by one or more of the Community Chest's 131 human welfare agencies on Christmas Day—just as on all other days of the year.

EVENTS PLANNED

Various entertainments have been planned for the Community Chest's orphans on Christmas. The girls of the Los Angeles Orphan Asylum will be guests in San Pedro Harbor Christmas afternoon of the battleships Tennessee, New York and Colorado, the crews of which have arranged colorful programs for them.

The Yuletide season has smiled splendidly on the Children's Home Society, a Chest agency which finds homes for orphans. The children there were given a party yesterday by the Civitan Club, which is also donating a Christmas tree. Following a Christmas dinner to be given by the institution's advisory board, the children will be entertained with a cinema program presented by Mrs. Ruth Stonehouse Hughes.

The Kiddie Koop, where children who have lost one parent are cared for, will proffer a Christmas program and tree on Christmas Eve. All children will visit relatives on Christmas Day.

The Kiwanis Club is giving a Christmas dinner and furnishing entertainment out at the McKinley Industrial Home Society.

OTHER PARTIES

Members of the Los Angeles City Club are giving an outing tonight to boys from the Boys and Girls Aid Society, another Chest agency. Other Yuletide parties for the children are being planned by the Shakespeare Club and the Elks. The institution is providing the children with a Christmas Eve celebration, with tree and a Christmas dinner.

Boys from the Lark Ellen Home will be entertained at Loew's State Theater Christmas Eve. The boys will celebrate Christmas at the home.

The Maud Booth Home, operated by the Volunteers of America and sustained by the Community Chest, will be visited and entertained Christmas Day by members of the Ebell Club. Gifts already have been received for the orphans from the Elks Club and the Evening Herald. Last night they were entertained by the young people at the Swedish Tabernacle. A seasonal entertainment will be given them tonight by members of the Calvary Baptist Church. On Christmas Eve, a musical cantata will be presented, in which the children are taking part. They will spend Christmas Day and eat Christmas dinner at the home. Prayers will be offered for the success of the Community Chest campaign.

LIGHTS GIVE POLICE TIP ON LIQUOR

Officers Search Truck to Find 100 Cases in Well-Hidden Crate

Because the headlights of a truck heaped high with stove wood flickered, police enriched their store of confiscated liquor yesterday morning with 100 cases of imported liquor valued at about $10,000, per local bootlegging wholesale prices.

Motorcycle Officers Dickinson and Wood reported they were patrolling the Ventura Highway between Calabasas and Girard when they observed the truck coming toward them. The headlights were flickering and the the truck was breaking all speed limits. They soon brought it to a halt.

The driver gave his name as Richard Carter, 22 years of age, of 210 North Flower street. He said that he had been employed to haul the load of firewood from Santa Barbara to Los Angeles. The officers examined his papers and found that he had purchased gas 100 miles north of Santa Barbara. Investigating further they discovered the liquor packed in sacks in a crate built in the center of the truck.

When checked at Central Police Station, the sacks were found to contain Scotch and Bourbon whiskies, champagne and about half a dozen other brands of liquors, destined, it is suspected, for the the local Christmas trade, according to Lieut. Lofthouse.

CITY WORKERS HAVE BALL

The annual ball of the All City Employees' Association was held last night at El Patio Ballroom. The affair was directed by Pat Doyle, superintendent of the Engineering Department's Yale-street yard, who is chairman of the entertainment committee.

SCREEN CONTEST CALLED

A bathing-beauty contest and dance for Spanish-speaking young women will be held the evening of the 28th inst. at Symphony Hall in the Music-Arts Building, 232 South Hill street. The contest, according to its sponsors, is to select the most beautiful and talented Spanish-speaking girls for the screen.

CHANEY WILL VISIT EUROPE

M.-G.-M. Star Will Make Film in Sweden

Foreign Actor Given New Paramount Contract

Louise Dresser is Santa's Helper for Club

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

There is one star who isn't afraid to make a picture abroad, and that is Lon Chaney.

Word reached us yesterday that the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star will leave for Europe early next spring, taking with him his car and chauffeur, and being accompanied by his wife. He means to take an automobile tour through England, France, Italy, Germany and Sweden and way stations.

When Chaney reaches Sweden he is planning to step at Stockholm and create a picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, working at the studios of the Svenska Film Industrie.

One secret of Chaney's desire to make a picture in Sweden is the fact that Victor Seastrom is there at present, and that Chaney is a great admirer of him. The plan being for Seastrom to direct, the star does not wish to miss the chance to appear in a feature with foreign backgrounds under the direction of the Swedish film maestro. As you perhaps remember, Seastrom directed Chaney in "He Who Gets Slapped" and "The Tower of Lies."

Chaney expects to leave for Europe in April. He will be absent from this country several months.

While abroad the star is going to turn producer, too, in a small way. He has a hand camera with which he is said to be able to do wonders, and the ambition of his life is to make a travelogue over there.

Paul Lukas Renews

Talking pictures are not playing nearly as much havoc with foreign actors as we have been led to believe. At least the case of Paul Lukas would seem to signify that persistent rumors are wrong. Lukas, who returned yesterday, has just been signed to a new contract by Paramount, although he has been in the United States only a year and couldn't speak more than a few scattered words of English when he came over to play in "Loves of an Actress" with Pola Negri. And to such good effect has the actor studied that he has just finished playing in the all-talker version of "The Wolf of Wall Street."

Gaston Glass Plays Lead

We are just in receipt of the good news that that very excellent young actor, Gaston Glass, has been signed to take the male lead in "Behind Closed Doors," which Columbia is producing with Virginia Valli in the leading feminine role.

The picture will have talking sequences, will be a feature production, and R. William Neill will direct.

George Fawcett With Lasky

Maurice Chevalier has found a father. In other words, George Fawcett, veteran of motion pictures since the earliest days, following a career on the stage, has been cast for the role of Monsieur Marny in Paramount's "Innocents of Paris," which will mark Chevalier's debut on the screen.

GEORGE FAWCETT

Richard Wallace will direct, and the picture will shortly go into rehearsal, it being a 100 per cent talker, which requires additional preparation.

Louise Dresser as Santa Claus

What the well-dressed Mrs. Santa Claus should wear is the subject which has been agitating the cordial heart of Louise Dresser during these holidays, and we discovered her shopping in Hollywood yesterday with an anxious look on her face.

LOUISE DRESSER

The occasion for Miss Dresser's perplexity is that she is to preside as Mrs. Santa Claus at a Christmas party to be given this evening to fifty children, at the Hollywood Studio Club, and naturally she wants to be appropriately dressed for the occasion.

Ruth Taylor to Honolulu

The gods that preside over the fortunes of good little actresses being willing, Ruth Taylor is to take a trip to Honolulu as soon as she finishes her role in Clara Bow's Paramount production, "A Wild Party." She will be accompanied by her mother.

RUTH TAYLOR

We understand that, following "A Wild Party," Miss Taylor will play the lead opposite Buddy Rogers in a picture not yet titled, and if she cannot finish the Bow picture in time to sandwich her trip in between films, she will have to postpone sightseeing until the Rogers opus is completed.

Albert Gran With M.-G.-M.

Albert Gran has just been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, we hear, for one of the featured roles in "The Brass Band," which Jack Conway will direct. The part is to be one of the most important in the picture.

The production will be a talker, and as Gran spent most of the years of his life on the stage, he will doubtless make as good an impression in this one as he did in Fox's "Four Sons" and other pictures.

Arthur Lubin Heard From

From Arthur Lubin, in New York, comes word that he is a very busy young man, what with the stage and the talkers and this and that.

"I signed a contract with A. H. Woods," writes Lubin, to go into a play that is now running in New York called 'Jealousy.' This play is unusual in that it has only two actors carrying the entire plot. It is now being played by Fay Bainter and John Halliday. He has re-

EPOCHAL WORK BRINGS CHEERS

Ernest Bloch's "America" Sweeping Triumph

Audience Joins in Finale of Prize Rhapsody

Sophie Braslau Soloist With Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Ernest Bloch's "America" achieved its purpose. A great audience was swept to its feet at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night, inspired to sing "America! America! Thy name is in my heart," with the mighty power of Bloch's score for full orchestra and the great organ lifting the soaring voices to a pitch of enthusiasm that must have reached high heaven. Conductor Georg Schnecvoigt did his splendid best with the premiere of this prize work and rightly earned the appreciation of all who heard it.

It is an old story to tell now. The whole country has been aroused over this history-recording epic symphony which won the Musical America prize among the ninety-one scores submitted by well-known composers in America. Interest has been keen because for possibly the first time in history, five conductors agreed unanimously and without the slightest hesitancy upon this score. Its premiere confirmed their judgment.

In three movements of surprising brevity, Ernest Bloch has reconstructed for the ears, the history and ideals of the United States of America. The score is so rich in themes and harmonization that repeated hearings will only serve to reveal its beauty more fully. Musical America has had the luck to make musical history with this contest.

The amazing thing about "America" is not so much in the perfection of its writing, the meticulous care with which each part has been scored, its compelling rhythms and its aliveness. All these we have been led to expect from Bloch. The miracle is that a man could so orient himself in a new world in twelve years that he could so unerringly and so directly find its heart and clasp its highest idealism to his bosom, returning its spiritual gifts by a complete expression in music of the unrayable. Men and women left the auditorium last night with visible tears in their eyes. Patriotism became a desirable and a real emotion because of the white light shed by Bloch's music.

This is not a work to be lauded and laid aside to "end in forty minutes of actual performance—then the dust and silence of the limbo of forgotten scores!" This will be played and sung long after the wise conductors who chose it are forgotten, but the thank-yous of Americans are due those who have brought it to light.

Another American work, "Autumn," by Leo Sowerby, was given its first performance here last night. It is moderately modern and enjoyable if rather inconsequential on a program with the Bloch. Genius is rare!

Sophie Braslau, the soloist of this concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra, labored under difficulties. In the first place she was outshadowed in public interest by the Bloch premiere and in the second place her programmed music did not arrive and she was forced to substitute two songs by Moussorgsky at the last moment. Seven songs of the gypsies by Brahms were sung by her with piano accompaniment and a passionate intensity. Her dark contralto voice was not at its best last night but her rare gift for throwing herself into the moods of tragic and vivid life created interest in her listeners.

The concert will be repeated this afternoon.

Former Leading Man to Return

Gayne Whitman, who was one of the first leading men in pictures, having appeared with Tom Ince's productions of many films as well as with other numerous picture companies, returns here to play Robert Audrey in "Daddies," which the Henry Duffy Players and Robert McWade will offer at the Hollywood Playhouse starting Sunday.

For nearly seven seasons Whitman was leading man at the Morosco Theater, now the President. Others in the production of "Daddies" include McWade, the character actor who will be James Crockett, the gruff and crusty old bachelor; Doris Phillips, Frank Dawson, Zeffie Tilbury, little Anita Calfot, the Lougheeds, juvenile triplets; Cameron Prud'homme, John Webb Dillion and Walter Percival.

Boulevard Event Occurs Tonight

A gala event will be the entry of talking pictures into the Boulevard Theater tonight, with personal appearances of stars, in addition to an all-sound-and-talkie program.

Farrell Macdonald, popular character actor, who has the title role in "Riley the Cop," Fox Movietone feature comedy with sound effects and synchronized score, will make an appearance. Another who will appear in person is Nancy Drexel, who with David Rollins provides the young-love interest in the feature. Nancy also has a speaking role in "Forget-Me-Not," all-talking Christmas romance, on the same program.

The talkie program also includes first-run Fox Movietone News.

On the stage is the special Lynn Cowan Yuletide Revue, "Around the Christmas Tree," featuring the Junior Follies and Boulevard Band.

COLMAN WILL TALK SOONER

Because more than 10,000 fans have written to Samuel Goldwyn in the last thirty days asking how soon could they hear Ronald Colman's voice on the screen Goldwyn yesterday decided to film the all-talking version of "Bulldog Drummond" before the silent version.

IMPORTING THE ALPS

Norman Taurog, who is directing "In Holland," a Fox-Movietone comedy starring Clark and McCullough, has erected an Alpine mountain range at the Fox Hill studios for the Swiss sequence of the picture.

Spotlight Hits Underworld Again

John Boles and Mary Astor

BEN BARD ASSUMES DUTIES

With a new master of ceremonies, an appealing picture and stage show and numerous personal appearances scheduled for tonight, the Metropolitan Theater is preparing for a record week starting today.

Charles (Buddy) Rogers and Mary Brian, stars of the picture, "Someone to Love," will appear in person tonight at both evening shows, it is announced.

Ben Bard will start his engagement as master of ceremonies today. He will be seen with the Publix stage presentation "Teeing Off," featuring Rome and Dunn, composers and melodists of headline caliber. Others featured in the production are Earl La Vere, accordion ace; Duffin and Draper, originators of the "Rag Doll" dance; Alice Wellman, "the toy soprano," and the Gamby-Hale Country Club Girls.

"Red" Nichols, noted trumpeter of the "Five Pennies" dance-band fame, will appear at the first evening show tonight with the entire cast of performers from Roscoe Arbuckle's Plantation Cafe. They will "serenade" Bard and perform in addition to the regular stage presentation.

"Kiddies in Toyland" is another added feature which will be presented all week.

WARNERS' ANNOUNCE NEW FILM

Fannie Brice's "My Man" Will Commence Showing New Year's Eve

The many conjectures as to the first showing of Fannie Brice's Vitaphone talking picture, "My Man," were set at rest yesterday by an announcement from Jack Warner that the internationally famous comedienne would be seen and heard in her new picture at Warner Brothers' Theater on the 31st inst.

Judging from the phenomenal success of Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool" at Warners, that theater is in for a busy time from the moment that "My Man" is first flashed on its screen, it is prophesied. Fannie, like Al, enlivens her pictures with her songs and characterizations and she does half a dozen of her latest and best in "My Man." Miss Brice has been described as the funniest woman in the world and she is literally that in her picture, according to some who have seen advance showings.

The story to a certain extent is based on Miss Brice's most famous song hit, "My Man," and is an original by Mark Canfield with scenario by Robert Lord. It takes Fannie from an East Side sweat shop in New York to the heights of stage success and gives her every opportunity to exercise her remarkable ability as a comedienne and character artist.

Archie Mayo directed and Miss Brice's supporting cast includes Guinn Williams, Edna Murphy, Richard Tucker, Billy Seay, Andres de Segurola and Arthur Hoyt.

Warners expect a run with the Fannie Brice opus and accordingly Larry Ceballos has been instructed to prepare one of his most pretentious stage revues.

Most Elaborate Palace Musical Show Impending

"The Student Prince," press-agented as the most pretentious musical comedy ever presented at the Broadway Palace, opens its holiday engagement tomorrow in conjunction with the first-run screen feature, "Domestic Meddlers," co-starring Claire Windsor and Roy D'Arcy.

A cast of sixty will figure in the musical stage play, according to announcement by Leo LeBlanc, under whose direction "The Student Prince" will be produced. A male chorus of twenty-six voices will sing the romantic Heidelberg songs, the student chorus to be one of the outstanding features of the augmented presentation.

Douglas Keaton, baritone, whose voice has won him many encomiums from Los Angeles critics, will portray the title role of Prince Karl. The operetta will see him tomorrow in the best role he has yet filled at the Broadway Palace, it is promised. Playing opposite him will be beautiful Nadine Wayne, prima donna who has invaded successive casts at that theater.

Lynton Brent, scion of a socially prominent Los Angeles family, former owners of Brentwood Park, will also be seen in a leading role.

Other principals are Lucille Mayes, Cristel Lind, Gus Miller, Mary Kay, Charles Cross, Ned Hughes, Fritz Adams, Miss Leslie Presston, Abby Berlin, Emil Pelle, Ted Reicard, Ralph Erwin and Clarence Jordan.

Existence of Santa Proved in Short Film

Unheralded because of its booking on short notice, the two-reel Photophone featurette, "There Is a Santa Claus," now playing on the United Artists' bill, is turning out to be a novelty of great importance. Audiences applaud enthusiastically after it is shown, just as if the actors were there in person. Thus it is seen that the illusion of the talking picture is here complete.

"There Is a Santa Claus" is very timely and is a treat for the children. It was produced by A. J. Weil and directed by Mark Sandrich and Leigh Jason from their own story. It concerns the adventures of an old man and a small boy on Christmas Day, and is replete with both comedy and pathos.

Even though crowds are busy shopping, "The Trail of '98" is bringing throngs to the Broadway and Ninth house. The sound effects in the Clarence Brown picture of the Yukon are effective.

On the stage, Huston Ray presents a novelty piano recital.

First Day of New Year to Conclude Run

January 1 is definitely chosen for final performances of "Noah's Ark," Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production, in Grauman's Chinese Theater, according to an announcement made yesterday by Sid Grauman.

On New Year's Eve, Monday, the 31st inst., two special night performances will be staged in addition to the matinee that afternoon. Each of the three New Year's Eve performances will be complete.

Following announcement of the last two weeks of the showing of "Noah's Ark," the first spectacular production in which the principals talk their lines, crowds have been trooping to Hollywood to view it before it ends its engagement. It will not be presented again elsewhere with Grauman's prologue.

"Noah's Ark," written by Darryl Francis Zanuck, presents Dolores Costello with George O'Brien at the head of an all-star cast, including Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Guinn Williams and others, in a drama linking modern times with episodes of the Deluge.

Glee Club Will Appear Sunday

Through special arrangement, Orpheum Theater announces the engagement for next week of the University of California Glee Club.

Comprising the organization are twenty-eight youths, including the following seven from Los Angeles: Henry Knight, Leslie Wanee, Walter Redit, Wilbur Irvin, Winthrop Gordon, Robert Sutro, and Sterling Hedgpeth.

San Diego, Oakland and other Pacific Coast cities contribute Junius Gale, William Maretta, Warren Moore, Jr., Henry Schnetz, Denton Walsh, Frank Lucas, Ralph Stewart, Elvin Fowler, Arthur Doeller, Clyde Cavin, Harry Andrews, John Neufeld, Carl Blunck, Walter Brown, George Aughinbaugh, Cyril Cope, Charles Bright, Frank Schaefer, Walter Monroe, Donald Milner and Donald MacPherson.

Directing the club is Eugene Blanchard. Peter Hansen is accompanist.

STAR WILL NOT RENEW CONTRACT

Madge Bellamy Leaving Fox Company, Report; Asks Release

Madge Bellamy, said to be the highest-salaried star under contract to Fox studios, has been granted a release from that studio, to take effect immediately, it was disclosed yesterday.

With the option on her contract expiring next month, Miss Bellamy, it is said, was not satisfied with a new offer made her by the studio.

Her desire to be released from Fox, according to report, was precipitated when she was assigned the stellar role in "From Hell Came a Lady," which appeared briefly on the Los Angeles stage last season.

Miss Bellamy first won popularity on the Fox program in a series of light comedies. She scored one of the individual hits of the year in the Movietone production, "Mother Knows Best," a recent attraction at the Carthay Circle Theater. Her last picture for Fox was "Exiles," directed by William Beaudine.

Her release from the contract was secured with no ill will from either side, it is said.

Feminists Lose Battle in Play

Even the most ardent feminists are subdued and convinced by the startling and masterful methods of woman-handling that are nightly exhibited by Edward Everett Horton in "Her Cardboard Lover" at the Vine Street Theater, a story says. In a series of demonstrations that leave, it is averred, not the vestige of a doubt, Horton proves the weakness of the proverbially weaker sex.

As Andre, the loving hired-lover, he serves as a restraining influence upon the actions and emotions of Simone, the dashing divorcee, portrayed by Florence Eldridge. That he succeeds beyond the expectations of most men in this so-called suffragette-ruled age is a foregone conclusion, after the display of his technique in the early part of this laugh-provoking comedy of love-as-you-like-it. It is not hard to conceive the many hilarious situations resulting from Horton's display of polished caveman's tactics, and the author and the supporting cast make the most of the opportunities.

Other members of the cast include Mitchell Harris, Lottie Williams, Leo White, Lewis Morrison, Fred Cummings, Leigh Willard and Harry Vegar.

Natural Sounds Supply Novelty

Here's something new . . .

"In Old Arizona," William Fox's all-outdoor talking romance which comes to the Criterion Theater on Christmas Day, was sound-filmed entirely in the open.

The first talking picture to achieve this distinction, "In Old Arizona" comes to the Criterion heralded as one of the greatest films ever made at the Fox studios, east or west.

The talking and sound sequences were made in the open in Northern Arizona and Southern Utah around Zion Park and the Grand Canyon.

Every actor in the production is a speaking-stage player or veteran, and the nineteen in the cast were selected after weeks of consideration. Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter and Dorothy Burgess have the principal roles.

Late Revelers Will See Lane

A chance for Los Angeles theatergoers to combine an early view of Lupino Lane's new Hollywood Music Box revue with their holiday celebrations is seen in the star-producer's announcement today that he will give midnight matinees on Saturdays and holidays. The first one of these will be offered the 29th inst., and the second on New Year's Eve.

It will be remembered that Lupino Lane's Saturday midnight matinees were one of the most popular features of Los Angeles theater entertainment during the run of his previous Music Box Revue two years ago. In accordance with his former policy, Lupino Lane will introduce guest stars at each midnight performance.

Installation of Sound Complete

J. O. Aalberg, R.C.A. engineer in charge of installation at the Hillstreet Theater last night announced everything in readiness for the Photophone premiere Sunday night.

R.C.A. Photophone equipment was used throughout constituting its formal introduction to local theatergoers.

Members of the "Capt. Swagger" cast, including Rod La Rocque and Sue Carol, and Edward H. Griffith, director, are expected to attend the premiere along with William Sistrom. Benjamin Glazer, Ralph Block, L. E. Clark and other prominent motion-picture folk.

TREACY CHAMPIONS MODERN PLAYWRIGHT

Emerson Treacy is an upholder of the modern playwright. "Why shouldn't I be?" asks the young actor who is playing Bud Weaver, the college youth, in the Henry Duffy Players' production of "Take My Advice," at the President.

"Actors of juvenile roles must have juveniles to play—and our present crop of dramatists appears to realize this. In the last few seasons more good juvenile roles have been written than in the twenty years preceding. I could not ask for better parts than Junior in 'Pigs,' which I played at El Capitan, for 'Tommy' in which I acted the title role in the San Francisco production, or for Bud Weaver in 'Take My Advice.' Each is an individual.

"Dramatists of yesterday wrote all the juvenile roles alike. Each was a pink-faced namby-pamby character."

MRS. BALDWIN PLEDGES SCRAP

Present Plan to Open Road Through Ranch Opposed

Promises to Fight Project to Highest Tribunals

Demands Return to First Pact With Arcadia

ARCADIA, Dec. 20.—Striking like a bombshell in the proposed extension of Colorado street, in Pasadena through the Santa Anita rancho, to connect with Orange avenue here and in Monrovia, a communication from Anita M. Baldwin stating that she intends to protest the opening of Colorado street through her property unless the proceedings are carried out according to a first agreement that the street be opened parallel with the Santa Fe tracks, was read before the City Council last night.

MAYOR GETS LETTER

Her letter, addressed to Mayor Multer, was as follows:

As a property owner in a district where considerable promotional road improvement activity is being carried on at the present time, I wish to be afforded the opportunity of publicly expressing my personal attitude with reference to the continuation and improvement of Colorado street eastward from the city of Pasadena.

The extension of Colorado street has been a subject of general public interest for several years. In November, 1926, the project crystallized itself to the extent that all cities in interest, as well as the County Regional Planning Commission, were in accord to the prolongation of Colorado street.

With this as a basis, negotiations were consummated with the city of Arcadia, myself, and my two children, and a deed was executed on April 2, 1927, granting to the city of Arcadia a right of way, 100 feet in width, not only for the extension of Colorado street but Huntington Drive as well.

AGREEMENT CITED

In order to make the deed effective the city of Arcadia agreed to obtain within one year a similar deed, acquiring the outstanding interests of Clara Baldwin Stoker and Reginald McColgan. The McColgan interest was acquired within the time specified but Mrs. Stoker's interest was not. In a spirit of co-operation on April 4, last, I extended to April 6, 1928, the time limit within which to obtain Mrs. Stoker's signature and the signature of any other outstanding interest.

So far as I know, negotiations are now at a standstill on the project as above outlined. However, another "promotional element" is now attempting to dynamite Colorado street directly through the Santa Anita rancho and the threat of Mattoon Act proceedings is initiated unless I acquiesce to the present plan of procedure.

I wish to go on record at this time of stating my position clearly and definitely.

OPPOSITION OUTLINED

The route of Colorado street as incorporated in the deed, dated April 2, 1927, is satisfactory to me. I have endeavored at all times to work in harmony and accord with the city of Arcadia, as well as with other legislative bodies, where road improvement projects are of general interest.

I am opposed to the plan as now in contemplation, in its entirety, and will avail myself of every legal right given to me as a property owner under the Mattoon Act or any other improvement act, to protect my property interests.

The improvement plan as now under consideration is being sponsored for the interests of a few instead of the interests of the public in general, and unless the original plan is reinstated, I am prepared to go to the highest court, not only to protect, but preserve my rights as a property owner in the proposed improvement district.

Parade Float Honors Team

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 20.—Alhambra will have a float in the Tournament of Roses typifying the prowess of the Alhambra High School football team, champions of Southern California for the past season. The contract for the entry has been awarded by the Chamber of Commerce to a Pasadena firm. The float will exemplify Phoebe Carey's poem, "Dreams and Realities," and will show a miniature football field, with a huge football in the center. Flowers will be used in the decorations.

It is planned to have the Moor gridiron athletes who composed this year's victorious team in the parade. Some will ride on the float and others will carry the streamers attached to the entry. The float will be the most elaborate one the city has ever entered in the Pasadena parade.

PARENTS RECEIVE SON'S HERO MEDAL

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—More than 200 Boy Scouts stood at attention this noon when Mr and Mrs. Edward Stevens of 50 Eureka street were presented with a Carnegie medal to commemorate the bravery of their 15-year-old son, Ronald Stevens, who lost his life two years ago in attempting to save a comrade from drowning. The presentation ceremonies were held in the Masonic Temple under the auspices of the Pasadena Kiwanis Club.

With two other boys, Ronald was fishing on a lake near Boonville, Mo., when his cousin, Walter Whitman, fell overboard. Ronald immediately plunged into the water and had succeeded in bringing his cousin to the surface, but in the struggle to remain afloat, both lost their lives.

COUNTY PLEDGED TO ASSIST

Los Angeles Supervisor Promises Aid for New Road to Antelope Valley

PALMDALE, Dec. 20. — The Board of Supervisors will co-operate in the proposed plan to open a high-line route from La Crescenta to Vincent as a direct route from Los Angeles to the Antelope Valley, thirty-five miles shorter than the present Mint Canyon Road. County Supervisor Wright said today to more than 150 representatives of Los Angeles and this valley at a banquet here.

The forestry department already has opened eight miles of the proposed road and has agreed to construct seven miles more, it was said. The road would be forty-two miles long with a maximum grade of 6 per cent. The project is estimated to cost $14,000,000, it was reported.

In addition to pledging the county's interest in the road, Wright also drove the first stake at Vincent where the proposed route would join the Mint Canyon Road.

Representatives of numerous Antelope Valley organizations, the Kern County Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles County Surveyor's office spoke.

Rail Pierces Driver's Body as Auto Skids

SANTA MARIA, Dec. 20.—Apparently endeavoring to circle death curve, one mile north of here, at high speed, B. Bianchini, 19 years of age, of San Francisco, was instantly killed last night when the heavy sedan he was driving left the road after tearing out twenty feet of the State highway guard rail at that point.

Circumstances surrounding the accident were mysterious, as a passenger giving the name of Schultz, who was riding with Bianchini, was reported uninjured, and disappeared when he caught a ride with a passing motorist. Schultz was said to have been given a ride by Bianchini.

A timber from the guard rail pierced Bianchi's chest. W. A. Gardner and Jack McGregor of Orcutt discovered the machine, pulled the body from the wreckage and brought it here.

Man Crushed Beneath Pipe

COMPTON, Dec. 20.—Lewis Daily, 40 years of age, of 63 West Second street, San Pedro, was probably fatally injured tonight, when in attempting to pass a truck and trailer loaded with oil casing he drove his automobile into a ditch. The load of casing also overturned crushing Daily's automobile and its driver. The man lay pinned beneath the heavy pipe for more than an hour before he was extricated by firemen and policemen.

YULE TREE SET ON BEACH

Christmas Celebration of Week Duration Starts Under Auspices of Catalina Organizations

AVALON (Catalina Island) Dec. 20.—A Christmas festival to hold sway for a full week was inaugurated here yesterday with the planting of a large Christmas tree on the shore of Avalon Bay on what is known as Sandy Beach. The festival is being held on the boardwalk and is jointly sponsored by the Mary Williams Club, the Avalon Boosters and the Santa Catalina Island Company.

Tonight the tree was illuminated and the hundred or more golf champions here with their caddies and friends will be the honored guests. There will be appropriate gifts on the tree for all. Santa Claus arrived late today by rowboat.

A community Christmas tree party will be given Christmas eve by the Mary Williams Club at the Strand Theater. Special numbers will be given by five troubadours in costume, followed by a Christmas march participated in by eighteen little girls.

The feature of the evening will be a huge Christmas tree, to which all children are invited. Santa Claus will distribute gifts. The Hotel St. Catherine orchestra will play during the evening. Mrs. David M. Renton is general chairman of the Christmas-tree committee, and Mrs. Carl Carson is chairman of the candy committee.

MONROVIA RAISES ANNUAL YULE FUND

MONROVIA, Dec. 20. Passing the half-way mark the municipal Christmas tree fund today totaled almost $600, with a balance of $400 yet to be raised before tomorrow night, according to Sherman J. McQueen, chairman of the committee.

There are a large number of families in need this year, McQueen said, and members of his committee are working to raise the $1000 quota.

Decoration of the giant deodar in Library Park for the annual celebration will begin Saturday.

MUNICIPAL FESTIVAL HELD AT TORRANCE

TORRANCE, Dec. 20. — The Christmas cheer program of the local Chamber of Commerce and civic committees opened here tonight with a municipal Christmas tree loaded with candy and gifts which were distributed to more than 1000 little folk, following a program of Christmas anthems and the pageant of the nativity sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

The municipal tree, for which arrangements were in charge of A. W. Malone, was secured by the Chamber in conjunction with the fire department. The orchestra of the high school lead the music. The tree will remain lighted through the holiday season.

GIRL FACES CHARGE OF SHOPLIFTING

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Barbara Leyva, 18 years of age, Goddess of Liberty by popular choice at the American Legion celebration last July 4, was released in the custody of her parents today, following her arrest on a charge of shoplifting. Mrs. Leyva was charged with removing dresses and other clothing valued at $120 from a local establishment. The clothing was recovered by police officers. She will be arraigned in police court tomorrow.

Bach to Erect Second Unit at Valley Airport

VAN NUYS, Dec. 20.—That the Bach Aircraft plant at the Metropolitan Airport northwest of Van Nuys intends to become one of the leading organizations of the kind on the west coast is again evident when the company today let a contract for a second large unit. The first unit of the Bach concern, 100 feet wide by 200 long, is nearing completion.

Col. H. J. Heffron, one of the promoters of the airport, today stated that no less than thirty-five leases have been made with concerns who desire to use the airport as an aircraft and aircraft accessory manufacturing center, and a number of buildings have been erected. When the airport was dedicated last Sunday more than 15,000 persons attended the flying exhibitions.

RAILWAY STATION DAMAGED BY FIRE

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 20.—Fire originating in an attic above the baggage room caused damage estimated at $2500 in the Southern Pacific railway station last night. The loss was largely confined to personal property of the station agent, S. F. Willard, who occupies an apartment over the station.

Willard discovered the flames, summoned the fire department and assisted his father, who is 83 years of age, from the burning room. He was unable to remove any of his personal effects.

Office records of the railway were not destroyed, but slight damage was reported to a small quantity of freight and baggage. A consignment of expensive rugs and pianos was saved by the firemen.

During the fire Orton Youngblood, telegraph operator, remained at his post and there was no interruption to train service.

NO VALLEY LAND OPEN TO FILING

EL CENTRO, Dec. 20.—Favorable action on the Swing-Jo...on bill by Congress already has brought a number of letters from ex-service men regarding filings on desert land on the mesa east of Imperial Valley, according to F. H. McIver, secretary of the Imperial Irrigation District.

More than 100,000 acres of this land was withdrawn from entry several years ago. It is too high to be watered from the gravity system now supplying the valley, but would come under the proposed all-American canal. District officials do not anticipate that the land will be reopened in the immediate future. The Swing-Johnson bill still lacks the President's signature, it is explained, and the legislative measure leaves the canal project without much chance for early construction. Ex-service men, according to the propositions of the land laws, will be given a prior right of ...ing when the land is opened.

BURNING PALM TREES EXCITE ONTARIO FOLK

ONTARIO, Nov, 20.—Residents on East I street this morning thought an oil well had come in and burst into flames.

Flames shot high in the air, but they were sent heavenward by two palm trees.

Boys playing with matches were credited with having started the fire in the dry "skirts" of two high palms.

The fire department prevented sparks from setting fire to near-by dwellings. The palm trees were ruined.

MAY CALL SANTA ANA JUDGE

Orange County Jurist Expected to be Drafted to Preside at Trial of Mayor Dighton

SANTA ANA, Dec. 20.—An Orange county judge—probably Judge James L. Allen—will preside over the trial of Riverside's Mayor, E. H. Dighton, when that official faces a jury at Riverside on January 7, charged with criminal libel and also defending himself against an ouster action instituted by the Riverside county grand jury.

That announcement was made here today, being qualified by the statement that Orange county probably will not send a judge to Riverside unless Riverside county sends a judge to Santa Ana in exchange, to assist with the crowded local court calendar.

That Judge Allen would be selected to hear the Riverside case was thought probable because of the fact that he presided over some of the preliminary proceedings at Riverside when attorneys for Mayor Dighton argued a demurrer to the grand jury indictment. Judge Allen overruled the demurrer. At that time Judge Allen ordered a special venire of 150 jurors for the trial.

Mayor Dighton's prosecution followed his attempt to oust City Auditor Pierson from office, and his accusation that the Auditor was short $8000 in his accounts. The dispute between factions supporting the Mayor and the Auditor has split Riverside into political turmoil, it is said.

GUN DUEL FATAL FOR ONE

Brawley Restaurant Employee Surrenders to Police After Fatal Shooting Outside City Limits

BRAWLEY, Dec. 20.—Robert L. Lambert, 34 years of age, is dead from two bullet wounds, and Marion B. Ivy, 33, is in the County Jail as the result of a pistol duel which local police believe involved an unidentified woman. The duel took place just outside the city limits last night.

Immediately after the shooting Ivy surrendered to local police, asserting that he killed Lambert in self-defense. A revolver was found on the ground between Lambert's knees with an empty space in the clip.

Lambert formerly operated a clothes-cleaning establishment here and Ivy was employed in a local restaurant. Police have not found witnesses to the shooting, but state that they believe a woman was present and saw the fight between the men. Ivy has not given a complete story of the affair, except to state that he shot after Lambert had fired at him.

TWO FLYERS MEET DEATH IN MISHAPS

Flying Cadet at March Field Instantly Killed After Parachute Fails

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 20.—Cadet Benton L. Boardman, 23 years of age, was killed at March Field this morning when he attempted a parachute jump from his airplane. His home address was 607 Irolo street, Los Angeles.

The youth jumped at an elevation of 500 feet. The shroud lines of the parachute apparently became tangled in the cockpit and as Boardman leaped the ropes were sawed off by the sharp edge. He dropped to the ground to meet instant death. An escort of cadets will take the body to Los Angeles.

NAVY RESERVE FLYER KILLED IN CRASH

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Ensign F. E. Hauck, United States Naval Reserve, was killed late this afternoon when his plane crashed while flying near Camp Kearny.

Details of the crash were not learned, as no one saw the plane before it crumpled up on the ground. Ensign Hauck, who was attached to squadron VB-1, was flying a land plane of the F-2-B type when the crash occurred.

A naval board of inquiry will be called to investicate the crash, it is said. Ensign Hauck was unmarried and lived at North Island. His home is 5011 Seventeenth street, Seattle.

Valley Walnuts Have Best Year

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20. In a statement issued today, D. C. Brown, manager of the San Fernando Valley Walnut Growers' Association, says that the present season just closed has been the best in the history of the organization. This was brought about by increased tonnage, more adequate equipment and a closer knit organization.

The report shows that 1,017,649 pounds of nuts were handled, with a gross value of $190,255. Much of the walnuts came from new groves just coming into commercial bearing in the valley. With the report, all growers in the association received checks for the final settlement of the first pool.

The majority of the walnuts have been shipped into eastern markets, where they are being sold for Christmas holiday trade.

INFLUENZA FATAL

Wife Follows Husband to Grave Within Week

POMONA, Dec. 20.—One week to the day, Mrs. Rose O. McConnell, 54 years of age, of 247 East Center street, followed her husband in death this morning, the husband, W. F. McConnell, having passed away last Thursday.

Both deaths were brought on by influenza followed by double pneumonia. Mr. McConnell was owner and founder of the Valley Box Company of this city, and at the time of his demise Mrs. McConnell was also seriously ill. It is believed that the shock of his death hastened her own.

The deceased is survived by three children Chauncey V. and Leo O. McConnell of Ponoma, and Mrs. Florence Carruthers of Santa Monica; two brothers, Walter McLaughlin and George McLaughlin of Mar Vista, and three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Chase of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ida Kizmere of San Francisco and Miss Belle McLaughlin of Pomona.

Funeral services for Mrs. McConnell will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Inglewood Mausoleum, where services were held for her husband one week ago. Hotchkiss & Brown of Pomona will be in charge.

HOTEL CLERK HELD FOR VIOLATING PAROLE

SANTA ANA, Dec. 20.—Frank Lingenfelten, 34 years of age, night clerk at St. Ann's Inn, who recently was placed on probation after he had absconded with about $500 in funds of the inn, while on duty, today was in the county jail for alleged violation of parole. County Probation Officer, L. A. Warren and Deputy Sheriff Fred Humiston arrested Lingenfelten late yesterday at the inn, where he had been given another chance to make good. Warren declared that Lingenfelten has violated the terms of his probation by having liquor in his possession and becoming intoxicated.

HONORED AT NATIONAL MEETING OF STUDENTS

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 20.—Robert Behlow of 401 South Almansor street, a graduate of Alhambra High School and president of the Associated Students of the University of Southern California, has returned from the national convention of the Federation of Student Presidents at Columbia, Mo. At this convention, with the University of Missouri acting as host to the delegates, Behlow was elected chairman of the national student-government committee and regional western representative. The 1929 convention will be held at Palo Alto, Cal.

Behlow is the son of Mrs. Gladys W. Behlow and is a senior at U.S.C. in the college of commerce.

Start Building for College in Early Spring

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 20.—April 1, next, is the date set when dirt will be flying for the foundations of the State college group of buildings, it was stated by President E. L. Hardy today when he left for Sacramento to attend a conference of the State Board of Control and the State Board of Education. The 125-acre college site also will be annexed to the city, Dr. Hardy said.

The Sacramento conference was called for the purpose of closing up all the details of the sale to the city of the present State college buildings, possession of which is to be given the Board of Education by March 1, Dr. Hardy said.

While at the Sacramento conference Dr. Hardy will take up a plan for annexing the tract to the city. He said it could be done either on petition of the State Board of Education or by an act of the Legislature whereby unoccupied tracts of land can be annexed by the Common Council without a vote of the people.

By annexing to the city the State authorities find a way of meeting sewage and water improvements. It is said that sewers will be constructed so the mains can be tied up to the city's sewage disposal plant, and that the city's water mains would be extended to afford domestic use and adequate fire protection.

Hunters Safe at Home Again

GLENDALE, Dec. 20.—H. H. Bacon, 66 years of age, of 405 Oak street, returned to his home here today after having been snowbound in the mountains twenty-five miles north of Mojave while quail hunting with four companions. Penned up in a mountain cabin until all the provisions carried by the party had been exhausted, they were forced to subsist on quail and rabbit meat exclusively. In the party were Charles and Guy Rushing of Hollywood and two other hunters from Bakersfield.

Before the party could start home after their day's hunting the snow blanketed the district and blocked the roads. Roy McKenzie, the owner of the cabin battled the storm and the drifts for twelve miles on foot to secure aid at a station of the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau, reaching the home of P. C. Kelsey, the official in charge, exhausted and with his clothing covered with ice. Horses were secured to carry the snowbound hunters to the place where they had left their car and the team was then used to haul the car to a point where it could travel under its own power. None of the party suffered any ill effects from the experience, Bacon declared.

SOUTHWEST BOARD HEARS STATE LEADERS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 20.—President-elect J. Bradley Clayton of the California Real Estate Association, and Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the State association, were special guests here yesterday, when the Sixteenth District held a meeting in connection with the regular session of the Southwest Realty Board. Both officials made short talks, Clayton stating that with the passing of the Boulder dam bill by both the House and Senate, this section of California will have the greatest development of any section of the Southwest after the great project is completed.

POLICE POWER SADLY LACKING

Mother Appeals to Officer to Help Make Daughter Don More Underwear

ARCADIA, Dec. 20.—"Is it breaking the law for a high-school girl to wear only a silken 'teddy' beneath her dress?" This was the problem of one perplexed mother who early today called upon Police Chief Coberly for help.

"I want you to force my daughter, who is not yet 18 years of age, to wear more underwear than just this little piece of nothing," the mother wailed, exhibiting the article in question before the blushing chief.

Chief Coberly explained that the law could do nothing in the matter.

PASADENA PHYSICIAN SUCCUMBS

Founder of Emergency Hospital Expires After Lengthy Illness

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—Dr. Benjamin O. Coates, 62 years of age, founder of the Emergency Hospital here, died early today following a lingering illness. For many years he had made his home at the Hotel Maryland. Dr. Coates moved to this city twenty-three years ago, when failing health forced him to abandon his medical practice in Ohio.

He was born in Newmarket, Ontario, and at the age of sixteen joined Lord Wolsey's army which suppressed Louis Reil's rebellion in Manitoba. After being mustered out of service in Canada, he studied medicine and was graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1892. He practiced surgery in Cleveland, winning a wide reputation.

Dr. Coates was married three times, his third wife, the former Mrs. A. E. Fitzgerald, dying in this city several years ago. He had no children.

Masonic funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Scottish Rite Cathedral and burial services will follow at Mountain View. Turner and Stevens Company is in charge of the arrangements.

Death Claims Banker's Wife

BURBANK, Dec. 20.—Mrs. R. O. Church, wife of the vice-president and general manager of the Security Bank here, died at her home this morning after a long illness. Her death was attributed to a fall two years ago. She returned from an ocean voyage with her husband on July 20 and suffered a nervous collapse from which she never recovered.

Her husband, who has been confined to his bed for the past week with flu, is reported today verging on a state of collapse. He was at his wife's bedside this morning when the end came.

Mrs. Church came here with her husband in 1908. She was a member of the Woman's Club, the Eastern Star and P.E.O.

She was born in Gilham, Iowa, where she attended school and was married. She leaves two children, Mrs. Homer Wessendorff and Ralph, Jr., 13 years of age. Another son, Clyde, died in 1913. The funeral announcement will be made later from the Scovern funeral parlors of Glendale.

WIFE OF MINISTER INFLUENZA VICTIM

UPLAND, Dec. 20.—Unaware of the fact that his wife was buried in Bellevue Cemetery, Ontario, yesterday, Theodore Suhr, aged resident of Etiwanda district for the past eighteen years, was waging a hopeless fight for life today at San Antonio Community Hospital.

In an automobile crash several weeks ago, Mr. Suhr, a retired minister, received fractures of both arms and legs, and deep internal injuries. While on the verge of death his wife contracted influenza, which proved fatal. Word of the death of his wife has been kept from the crash victim.

Suhr is 76 years of age and his wife was 74. On the evening of November 9, Suhr left his home to drive to a near-by drug store for medicine for his wife. His automobile and another collided.

JURY DENIED DISCHARGE

San Bernardino Jurist Sends Panel Back to Consider Murder Case and Insists Upon a Verdict

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 20.—The second murder jury within a week was apparently hopelessly deadlocked today but was sent back to the jury room by Judge Allison with instructions to return a verdict guilty or innocent in the case of A. B. West, charged with the slaying of Jesse Bowles, Victorville service-station operator last August. The West jury began its deliberations at 11:45 o'clock Wednesday. This afternoon they sent word to Judge Allison that an agreement appeared impossible and asked to be discharged. Their request was promptly denied.

Last week for three successive nights the jury in the case of Alvera Schlosser, who was tried for the murder of her husband, Fred, was locked up and on the morning following the third night, after four jurors were taken ill, was discharged without reaching a verdict.

West went on trial a week ago. West denied any part in the hold-up and murder of Bowles. In his testimony he shifted the entire responsibility to A. N. Morsetti, his companion, who has not been arrested. West was arrested in Los Angeles on the morning following the shooting. Morsetti escaped as detectives approached the car in which he and West were riding. The State introduced witnesses who saw the car in which West and Morsetti left the scene of the hold-up and murder. Bowles died without identifying the man who shot him but West and Morsetti were suspected at once as they had been with Bowles often for some time prior to the hold-up.

SUSPECT JAILED AS BANK BANDIT

Man in Santa Barbara Held for Police Here

Detectives Kept on Trail Following Hold-up

Officers Seek Others as His Confederates

Identification of the photograph of Charles H. Swafford, 27 years of age, arrested in Santa Barbara yesterday, as one of the trio of bandits who held up fourteen persons in the Jefferson-street and Arlington-avenue branch of the Los Angeles-First National Bank Wednesday noon, was announced last evening by Captain of Detectives Cahill.

Swafford, police report, was arrested in Santa Barbara with his wife early yesterday morning by Detective Lieutenant McCaleb of the local force and Santa Barbara officers. Mrs. Swafford later was released, it is stated.

Swafford, according to Capt. Cahill, is a member of a gang of suspects several of whom have been convicted of the $59,000 messenger robbery last March. Others are believed to be responsible for numerous recent bank robberies. Swafford, it is stated, refused to accompany McCaleb back here unless a warrant was served upon him. Capt. Cahill reported he obtained the necessary warrant late yesterday and sent it to McCaleb with orders to return Swafford here.

About the same time as Swafford's arrest, Rolla Martin, 22, was taken into custody here by Detective Lieutenant Molina. Martin, Molina said, is an associate of Swafford.

Molina, McCaleb and Capt. Cahill reported investigating Swafford's supposed gang for the last two weeks. His whereabouts following his exoneration in the hold-up of the Pacific National Bank messenger March 6, last, was traced by the police, and when he was recognized as one of the trio of bandits in Wednesday's bank robbery, McCaleb at once started out to arrest him only to find that he had gone to Santa Barbara, according to Cahill.

In Wednesday's robbery the bandits obtained $1210. Search for Swafford's asserted confederates is being continued here.

BEERY ALIMONY PLEA GOES OFF CALENDAR

An application filed by Mrs. Marguerite W. L. Beery for temporary alimony pending the hearing of her divorce action against Noah Beery, motion-picture actor, called for hearing yesterday before Judge Rosenkrans went off calendar pending efforts to obtain a property settlement. In her petition for a separation Mrs. Beery charges cruelty. She asks alimony and a division of the community property valued at around $300,000, according to her estimate.

FRAUD SUIT LETTERS READ

Endearing Notes Exchanged Between Engineer and Mrs. Sawyer in Petrified Body Case

Endearing letters were exchanged between J. L. Stutz, 63-year-old railroad engineer of Meridian, Miss., and Mrs. Allece Sawyer, now on trial in the court of United States District Judge Henning on a charge of using the mails to defraud, Stutz admitted yesterday on the witness stand.

It is expected that the government's case will be completed today, after which Mrs. Sawyer, who has attended court on a hospital stretcher, will take the stand in her own behalf and upon her request.

It is charged by the government that Mrs. Sawyer obtained $32,000 from Stutz, husband of a cousin of hers by representing to him that she could sell the so-called petrified body of her deceased son, Theron, to scientific foundations for from $25,000 to $350,000.

In one letter, introduced in evidence, the aged engineer said: "You have my life in your hands, sweetheart. My money and my home are gone and I have nothing to live for." In another he said: "This is my birthday. I am 63 years old and I'm broke—all because of a woman I trusted."

Evidence was adduced to show that Mrs. Sawyer and Stutz traveled about California, staying in the same hotel rooms. This was brought out on cross-examination by Milton H. Silverberg, defense counsel.

The case is not expected to close until after Christmas.

DEPOSITION BY TULLY IN WIFE'S SUIT

Ex-Pugilist and Writer Makes His First Move Against Divorce Action

Jim Tully, former prize fighter, hobo and fiction writer, a few days ago made his first move against the divorce action filed by his wife two months ago when he gave a lengthy deposition to Attorney Clay Robbins, Mrs. Tully's counsel, it was revealed yesterday.

Wednesday evening Tully left for New York City after he was given assurance that no part of his deposition would be made public, Mr. Robbins and Francis J. Heney, representing Tully, stated yesterday.

At the same time, neither attorney would confirm or deny reports that Tully plans a counter-action against Mrs. Tully, who married the author when she was attending the University of Southern California, and who withdrew a divorce suit filed against Tully last June. The last action was filed in September.

"Mr. Tully's affidavit is a confidential matter at this time and it would be unfair to both Mr. and Mrs. Tully to deny or confirm whether any counter-action is planned by Mr. Tully," Mr. Robbins said yesterday.

Mr. Heney likewise refused to say whether his client planned a counter-action against Mrs. Tully.

Mrs. Tully was granted $50 a week alimony by Superior Judge Rosenkranz Wednesday, besides $750 attorney fees and $250 court costs.

Tully and his wife, who was formerly Margaret Myers, daughter of R. Holtby Myers, secretary of the Los Angeles Mutual Building Loan Association, were married January 25, 1925, after a six months' courtship that followed a lecture the author gave before the Pen Point Club at the university.

CREOSOTE TRIAL STILL ON IN COURT

Damage Action Involving Great Pier at San Diego Enters Fifth Month

Testimony still is being taken in a trial that has already lasted four months in the suit for $321,000 damages brought by the Crystal Pier Amusement Company against Emil Cykler, Frank Honberger, Dave Shallue and the California Creosoting and Timber Company, before Superior Judge Ambrose.

The defendants in the action are accused of breach of contract by using a preparation known as cresoil in place of creosote on the piling of the ocean pier of th plaintiff at San Diego, which resulted in the piling being ravaged by marine borers to such an extent that the entire structure will have to be rebuilt at a tremendous cost. The amusement company asserts that the contract called for a twelve-pound treatment of creosote for the piling; that is, twelve pounds of the mixture for each cubic foot.

HEARING CONTINUED

⟨What Famous Users Say About Richfield⟩

RALPH SNODDY

"Richfield Gasoline and Richlube Motor Oil were used when I established the present world's record for Unlimited 151 Class Hydroplanes and when I won the famous Duke of York trophy at the International Regatta in England. I have used them exclusively for several years and in my opinion they are the finest gasoline and motor oil made! I enthusiastically recommend Richfield and Richlube for all types of speed craft on land, air or water."

The most daring hydroplane pilot in America today—Ralph Snoddy! Time and again, in this country and abroad, he has risked life and limb in his attempt to better existing speed records. Snoddy's preference for Richfield, his recommendation of Richfield and Richlube for all types of craft is strong endorsement for these famous products.

Richfield products are also used and endorsed by many other famous pilots and designers—such men as Fred Duesenberg, Anthony Fokker, Art Goebel, Allan Loughead, Harry Hartz, Captain Wilkins and Harry Miller—men whose achievements as designers and pilots are internationally recognized.

Richfield's qualities—proved in grueling competitive events—are the same qualities you need in your own motor car—instant speed, power and acceleration without loss of mileage—absolute dependability. What gasoline do you use?
